

DOCTORS ENLARGE ANIMALS' HEARTS

Shed New Light on Treating Abnormal Human Conditions.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—(AP) Experiments in artificially producing large hearts in animals which have shed new light on care and treatment of humans with enlarged hearts were reported to the American College of Physicians here today.

Dr. George Hermann, of the University of Texas School of Medicine, of Galveston, Texas, told the physicians that through increasing the volume of blood he had been able to produce large hearts in experimental animals. "Return of the blood volume to normal and relief of strain on the heart was not followed by a return of the heart size to normal," he said. "The lesson is that a constant or severe strain on an already damaged or enlarged heart only adds insult to injury."

MRS. F. D. FANNING DIES; RITES TODAY

Widow of Washington, Ga., Judge.

Mrs. Addie Paschal Fanning, 70, widow of Judge F. D. Fanning, of Washington, Ga., died here yesterday morning at her home on the Marietta road.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. L. B. Gilstrap, Mrs. J. P. Thurmond and Mrs. J. B. Stark; a son, R. I. Fanning, and a sister, Mrs. R. L. Shank.

The body is to be taken to Washington today for funeral services and burial under direction of Henry M. Blanchard.

TO OPEN SHIRT PLANT. ATHENS, Ga., March 28.—A Winder manufacturer and banker, H. A. Perry, and his sons, Howard, George and Gibson Perry, will open a shirt manufacturing plant here this week. They have bought the Benson-Williams building and the three sons will operate the plant.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD. Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat! Everything from Soup to Nuts.

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or over-fatigued, your stomach often pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain, or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say there is a remedy for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-on for indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Bell-on is so quick it is amazing and one the package proves it. Ask for Bell-on for indigestion.

Will Address Ad Club

C. F. Palmer, Atlanta Housing Authority chairman and former Chamber of Commerce president, who will address the Atlanta Advertising Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in Rich's tea room at 12:30 o'clock today.

Germany plans to enlarge the Kiel canal so that her largest battleships can go through from the North sea to the Baltic.

JACKSONVILLE AIR BASE IS APPROVED

Naval Committee Hears Miami's Plea Then Votes for Rival City.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP) Jacksonville, Fla., apparently was assured today of congressional designation as the site of a $15,000,000 southeastern naval air base.

The house naval committee listened to Miami's final plea for the facility, then voted 15 to 7 to approve the Jacksonville location. This site had been recommended twice by the navy.

This action was taken on the assumption that the senate naval committee would write into the omnibus air base bill an authorization for the Jacksonville development.

Representative Cannon, Democrat, Florida, leader of the Miami forces, commented that the fight was "about over," but said he might make a last stand before the full house membership.

Before the Miami-Jacksonville vote in the house committee, Representative Cole, Republican, New York, had sought to get a Banana river site selected for the entire facility. His motion was rejected, 17 to 3.

The Banana river location was recommended by the navy for an auxiliary base to the Jacksonville development.

Nelson Eddy Walks 'Em Down As New Solution to Fan Problem

Singer, Here for Concert, Reveals Marriage Has Doubled His Mail

Constitution Staff Photo—Noton. NELSON EDDY.

Nelson Eddy, the singer, yesterday announced a new remedy for an ailment common to all celebrities—the autograph hound.

Mr. Eddy quite by accident discovered he can walk his admirers up a long flight of stairs and by the time they reach the top, the autograph seekers are so tired they forget to ask for his signature.

Mr. Eddy hadn't offended by refusing to give autographs and yet he had escaped the ordeal. A perfect remedy, he said.

Seated comfortably in a soft chair in his suite at the Biltmore last night, Mr. Eddy was quite pleased at his discovery. The victims of the remedy's first test were some Atlanta high school girls who met his train yesterday afternoon.

Here for Concert. "I think it an excellent solution to an embarrassing problem," the blond singer added.

Eddy is in town for a concert appearance tonight at the municipal auditorium. He was accompanied by his wife of a few weeks, the former Mrs. Anne Nelson. And the singer was even more precautions about protecting his wife from the mob.

"She is not a professional troupe-er and the crowds frighten her," he declared.

Eddy talked guardedly about music in general, the motion pictures and antiques.

Wife Doubles Fan Mail. He revealed his marriage had doubled his fan mail and that extra help was necessary to take care of the congratulations being mailed from fans throughout the world. He has been receiving about 6,000 letters a day since his marriage.

Discussing his new picture, "Let Freedom Ring," his first since the announced breaking up of the Nelson Eddy, Jeannette MacDonald team, he described it as "another rip-shortin' western with plenty of shoot-'em-up."

The singer is now considering taking the leading role in a film production of the London stage success, "Ballika," a Russian play.

I.C.C. PUTS WEIGHT BEHIND RATE BILL

Commission Gives 'Unqualified' Approval to Ram-speak Measure.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Interstate Commerce Commission was revealed today to have given its "unqualified" approval to the bill recently introduced jointly by Senator Lister Hill, of Alabama, and Representative Robert Ramspeck, of Georgia, designed to eliminate the long-standing complaint of southern shippers against discriminating rail freight rates.

In a letter to Representative Lea, of California, chairman of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, Chairman Caskie, of the federal rate-making body, reported that the measure was satisfactory to the ICC.

Lea announced afterward that he would seek to incorporate the Hill-Ramspeck measure in the general transportation legislation now being considered by his committee.

Informed of the action of the ICC, Representative Ramspeck, leader of the house block of southern and western members seeking a revision of the national rate structure to eliminate present differentials, said he regarded the development a distinct forward step in the fight to revamp freight tariffs.

The new Ramspeck bill directs the ICC to investigate rates and adjust them where found to be inequitable, and amends existing law by making it illegal to discriminate against any region, district or territory served by railroads.

EASTMAN CHARGES WASTE TO RAILROADS. WASHINGTON, March 28.—(UP)—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman said today that congress may have to resort to "compulsion" to force railroads to abandon wasteful practices.

Eastman told the house Interstate Commerce Commission that there is "a very large amount" of

AFL ASKS IRONCLAD ANTI-NAZI BOYCOTT

Green Says Workers Are Aroused by Attacks on Trade Unions

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(UP)—President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, tonight appealed to all citizens of the United States to join in an iron-clad boycott of German-made goods.

Green, in an address over a Columbia Broadcasting System network under auspices of the American Council against Nazi propaganda, protested against the annexation of Austria by Adolf Hitler and the partitioning of Czechoslovakia.

"The working people in the United States," he said, "protest with all the strength and power at their command against the wiping out of trade-unions and trade-unionism in Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia. These killing blows directed at trade unionism abroad serve as additional reasons why the great masses of the people and their friends in the United States should boycott Germany as it has never been boycotted before."

"Let us use all means at our command, short of a ruthless dictator and the establishment of autocratic and dictatorial control upon people who possess all the capacities for self-government and the exercise of democracy," Green said.

COST OF LEGISLATURE PLACED AT $200,000. Cost of the recent general assembly was more than $195,000, State Treasurer George B. Hamilton said yesterday.

However, many members have not yet drawn all their per diem pay and traveling expenses, and some printing bills still must be paid. Hamilton predicted cost of the session will total more than $200,000.

$17,327 ESTATE LEFT TO Y.W.C.A. SECRETARY. Miss Pauline Heermance, of 82 Baker street, Atlanta Y. W. C. A. secretary, was named yesterday as the sole heir of an estate valued at $17,327 in an appraisal report filed in a New York court.

The sum represents the property left by her sister, Susie Leeds Heermance, who died in October of last year. Miss Heermance, who has been connected with the Y. W. C. A. here for several years, was formerly of Yonkers, N. Y.

waste in transportation operations as they are now conducted."

He suggested that dwindling railroad revenues might be bolstered if rate concessions to the federal government by land grant railroads are eliminated. Such action, he said, would add $7,000,000 a year to rail earnings.

Tax concessions and relief from expenses for elimination of grade crossings, he said, would give additional help. He held that government loans for modernization of rolling stock also are worthy of study by congress.

BUEHLER BROS. 25 Broad St. 855 Gordon St. DECATUR, GA.

WEDNESDAY SPECIALS OPEN ALL DAY

1-LB. PKG. PURE PORK 12 1/2 C

SAUSAGE 15 C

T-BONE, CLUB STEAK 15 C

FRESH-GROUND Hamburger 12 1/2 C

TENDERLOIN STEAK 17 1/2 C

RINDLESS SLICED BACON 19 C

FRESH GRADE A LARGE EGGS 19 C

IN CTNS. 19 C

HAIG & HAIG "Pinch" BLENDED SCOTTS WHISKY 12 YEARS OLD

Don't be vague, say "Haig & Haig"

Separate Importers Ltd. New York Chicago San Francisco

...ask W. Curtis Draper

(senior retail tobacconist in Washington, D. C.)

...or any one of the 1,044,492 tobacco dealers in the United States about Chesterfield's can't-be-copied Combination

Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
FINEST TURKISH AND DOMESTIC TOBACCOS

Chesterfield

He'll say... Look what it says on the back of the package...

"Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend of the finest aromatic Turkish tobacco and the choicest of several American varieties blended in the correct proportion to bring out the finer qualities of each tobacco."

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure... why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

... the blend that can't be copied

... the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

SIX STEPS TO MORE SMOKING PLEASURE

AGEING—Chesterfield's mild ripe tobaccos, like fine wines, are aged for two or more years in huge wooden casks. Here they gradually acquire that true Chesterfield mildness and better taste which give millions of smokers more pleasure.

STEMMING—"Almost human" is what they say about the interesting stemming machines, whose fingers pick up the tobacco, leaf by leaf and take out the stem, leaving only the mild, tender, good-tasting part of the leaf to go into the making of Chesterfields.

BLENDED—There is only one Chesterfield blend... the blend that can't be copied... a happy combination of the world's best American and Turkish tobaccos. Just the right proportions to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

PAPER—Every Chesterfield you smoke is wrapped in pure cigarette paper... the finest cigarette paper made. That's another reason why Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting.

MAKING—Almost faster than the eye can follow, Chesterfields come rolling out of the marvelous cigarette making machines. Chesterfields are always round, firm and well-filled.

PACKAGING—Truly amazing are the packaging machines which wrap and seal Chesterfields in their air-tight, moisture-proof packages. Regardless of where you buy them, Chesterfields reach you as fresh as the day they were made.

Gives you a superior feeling

HAIG & HAIG "Pinch" BLENDED SCOTTS WHISKY 12 YEARS OLD

Don't be vague, say "Haig & Haig"

Separate Importers Ltd. New York Chicago San Francisco

AMERICAN VOTERS FAVOR REPUBLICAN TICKET FOR 1940

51 Per Cent Would Like To See Tables Turned on Democrats, Survey by Dr. Gallup Shows.

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP,
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

NEW YORK, March 28.—There is considerable foundation for the growing confidence of the Republican party that, after eight years of political eclipse, it may be able to turn the tables on the New Deal and elect a president in 1940.

With the election still 18 months away, a cross-section survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion shows that, at the present time, a bare majority of all voters with opinions say they would like to see the Republicans win the presidency. A similar majority also say that if it came to a race between a Republican ticket composed of Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft, and a Democratic ticket headed by John N. Garner and James A. Farley, they would be inclined to vote for Dewey and Taft.

The first question in the survey asked a cross-section of voters in all parties: "Which party would you like to see win the presidential election in 1940?"

The vote of those with opinions was:

Would Like Republicans to Win 51%

Would Like Democrats to Win 49%

Political observers have lately been linking the names of Garner and Farley as possible candidates for president and vice president, respectively, on the Democratic ticket, and Dewey and Taft as candidates on the Republican ticket.

In a companion question in today's survey the Institute matched these pairs against each other, with the following results:

Would Prefer Dewey-Taft ticket 52%

Would prefer Garner-Farley ticket 48%

The undecided or "no opinion" vote was approximately 16 per cent.

U. S. GRANTS PLEA OF DRUG COMPANY

Continuance Permitted in Libel Proceedings.

Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood yesterday granted lawyers of the Emerson Drug Company of Baltimore a two-week continuance of the hearing on libel proceedings brought against their product, Bromo-Seltzer, by the United States attorney's office.

Counsel was first given until April 1 to file an answer to the government's allegation that the headache remedy is "misbranded," and dangerous to health when used in the dosage prescribed. The date was extended to April 15, when lawyers for the company said that they had not had sufficient time to work up their case.

Deputies of the United States marshal's office several weeks ago impounded more than 3,500 bottles of the remedy. United States Attorney Lawrence Camp then explained that no criminal prosecution was involved. Since then, Camp's office has libeled a quantity of Stanback Headache Powders on similar charges.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS TO SEEK MEMBERS

Fulton Division Meets at Luncheon Today.

Women's Division, Fulton County Democrats, will hold a membership luncheon at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Georgian Terrace hotel, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Max Land, chairman. Mrs. Odie Poundstone will be in charge. The meeting will be the first of a series to be held each week and prizes will be awarded to those bringing in the largest number of new members.

It was pointed out that Women's Division, Fulton County Democrats, is the new name recently chosen in place of the Fulton County Woman's Democratic Club.

Thief Speeds Recovery Of North Carolina Sheriff

PLYMOUTH, N. C., March 28.—(AP)—A thief speeded the recovery of Sheriff J. K. Reid. The invader's theft of a pistol and sword from the sheriff's office brought the angry Reid from his sick-bed in a hurry. The sheriff got well—but the thief got away.

OLD OVERHOLT
Straight Rye Whiskey
NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CORP., N.Y.

DAVISON'S

51ST.

ANNIVERSARY SALE SAVES YOU $$$

LUNCHEON FROM THE COVERED WAGON

If you're hungry for a good old Georgia country style meal, plan to lunch in our restaurant today! 11:30 to 3 P. M. 60c

Southern Fried Chicken with Cream Gravy
Rice and Fresh String Beans cooked with Side Meat
Hot Biscuits and Jelly
Banana Pudding, or Lemon Custard Ice Cream
Coffee, Tea, or Churned Buttermilk
SIXTH FLOOR RESTAURANT

From Regular Spring Stock! 325 Prs. Marcia Shoes

An exciting saving on best-selling Spring Marcias just in time for Easter. Patent leathers, Blue and Japonica Kids. Open toes, Sling pumps, cutout sandals, ties. Not every size in every style.

3.29

regularly 4.65!

MARCIA SHOP, STREET FLOOR

STUDENTS' NEW TROPICAL WORSTED SUIT

12.99

regularly 16.95!

Buy his Easter-Sunday suit at savings from 3.96 to 6.96! All sizes 16 to 22! Buy for Easter at this sensational saving! Tan, grey and blue in single and double-breasted models. Correct and comfortable weight for wear now and all summer.

WASHABLE SHORT COATS, in colorful plaids. Sizes 6-12. Regularly 3.98 2.99
HAPPY KID WASH LONGS, sizes 12 to 20. Regularly 1.98 and 2.98 1.49
HAPPY KID WASH SHORTS, sizes 5 to 14. Regularly $1 and 1.19 68c
KAYNEE BASQUE AND POLO SHIRTS, sizes 6 to 20. Regularly $1 68c
2-PC. BROADCLOTH PAJAMAS, sizes 4 to 20. Regularly 1.19 89c
UNDERSHIRTS AND SHORTS, sizes 8 to 16. Regularly 35c; 3 for $1. Now 3 for 69c, or 25c
BOYS' SHOP, SECOND FLOOR

HUNDREDS OF NEW EASTER DRESSES

Sizes for Misses, Junior Debs, Women's Regular and Half-Sizes!

12 88

Made to sell for 14.95 and 17.95!

MISSSES' SIZES, 12 TO 20! Navy or Black Sheers Flooded with White! Light-Ground Prints in Redingotes and Jackets! Vivid Crepes! Redingotes with Wool Coats, Silk Dresses! Navy or Black Chiffons! Chiffon Coats over Print Crepes!

JR. DEB SIZES, 9 to 17! Sheers! Chiffons! Jackets and Redingotes! Easter Egg Prints! Little Girl Types! Pure-Dye Silks! Lots of Fluffy Lingerie Accents!

WOMEN'S SIZES, 36 to 44 and 66½ to 24½! Soft Tucked Sheers and Chiffons! Small-Spaced Prints in Pure-Dye Crepe! Printed Chiffons!

DRESSES, THIRD FLOOR

WOVEN STRIPE CANVAS LUGGAGE

Washable heavy-weave canvas with distinctive stripes that you will identify in a twinkling when traveling instead of endlessly searching for identification cards. Choice of tan with brown striping or gray with white cluster stripe. Bound with topgrain cowhide, superior set-in brass locks, fine rayon lining, and leather-covered post handles. Ideal for that Easter vacation or summer trip.

LUGGAGE SHOP, 2ND FLOOR

Overnight Cases, sizes (18", 21", 24")
reg. 6.95 now 4.95
Hat and Shoe Box (18")—reg. 9.95 now 6.95
Multiple Wardrobe (21")—reg. 11.95 now 8.95
Pullman Case (29")—reg. 9.95 now 7.95
Fortnighter (29")—reg. 12.95 now 9.95

DAVISON-PAXON CO.

JAMES PARKS SR. DIES IN 60TH YEAR

Well Known Insurance Man and Church Worker; Services Today.

James Guyton Parks Sr., 59, of 84 Polo drive, N. E., well-known insurance man and church worker here for many years, died yesterday morning at a private hospital after a brief illness.

Formerly connected with the Georgia Casualty Company at Macon, Mr. Parks was a native of Dawson, Ga., and had made his home here for the past 15 years. He was a graduate of Emory University and of Mercer and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

During his residence here he was an adjuster for the Otis A. Murphy Company and was a member and former steward of St. Mark Methodist church. He practiced law for several years in Macon.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Miss Blanche Parks; two sons, William Allen and J. Guyton Parks Jr.; a brother, Warren B. Parks, of Orlando, Fla.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11:30 o'clock this morning at Spring Hill by Dr. Lester Rumble. Burial will be in the Riverside cemetery, Macon, under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

Joan Is Ordered To Face Court For Her Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, March 28.—(UP)—Joan Crawford's ultra-modern lack of solemnity toward her projected divorce from Franchot Tone stuck in a judge's craw today and the film actress, who spent the eve of what was to have been a "proxy" divorce dancing with her husband in a New York night club, was denied a divorce by deposition.

The case was continued until April 18 when Judge Benjamin Scheinman ruled, he will exercise his "right to scrutinize a plaintiff for a divorce on the witness stand."

"This court, the bar association, and other courts, are opposed to these mail order or proxy divorces," Judge Scheinman said in his tart denial of the request of Ellis Hirschfeld, counsel for Miss Crawford.

The actress, under contract to M-G-M, for $1,500,000 for five years, had told her marital troubles to a notary public in the offices of her theatrical agent.

Today Judge Scheinman told Hirschfeld:

"The state clings to the family rather than the family to the state, as in the case of totalitarian countries."

Fashions Fresh as Garden Blooms Modeled at School

As colorful and new as today's blossoms in Atlanta gardens were spring fashions modeled from Davison-Paxon's ready-to-wear department yesterday in connection with the Garden School. Left to right are Mrs. H. E. Talmadge, Mrs. Tom Meador and Miss Harriett Townsend, who were among the attractive group showing the latest in spring finery. A show will precede this morning's school which begins at 8:30 o'clock.

HUNDREDS ATTEND GARDEN CLASSES

Continued From First Page.

picket fence, while an appropriate backdrop gave the audience a view into the imaginary wooded area in the distance.

Mrs. Crown chose a very late and modern subject for her lecture for the opening day when she spoke on lighting the garden. She said:

"By lighting gardens now, we can enjoy them any time of the day and night. During the late spring and the summer when gardens are at the height of their beauty, they should be enjoyed, and only by the presence of light can this be managed. Moonlight always lends enchantment but sometimes it's not always safe to depend on the moon. By controlled light, a garden can be bathed in moonlight even on a cloudy night and thereby will achieve the beauty which is often dreamed of."

Play for Shadows. She also pointed out that planning to light a garden, one should play for shadows, to give a realistic effect. Sometimes lights are lights and are on their own, but are concealed. An example of this was shown by a variety of colored slides showing lily pools, with submerged bulbs, all of which are waterproof. The effectiveness of light shining through a lily pond, or flickering behind massive rocks, playing hide and seek with plants and greenery, is a point stressed by Mrs. Crown in her talk.

"An electric bulb must never be visible," she continued. "Concealed light is the important thing to think of. Lights used on statuary can be made most effective, while small lights arranged to shine up from bordering foliage on steps, not only add beauty, but give a feeling of safety for the night visitors in a garden. There have never been any steps in a garden that were not dangerous to some, even in moonlight and by adding controlled light, we can accomplish two purposes.

"Moonlight and roses, of which the poets sing, can become a reality now, for what could be more effective than a rose arbor with artificial light playing between the blossoms. Summer houses can be made places of festive happenings with the aid of light, to say nothing of flowered background for a swimming pool, with soft lights diving into the pool and playing with the waves."

Gets More Work.

Mrs. Crown pointed out that stationary lights in a garden could be useful as well as ornamental, for she added, "with a standing light that can be taken from one part of the yard to another, we can get the men to work and fix the flowers when they come home at night." She also said that the men folks won't have any excuse now to say that it's "too dark" to work in the yard.

Giving instructive and interesting information on interior lighting as she did on garden illumination, Mrs. Crown spoke on the new lighting effects in the latest homes and illustrated her talks by colored slides. These were unusually interesting and entertaining, and not only gave timely tips for lights, but also gave those in the audience new ideas of interior decoration.

As aforementioned, Mrs. Crown will speak this morning on perennial borders, and will begin her lecture at 10 o'clock and will continue until 11:30 o'clock. A fashion show will be presented by Davison-Paxon's. Handsome prizes are given each day of the school, and highly instructive points on garden culture may be obtained from each day's session.

PLAY, 'SCRAP OF PAPER,' TO BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

"Scrap of Paper," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the Atlanta Theater Guild at 8:15 o'clock Friday night in the North Fulton High school auditorium under auspices of the Stephenson Bible class of the Peachtree Road Presbyterian church.

The play by Victorien Sardou will be presented under the direction of Paula Causy and the technical direction of Vernon G. Williams. In the cast are Charles DeLoach, Frances Bolton, Alyce O'Neill, Don Windham, Luella Maize, Dorothy Hinman, Dr. Frank Belyeu, Don Bolton, Sydney F. Owen, Doris Koppe and Mary Foute Jones.

SERVICE AGENCIES FACE FUND LOSS

Continued From First Page.

day by Commission Clerk Frank Fling, includes all allocations which it was believed would fall under the Spalding ruling.

The ruling late yesterday was placed in letter form and will be dispatched today to Fling's office by the county legal firm. It will reiterate largely the opinion Spalding gave the commissioners. Although the commissioners took no specific action on the Spalding ruling, they asked for a written opinion and went on record as opposing any illegal appropriations.

A general house cleaning of the county relief rolls was the objective of the dual examination and the two-year residence proposals. At the present time 8,496 persons are carried on direct relief rolls. They are listed as unemployables, and cost the county more than $800,000 a year not including about $400,000 as the county's share for WPA participation on various projects.

Fling yesterday directed a letter to Frank R. Mitchell, chairman of the Fulton County Board of Public Relief, asking the right for county doctors to examine direct relief persons. It was explained that an examination of about 500 would give a cross section of the physical condition of those on the rolls and would form a basis for establishing some definite standard for those who qualify.

Specific instances were cited to show that persons from distant points have come to Atlanta and Fulton county on transportation provided by their governments for the express purpose of getting on local relief rolls.

The county budget at the present time calls for a net total of $4,566,778, of which the 13-mill ad valorem levy would provide $3,704,867, with another $861,891 from other sources, including fees, court costs, etc.

The 1939 total budget was listed at $5,018,700, but $861,891 of this figure is for school purposes.

James L. Respass, of Respass & Respass, county auditors, estimated that the three-mill relief levy would provide approximately $800,000.

Councilman Frank Wilson, chairman of city council's Battle Hill sanitarium committee, asked the county to hike its appropriation for that institution to $25,000 for the year, intimating that unless the county can do so, about half of the 43 county patients at Battle Hill would be dismissed. He

Pension Cuts in Big Counties

(By the Associated Press)

Here is how the Welfare Department order will affect a number of Georgia's more populous counties:

COUNTY	Present Allowment	Average Payment	Now Enrolled	May-June Payment	Dollar Loss	Est. Cut in Rolls
Baldwin	$3,429	$8.29	408	$2,133	$1,296	156
Bibb	11,500	11.23	1,024	7,155	3,345	280
Chatham	15,710	13.47	1,166	9,775	5,935	440
Clarke	3,819	7.42	489	2,376	1,443	194
Colquitt	4,557	11.49	392	2,835	1,722	149
Crisp	2,604	9.00	283	1,620	1,084	109
Dougherty	3,342	8.71	383	2,079	1,263	156
Fulton	53,729	17.80	3,018	33,426	20,303	1,140
Glynn	2,908	10.71	271	1,809	1,099	102
Laurens	4,861	9.24	525	3,024	1,837	190
Lowndes	4,470	13.15	340	2,781	1,689	128
Muscogee	8,593	16.21	530	3,546	3,247	200
Richmond	10,893	13.03	832	6,777	4,116	313
Spalding	3,515	9.29	378	2,187	1,328	142
Thomas	4,861	11.62	418	3,024	1,837	166
Tift	2,387	13.18	171	1,485	902	68
Ware	3,949	16.77	233	2,357	1,492	89

said the $12,500 allocation made in the tentative sheet would not pay the $1.58 a day cost for hospitalization.

Major Elbert Tuttle, of the 122d infantry, Georgia national guard, requested the commissioners for $25,000 toward a $250,000 WPA project to remodel and improve the army quarters at the auditorium. He said the city is to be asked for a similar amount and that the unit will contribute $10,000. No action was taken either on the Wilson or the Tuttle requests.

Examination of the budget revealed that the new divisions of the Fulton county superior court and the criminal court of Fulton county will cost $15,000 a year each instead of the estimate of from $30,000 to $40,000 each annually.

BEAUTY DISAPPEARS IN 2-DOLLAR SKIFF

Continued From First Page.

package containing a small brown bottle, a life belt and a pair of oars. Onlookers said she handled the small craft "like an expert."

Has Life Belt. Judd McCoy, negro attendant, said she at first refused to take a life belt but "I threw it in anyway."

Hardwick said: "She came in at 10 a. m. and asked to buy a boat. She told me she had always wanted to take a trip on the river and wanted to get it out of her system. She asked numerous questions

CAPITOL - Now Playing
Screen! Anna May Wong in "King of Chinatown" Leads the Band
Stage! "ODVIL FRODOCS OF 1939" Leads the Band
ATLANTA'S ONLY VOYVU THEATRE

RHODES DOORS OPEN 2:15 P.M. HELD OVER
Joan Crawford James Stewart
"ICE FOLLIES OF 1939"
STARTS FRIDAY
Wm. Powell - Ginger Rogers
STAR OF MIDNIGHT

RIALTO NOW PLAYING
Gable "TOO HOT TO HANDLE"
LOY "THE LADY AND THE MOB"
STARTS FRIDAY
FAY Bainter
THE LADY AND THE MOB

Erlanger Mar. 31-April 1
BROCK PEMBERTON
presents
CLARE BOOTHES
new comedy sensation
"Kiss the Boys Goodbye"

AUDITORIUM
TONIGHT, 8:30
Marvin McDonald
Presents
NELSON
EDDY
In Concert
Good Seats Available at 2.75, 2.20, 1.65, 1.10
Tickets on Sale at
Cable Piano Co.
235 Peachtree
Phone JA. 1605

RUDY BUNDY
DINE DANCE MAKE A DATE FOR
★ RUDY BUNDY'S ★
SWING SESSION
BOB PACE'S SONGS
KWIZNITE-CASH PRIZES
THURSDAY
No Cover Charge-Consult Prof. Ivan Leo —SPANISH ROOM—
Hotel Henry Grady

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

LOEW'S
LAST 2 DAYS
ON THE STAGE
BLUE BARRON
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
"4 GIRLS IN WHITE"
Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ - Directed by EDWIN L. MARIN - Produced by FREDERICK STEPHANI

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

FOX Now
OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND
GEORGE BRENT
JOHN PAYNE
"Wings of the Navy"
PLUS! "MARCH OF TIME"
Starting Friday
Madeline Carroll
Fred Mac Murray
Shirley Ross
"CALL SOCIETY"

PARAMOUNT —NOW—
THE MARX BROS.
"ROOM SERVICE"
PLUS! "MARCH OF TIME"
Starting Friday
LORETTA YOUNG - WARNER BAXTER and FRIEND

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

LOEW'S
LAST 2 DAYS
ON THE STAGE
BLUE BARRON
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
"4 GIRLS IN WHITE"
Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ - Directed by EDWIN L. MARIN - Produced by FREDERICK STEPHANI

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

LOEW'S
LAST 2 DAYS
ON THE STAGE
BLUE BARRON
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
"4 GIRLS IN WHITE"
Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ - Directed by EDWIN L. MARIN - Produced by FREDERICK STEPHANI

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

LOEW'S
LAST 2 DAYS
ON THE STAGE
BLUE BARRON
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
"4 GIRLS IN WHITE"
Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ - Directed by EDWIN L. MARIN - Produced by FREDERICK STEPHANI

ROXY
Last Two Days
Pick & Pat
Radio Stars
16—Roxyettes—16
Headline Vaudeville
"Borrowing Trouble"
STARTS THURSDAY
JUDY CANOVA

It's all in the Point of View

America, too, may be viewed in a distorted mirror. But thanks to those who see with understanding, our country has grown great. In this land blessed with boundless energy and skill... rich in human as well as natural resources... the successful man of tomorrow will give credit to his clear understanding of today. New opportunities invite us daily to share by doing our share... to have courage for day-to-day problems and confidence for long-range planning. Such is the program of those who are young in heart and viewpoint... and it is they whom America rewards.

Live Life... Every golden minute of it
Enjoy Budweiser... Every golden drop of it

ANHEUSER-BUSCH
Makers of the World-Famous

Budweiser

MAKE THIS TEST
DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS.
ON THE SIXTH DAY TRY TO DRINK A SWEET
BEER. YOU WILL WANT Budweiser's FLAVOR THEREAFTER.

Why Suffer?
MENE'S MAGIC REMEDY
Brings Blessed Relief RHEUMATISM NEURITIS LUMBAGO

CHINESE BATTLE
TO HOLD WUNING*Invading Japanese Report Stiff Resistance.

SHANGHAI, March 28.—(AP)—Japanese and Chinese troops were reported today to be in a heavy battle for Wuning, central China town 65 miles northwest of Nanchang, which Japanese reported occupying yesterday.

Japanese dispatches said Chinese entrenched at Wuning were resisting stiffly a mechanized onslaught by the invaders. Both sides told of suffering heavy casualties.

Occupation of Nanchang, Japanese said, was "complete." However, Chinese military headquarters did not admit loss of the city which for months had been a major central China air base.

HEADACHE

The ingredients in Capudine are so efficiently combined that headaches, neuralgia, and muscular pains are quickly relieved. Try this delightful remedy. Note how quickly comfort returns, you feel more cheerful, and nerves become steadier. All drug stores.

CAPUDINE

Total Cost Only
83 1-3 Cents Per Month
For Each $100

Whether Borrowed for One or Two Years

TOTAL Repayment, $2.34 per month for one year or $4.17 for two years, on each $100.00 borrowed.

WE LEND from $50.00 to $1,000.00 on above basis. The total payment on a $1,000.00 loan is only $41.70 per month, including principal and interest.

WE THINK it is easier to get a loan here than any other place in the city. We go out of our way to make loans that seem impossible at first. We never turn down a loan unless we absolutely have to.

CALL and let us show you how we can pay all your debts for you and spread your payments over sufficient time.

HARTSFIELD CO., Inc.
6 Pryor St., S. W. WA. 5460

Only a Few More Days!
GOING OUT OF BUSINESS SALE

HALF PRICE

on Framed Pictures, Framed Mirrors, Glassware, Pottery and Picture Frames.

SAMUEL G. WALKER ART STORE

57 North Pryor St.

Governor's Daughter Gets First Taste of Her 'Life's Work'—Teaching

Here is proof that Miss Geraldine (Jerry) Rivers (extreme right) daughter of Governor and Mrs. E. D. Rivers, has no doubts about the future of the teaching profession in Georgia. She plans to make it her "life work" and in preparation yesterday started her practice-teaching course in the home economics department of LaGrange High school. With her (left to right) are Vi Malam, Katherine Pate, Elizabeth Bell Isle and Betty Auchmuty.

Jerry Rivers Takes Up Teaching, Begins 'Internship' at LaGrange

'Fascinated' and 'Quite Excited' by Her New Job, Governor's Daughter, Who Plans To Make It Her Life's Work, Declares.

Miss Geraldine (Jerry) Rivers, daughter of Governor and Mrs. E. D. Rivers, joined the ranks of Georgia's "schoolmarm" yesterday and found the experience "fascinating."

The pretty 19-year-old senior at the University of Georgia spent her first day of practice-teaching in the home economics department of LaGrange High school.

Intricacies of cutting bias-binding for collars and mixing an omelet were among problems confronting her on the initial day. Actually, she won't do any teaching until next week, since the first week is spent in observation.

"Quite Excited."

Miss Rivers and Miss Mae Coffey, of Dublin, were assigned to the LaGrange school to get practical experience under a special plan worked out by the University of Georgia. They will remain at the school for seven weeks. After graduation, Miss Rivers expects to enter the teaching profession.

Encountered on her way home from school, with her arms full of textbooks, she said she felt "quite excited" and took occasion to elaborate on the value of home economics.

"I think it's one of the most practical and beneficial courses offered by any school," she said. "I'm looking forward to teaching my first class next week."

She said she was interested in teaching because her family had long been interested in the profession. Her mother was a former teacher in south Georgia.

Miss Rivers was especially enthusiastic about the LaGrange home economics department situated in a separate cottage. She said it was much like the home management house at the university.

Miss Rivers added she found the clothes and food departments equally interesting.

In a recent address before the annual convention of the Georgia

RED CROSS REPORTS SPLENDID RESPONSE

3,700 Have Enrolled So Far,
and Drive Is Going Over the Top.

C. A. Stair, chairman of the 1939 Red Cross roll call, announced last night that through yesterday a total of 3,700 persons had been enrolled in this year's membership drive.

Stair said reports from vice chairmen in charge of various groups indicated this year's roll call would be the most successful in the history of the Atlanta chapter.

Downing Musgrove, Riley Elder, O. E. Myers and Frank Fling, officials in charge of government divisions stated contributions had been received from every department of the federal, state, county and city governments.

"Government personnel, they said, could be counted on to contribute approximately 25 per cent more than last year."

Dr. Edgar Hill Greene, chairman of the professional group, announced that when final reports are made, the professional men of the city would be "over the top."

R. H. Rich, publicity chairman, expressed his appreciation to all his subcommittee members for the outstanding job they have done. Reports from chairmen of the utility, financial, industrial, residential and general groups were all encouraging.

Today's roll call program includes three broadcasts, one at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon over WGST by George Broadnax; one by John McDonald at 6:05 o'clock this afternoon over WATL, and a dramatic production by the Red Cross Players at 5:15 o'clock on WSB.

SECOND TALLEY SUIT.
NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—Marion Talley charged in a renewed custody action, disclosed today, that Adolph Eckstrom had demanded $150,000 "for the settlement of matrimonial difficulties" and also the possession of their daughter Susan, 4.

Education Association, Governor Rivers referred to the fact his daughter planned to become a teacher. This, he said, should evidence his interest in the present financial plight of teachers of Georgia.

MRS. J. C. A. BRANAN, 86, DIES; RITES TOMORROW

Mrs. Mary R. Branan, 86, widow of J. C. A. Branan and a resident of Atlanta for more than 70 years, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 1895 Boulevard drive, S. E. She was a member of the Kirkwood Methodist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude D. Ludlum and Mrs. Robson Dunwoody; a son, C. B. Branan, and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at Spring Hill. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

FRANK HILL DIES; FORMER ATLANTAN

Services Today at West Lafayette, Indiana.

Frank Hill, 76, formerly of Atlanta, died yesterday at the home of a sister, Mrs. J. H. McKee, in West Lafayette, Ind., after a long illness.

Mr. Hill formerly was connected with the Georgia Highway Department and was a member of All Saints Episcopal church.

Also surviving are his wife, Mrs. Annie Hill Smith; another daughter, Mrs. Raymond Muller, of Sewarthen, N. J.; three grandchildren and two grandsons. Funeral services are to be conducted today at West Lafayette.

It's Time To Get Ready For Easter

3 PLAIN GARMENTS STODDARDIZED
NO WHITES

for

STODDARD

CALL FOR AND DELIVERED

PHONE
HE.
8900

TODAY AT HIGH'S

YOU SAVE!
MORE MONEY THAN YOU'VE EVER HOPED!

5,000 Lengths -- Nationally Famous
New for Spring -- 'Empire State'
Sale! DRESS LENGTHS

• Specially Priced for Easter Sewing—
Arranged in Three Low Price Groups:

RED SEAL
2 to 3 yards 1.00 the length
If bought by the yard would cost $1.25

ORANGE SEAL
3 to 4 yards 1.49 the length
If bought by the yard would cost $2.49

WHITE SEAL
3 to 5 yards 1.98 the length
If bought by the yard would cost $3.49

NEWEST WEAVES AND FABRICS:

- TRIPLE SHEERS
- SHARKSKINS
- THICK 'N' THIN CREPES
- SHANTUNG WEAVES
- SPUN RAYON LINEN
- ROMAINE
- ALPACAS
- BEMBERG SHEERS
- FRENCH SUEDE CREPE PRINTS
- PEBBLE CREPES
- PANNE SATINS
- ACETATE NOVELTIES

BRIGHT COLORS: Lime! Romance! Sheba! White! Navy! Black! Fuchsia! Beige! Cyclamen! Teal! Coral! Skipper! Aqua! Heather Pink! Cork!

Be the well-dressed woman who sews and saves! Take advantage of this tremendous sale . . . the timeliest of all . . . just before Easter! See this huge collection of fine washable fabrics . . . buy enough for yourself and all the children's wardrobes! The variety's unlimited! If bought by the yard they'd cost two and three times more!

AND LOOK AT THIS!SALE of 3,000 REMNANTS

GROUP 1 . . .
One yard to one and one-quarter yard lengths . . . 25¢ EACH

GROUP 2 . . .
One and one-half to two-yard lengths . . . 49¢ EACH

For blouses! Skirts! Children's frocks! French crepes, fancy acetates, panne satins . . . solids and prints! Values from $1 to $1.29 Yard!

3,000 . . . 1/4 to 1/2 Yard Remnants
Values from 49¢ to 98¢ a yard! Grand for trimmings, collars, etc. . . . EACH 3¢

FABRICS—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

A New High!

To gain the top and lead the rest
Takes skill in passing every test;
And blending skill the whole world hails
Makes Calvert Whiskies tops in sales!

"Sure, Don, I can tell you why Calvert's popularity is soaring! People are discovering that Calvert blends a whiskey that is extra smooth and mellow."

"Yes, those Calvert people have the knack of blending whiskey that just suits the American taste. Guess that's why people call Calvert the Whiskey of Good Taste!"

BLENDED FOR BETTER TASTE

Clear Heads [Clear Headed Buyers]
Call for Calvert
AMERICA'S FIRST CHOICE WHISKEY

TRY CALVERT DISTILLED GIN
... for a marvelous Martini, for smoother gin drinks of all kinds.

Calvert's "Reserve" BLENDED WHISKEY—90 Proof—65% Grain Neutral Spirits . . .
Calvert's "Special" BLENDED WHISKEY—90 Proof—72% Grain Neutral Spirits . . .
Calvert Distilled Gin—90 Proof—Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits, Cape, 1939
Calvert Distillers Corp., N. Y. C.

Look Like a Millionaire
This Easter!

Now you can have a wardrobe full of bright gay styles . . . at these ridiculously low prices! See for yourself these lovely fabrics, smart designs, newest weaves . . . that are worth coming miles to get!

• Extra Salespeople
• Extra Selling Space

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

HIGH'S

HIGH'S

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK O'WELL
Editor and Publisher
RALPH MCGILL
Executive Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Wainut 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 20c.
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 20c.
Sundays only 10c.

Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-dealer towns at 1st, 2d and 3d postal zones only, on application.

KELLY SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by P. M. the day after issue. It can be had: Atlanta's News, 1000 Broadway and Forty-third Street (Times Building corner). Request a copy of The Constitution to be delivered to your room each day when you register at a New York hotel.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not news credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 29, 1939.

WORLD HEALTH

Some day all men will understand the simple truth that the world, speaking from the human sense, is like a single body. It cannot, as a whole, be in good health while any part of it is sick. No more than a man with a diseased foot can be really well in torso, arms, brain, nerves and blood, nor can he prevent the disease which poisons one member from spreading, if he does not quickly effect a cure.

Today, in some sections of the world, there is a virus at work, spreading and spreading, which poisons the corpuses of freedom. It is known under various names such as Fascism, Nazism, Communism, and so forth. The infection began, as do all infections, in a small, scattered way, but gradually it became localized in areas known as Russia, Germany and Italy and there it has grown until it dominates, destroying the red corpuses of liberty and infecting greater and greater areas of the world body with its own germs of death.

The problem facing a world which would cure itself of this dire disease is that of saving the infected members of the body politic. In other words, of stamping out the disease, curing the illness, without destroying the stricken areas in so doing.

Adolf Hitler typifies, in his own practices and theories, the disease at its worst. His dark system of gangster rule has spread like a blight over the German nation. He is rapidly ruining that nation, yet the rest of the world has not yet been able to find the way to stop him, without wreaking the horror penalty of war upon the German people, his first victims.

It may, ultimately, be necessary to resort to war, the surgeon of world sickness. The physicians of politics who are trying to cure the disease with the medicaments of appeasement, etc., may find all their palliatives powerless. Perhaps the infection has already spread too far, is too deep rooted. Then, the only resource will be the surgeon's knife of war. It is bitter and cruel, but sometimes, as in the analogous human case, it is necessary to amputate to save the rest of the body.

The world knows it cannot exist with a diseased, unhealthy Germany in the middle of Europe. The attempt, at Versailles, to doom Germany to perpetual weakness has proven its fallacy. It was that very attempt which left Germany susceptible to the disease called Nazism, to the germ known as Hitler.

Now the cancerous infection spreads. It has seized upon Austria, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Memel, etc. Unless it is stamped out it will infect ever-widening areas of the earth's surface.

It may be foreordained, in fact, that western civilization entire is to succumb before the inroads of the disease. It may be that, as after the fall of the Roman empire, the world is entering upon another Dark Age. If it is, however, we must always remember there will come, someday, a renaissance and the new civilization which shall arise must be immeasurably finer than the old.

In the meantime, the problem is Hitler. The question for the statesmen who stand around the patient, the Earth, the question to be decided is whether there is yet hope of ridding Germany and the adjacent, infected areas, of the infection through medication, or whether the surgeon's knife of war must be used as the last hope for cure.

TO PROBE THE WPA

There can be little logical objection to the action of the house of congress in voting for the resolution, introduced by Representative Eugene E. Cox, of Georgia, providing for investigation of the conduct, activities and needs of the Works Progress Administration.

Rightfully or wrongfully, there have been many charges that the WPA is not confining itself to the one activity which is the reason for its being, that of providing jobs at living wages for those who, otherwise, would be unemployed.

It has been charged that the WPA was not above exerting political pressure upon those it employed during last year's elections and that this was true in at least one state, Pennsylvania, was generally acknowledged. It is also charged that there is a considerable group of WPA workers who prefer this employment to that of private business or industry. At the same time, it has been hinted that there are too many comparatively high salaried executives on the WPA rolls for an organization of its kind.

These charges may not, in general, be true.

If they are false it will be a good thing for the country, for the administration and for the WPA itself, to expose their falsity. If true, they should be known so that a complete revamping of the federal relief system may be undertaken, with a view to confining it strictly to cases of utter necessity.

In any event, a congressional investigation, regardless of the facts it brings to light, will serve to clear the now decidedly cloudy atmosphere surrounding a government activity which, above all others, should be free of politics, of waste and of suspicion.

HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

It is doubtful if any American city is more "garden conscious" than Atlanta. Few are the householders here who do not devote as much attention to their gardens, those outdoor living quarters so delightful in the summer time, as to the interior of their homes. Rare is the Atlantan who cannot talk of some achievements or plans of the future centering upon that spot of earth he calls home.

However, for too many, a journey to town from the suburbs is tainted with envy. Envy of those other home gardeners who seem to have achieved, with their lawns and shrubbery and flower beds, the perfections we have desired but missed. Perhaps the garden seen momentarily, in passing, would be no more perfect, on closer inspection, than our own. Yet that imagined ideal garden the other fellow always seems to have, or which exists in dreams only, may actually be created if expert instructions are followed, if hard work and knowledge are united.

The hard work portion of the ingredient depends, of course, upon the individual alone. But the knowledge is available to anyone who seeks it in the right place. And one of those places is The Constitution Spring Garden School, now in daily session at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Mrs. Fletcher Pearson Crown, who has for several years conducted these schools, is known all over the nation as an authority of garden culture. She gives her lectures in a clear and informal manner that makes her teaching easy to understand and to remember. It is impossible for any sincere garden enthusiast to leave one of Mrs. Crown's talks without having learned something new and valuable.

And, for the added enjoyment of the feminine gardeners who attend, there is the additional attraction of a style show displaying, among other things, just the right costume to wear when pruning a rose bush or making war on an insect pest.

IN TWELVE YEARS

Not quite 12 years ago Charles A. Lindbergh stepped into a tiny cockpit and lifted his flying gasoline tank—"The Spirit of St. Louis"—from Roosevelt field, on Long Island. Thirty-six hours later he dropped his little ship through the mists to the sod of LeBourget field, outside Paris.

Today, the 74-passenger Yankee Clipper is winging its way across the Atlantic to the Azores, to Lisbon, Marseilles and Southampton and Foyines. Twenty-one crew members and observers are along on the "shakedown" flight. Routine work. Flying time will be probably about 36 hours for the longer trip.

Thus far has the world come in the short span of 12 years. In this way has America been brought into a new perspective with the world. Space has shrunk with the years until the inauguration of a trans-Atlantic air service holds little more significance than the start of a new continental route. Some more, but not much.

Lindbergh's ship was carrying all the gas it could lift from the ground. The Clipper started out with enough gasoline for a 5,000-mile journey, although the destination was only a little more than half that distance. Carried that much gasoline and still space for more passengers and payload. And it may be pointed out that still greater, still faster, still more powerful planes are on the designing tables.

The world thus narrows and as it narrows the people of the United States must again and again reorientate their position in the modern world. Twelve short years ago the Atlantic remained a barrier challenged through the skies by only the supposedly foolhardy. People then asked the practical value of Lindbergh's flight while praising his daring. The practical value was demonstrated when the Clipper took off from Baltimore on a routine jaunt.

Twelve more short years—the years narrow with the skies—and the United States no longer will rest in magnificent isolation, if indeed she does today. Like it or not, American genius has brought the world to the front door. The better mouse trap has other meanings than mere monetary reward to the inventor. America has gained the world on a magic carpet. But carpets are sometimes expensive.

"After attending a performance of the film, 'Jesse James,' Nebraska outlaws kidnaped the house manager and robbed him of the receipts." Coming attraction: Shirley Temple.

At 40, a man can be well-nigh anything, from an aged and broken shell of a once peerless athlete to a kid justice of the highest court.

At Waukegan, Ill., four defendants are found guilty of robbing a slot machine. So much for any idea that there is honor among thieves.

Swing bands in this country in the year past did a business amounting to $90,000,000, not counting repairs to the rug.

If Hitler is dead, the world is haunted.

Editorial of the Day

IN THE FREE STATE

(From The Washington Post)
The Maryland legislature is considering, perhaps not too seriously, a bill making it compulsory for pedestrians on the public highways to carry reflectors or lights after nightfall. Approaching automobile drivers would thereby be advised of the pedestrian's presence and thus could more easily avoid musing up the road with broken limbs and such.

For the violation or nonobservance of the law there would, presumably, be a penalty inflicted by the state (under its new authority) or by the driver (as at present) or both. Which is as it should be. The desire for good, clean safety, is commendable.

Moreover there is strong possibility that the new measure will boost trade. And the deeper the depression the larger the cushioning market in tail lights for pedestrians. Indeed we move steadily toward the time when no man will think of going out for his evening stroll unless equipped not only with glittering breastplate and rear red light but with a gas mask as well.

THE CAPITAL PARADE FAIR ENOUGH

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY WASHINGTON, March 28.—As everyone knows by now, the President wishes to strengthen the democracies by every means short of war. Everyone should also realize that his program is governed by practical considerations, even though the background of decisions is rarely revealed in complete detail. Fortunately, however, the happenings behind the scenes leading to the new tariffs on German goods and to the Brazilian commercial agreement offer a significant study of American foreign policy.

Immediately after Hitler seized Czechoslovakia, and as he was daily gobbling up eastern Europe, the Treasury announced an additional 25 per cent duty on German imports to this country. One able American correspondent in Berlin described the tariff increase as "a stunning blow to German official and particularly business circles." The bulk of German sales here will be subject to the penalties, and experts forecast that the net effect will be to shut off Germany from her largest market overseas. This action is no mere diplomatic protest; it is the kind of economic reprisal that the Nazis fear most.

The story of how it came about is a simple one, dating back to early fall. Treasury customs and economic experts were convinced that Germany was subsidizing imports sufficiently to make mandatory clear-cut retaliation. Complaints were pouring in from American manufacturers, particularly in New England, and from the Federation of Labor Leaders, who protested loss of American markets to German-subsidized goods. Numerous conferences were held, comprehensive analyses were made, and the conclusion was that Germany was dumping her products. The experts recommended to Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. that Section 303 of the tariff law of 1930 be invoked. Secretary Morgenthau is an extremely careful fellow, and he wanted "outside" advice. This expert who understands the intricate trading system of the German was invited to Morgenthau's home. Again, there was agreement that Germany was improperly dumping its goods here. Last November, Mr. Morgenthau sent to the White House an elaborate memorandum recommending that this country retaliate with increased duties.

CAUTION, CAUTION

The President was naturally friendly to the idea of another blow at Hitler, ever, became very excited about the whole business. Chamberlain was working desperately to pacify the dictators; the "peace of Munich" had been signed and appeasement was the announced policy of Great Britain and France. State Department officials warned that the United States could not chance even the remote possibility that this country arouse Hitler's anger against the democracies. After a great deal of argument, the President acquiesced in the State Department view and the whole matter was side-tracked to the attorney general for a legal opinion. At the same time, a message was privately sent to the Department of Justice. "There is no hurry on the opinion. We shall let you know when we want it," it said. Hitler's treaty-breaking in Czechoslovakia and his march through eastern Europe ended appeasement, and also brought a hurry-up call to Attorney General Frank Murphy. The imposition of the 25 per cent duties was announced on March 18. March 18 was the date of the attorney general's opinion.

NO SO CAUTIOUS

That the State Department is cautious is not news. But, as it happens, in our other example on American foreign policy, State Department officials were a great deal less cautious than the careful Mr. Morgenthau. Secretary Morgenthau is frankly in favor of an "aggressive foreign policy." He argues that our best weapon against Fascism is our great supply of money and credit. He favors financial aid to the South American countries to increase their production and thus hamper Fascist penetration. Brazilian Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha was recently in Washington to complete a commercial agreement in which this country is to make a $50,000,000 loan to Brazil. Naturally, Secretary Morgenthau was agreeable and, in this case, he was supported by State Department officials, who urged that the Treasury make a direct loan to Brazil.

A loan could be made, it was pointed out, through the Treasury's stabilization fund, by buying the Brazilian currency with gold and agreeing to hold the currency for a period of years while Brazil redeemed it with regular gold repayment. Such a direct Treasury loan would be a simple matter. But, as has been said, Mr. Morgenthau is a careful fellow with a healthy respect for reactions in congress. He reluctantly told the State Department: "We must ask congress for the authority. I have promised this will be done, and, while it is slower, it must be done that way." Just as a foreign political consideration left to congress whether the Brazilian agreement should include $50,000,000 cash on the barrel-head. (Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

I went into a store one day,
Potentially a buyer,
But a clerk would look my way
Nor of my wants inquire.

I was the only stranger there,
The clerks conversed together
Of baseball and the great world's fair,
And, possibly, the weather.

And so I tiptoed from the place,
Not wishing to intrude,
My crass desire I did erase
And kept my money crude.

Just Masculine

Explaining the experience to a feminine acquaintance, she insisted it was the dumb one and the clerks were not to blame. "Just like a man," she said, "they're always poor shoppers." "How about women?" I shot at her. "They're irritating shoppers," she conceded.

It came about like this. Having seen a certain article, something which I had rather tentatively considered buying for quite a long time, advertised by a certain store, at an apparently low price, I stopped in yesterday morning, en route to town, thinking I'd get one of 'em.

There didn't seem to be any other customers in the place. There were plenty of clerks, however. They were happily engaged in conversation, in groups here or there, and an occasional one was rearranging stock on a counter, or flipping a feather duster about in desultory manner.

Not a one of them paid any attention to me. I walked all over the store, walked around from department to department, until at last I found the articles I sought, by my own unaided efforts. I examined the different types and qualities on display, looked at the price tags and, all by myself, I bought my choice. Then looked around for a clerk.

There were two, near by, talking together, but I hated to interrupt. So I stood, with what patience I could command, waiting. Several times they looked straight at me, but with that stare which hints the eye does not comprehend what it sees. That "looking right through you" gaze, you know.

At last the two arrived at some conclusion to their mutual comment and, casually and idly, I turned away from each other. Both turned away from me, and wandered off in different directions.

So I decided I could do without the article, anyway, and walked out of the place, still unnoted and unapproached. I was not myself with the thought that, after all, I didn't really have to have that gadget and my money was still in my pocket, anyway.

But what's the matter with me? Am I the Invisible Man? Or, perhaps like in "Topper," I'm dead and my ectoplasm isn't working yet.

It Really Is Too Bad.
However, it occurs to me that it really is too bad, when a businessman spends money to advertise a desirable article, when potential customers are thereby lured to his establishment, that his clerks are so unconcerned and so uninterested in the matter of sales, that they haven't enough initiative, or gumption, or something, to dig out a smile and say to that potential customer, "May I show you something?"

Or, perhaps, my feminine critic is right. Perhaps it is merely because I'm masculine and too self-effacing. Perhaps a really experienced, feminine shopper would grab one of those nonchalant clerks and say to him, "Lookahere, you! Pay a little attention to me. Wrap up that doodle and take my money, no matter how you hate to touch the stuff."

However, simply, that is not my way of doing things. Bashful, that's what I am.

I walk into a store, expect some clerk to approach me without necessity of a letter of introduction or appealing to an ambassador. Then I expect to tell, in a word or two, what I want. To be shown some samples. To point out one and say, "I'll take that. How much?" To have it wrapped for me, or my address taken for delivery, to hand over my money and walk out.

Without quibbling. I can't and won't enter into a debate on price. Either I pay the asking price, or I walk out if I can't afford it.

Maybe I'm a sucker. Maybe I'm too shy before these clerks. But if they want to sell me, the next time, they can gain a few pointers about this prospect, anyway, by reading the column which now comes to its accustomed close.

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today

From the news columns of Sunday, March 29, 1914:
"Brunswick, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The large gasoline locomotive, built for the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad, and which is to be used in hauling automobiles across the Atlanta delta, will be put into service Monday morning."

And Fifty Years Ago

From the news columns of Friday, March 29, 1889:
"Messrs. G. V. Gress and Thomas J. James purchased the circus yesterday. They are both public spirited gentlemen. The animals will be donated to Grant park, and the cars will be utilized by Mr. James in his railroad business."

Teeth Save Swimmer

In Oslo 17-year-old Karsten Andersen saved a small boy from drowning with his teeth. The lad had fallen into a well and Andersen climbed down to the rescue but found both hands were necessary to keep himself from the water. He crouched down till his face was level with the water, seized the boy's collar with his teeth and held him up till help arrived.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Lampoon NEW YORK, March 28.—This is the week of the Dutch treat show in New York, one of a series of traditional or habitual amateur theatricals, occurring in various cities, in which artists, reporters, columnists, fictionists, aldermen, state legislators, clergies and veterinarians smear rouge on their cheeks and sing applied parodies on "Casey Jones" and "Old Gray Bonnet" to more or less puerile audiences. The spirit is one of revelry and, in the gridiron and Dutch treat shows, at least the lyrics and sketches and the acting sometimes rise to the level of lower mediocrity by comparison with professional standards, most of the material is intended to lampoon persons and issues of current national or parochial importance, but in actual fact the jesters more often lampoon themselves.

Of recent years in Washington, under the lively influence of Mrs. Roosevelt, who brought to capital society the spirit of the fairy-tale or Halloween party, the ladies—God bless and forgive them!—have succumbed to the same temptation. They now indulge in charades under stately conditions which, in the White House, on the word of principal guests, are of the highest quality. Many things never perpetrated by the males that would be very bad indeed.

The gridiron shows always proceed on a high moral plane, with neither word nor jest to offend the sensibilities of the school superintendent. The Dutch treat, at times, employs cleverized vulgarity, and the Society of Illustrators, also of New York, has been known to present scenes which would make even a minsky uneasy.

Prestige Of Gridiron

The Gridiron is the oldest of these fixtures and enjoys a prestige which has no proportion at all to the quality of actual entertainment. This prestige is due to the presence of the President of the United States, guest of honor and principal speaker, and of assorted diplomats, statesmen and bureaucrats at the long table. The other tables are occupied by invited guests of the 50 Gridiron members, including, not unnaturally, a large proportion of publishers, newspaper business managers and advertisers.

At one such party, when the defeated presidential candidate of 1936 were invited to crumble bread with the winner, Norman Thomas, the Socialist, drove Earl Browder, the Communist, out of the place with a running fire of nasty remarks ostensibly addressed to the loser. When the time came to introduce the losers to the audience Browder had vanished. He had appeared in a winter jacket, scolding to wear the aristocratic white tie and tails, although the Soviet ambassador, Mr. Trotsky, who was supposed to indicate the party's sartorial line, conformed to Washington custom without loss of standing, unless it could be that he has since been shot for this heresy.

Washington journalists' salaries, though good, are not lavish, but each member, nevertheless, pays about $100 a year for his guests at the dinner, including, frequently, the boss. They also often burden themselves with the bother of obtaining hotel reservations for these bosses who affect an air of helplessness in this matter and may feel ill-used if their rooms are not of the best, and, lately, if their wives are not invited to the distaff party at the White House.

Party

The social complications arising from Mrs. Roosevelt's well-meant interference in the scheme constitute a pain in the neck, because every boss' wife or the wife of every guest advertiser thinks she is as good as anybody else's wife and demands an invitation which must be produced by the Gridiron member whose own hospital is entirely lost sight of. People forget that the Gridiron show is strictly a party for guests, not a racket like the familiar type of testimonial dinner.

There are minor Gridirons in some state capitals and in Gridiron societies under various names, having to do with state or city politics, and some of these produce, localized doggerel, intended as a satire, which would make a hillbilly minstrel hide behind a corncrib and cut his throat. Gridirons, however, are not in a position which demands that they refrain from throwing rolls or French fried potatoes, and, to the credit of American manners, it must be reported that they sometimes do refrain.

Some who do not wish to be etiquette solve the problem by getting very drunk and staggering away. Far into the night such refugees may be seen and heard prowling the hotel corridors, waking up innocent Americans with their braying and pounding as they are taken to find where they left their overcoats and hats.

It has been observed that such productions are increasing in number and that new and old alike are growing rapidly worse, so perhaps a few years more will see a public revulsion and the return of the amusement business exclusively to the competent hands of men and women who make a profession of hamming it.

Constitution Quiz

Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to want ad pages for the answers.

1. Is the sun a star?
2. Name the manager of the New York Giants baseball club.
3. Can a naturalized American citizen be elected to the United States senate?
4. Who is chief of the United States army air corps?
5. What is the correct pronunciation of the word automaton?
6. When is it 12 o'clock noon (E.S.T.) in New York city, what time is it in London, England?
7. Name the capital of the republic of Colombia.
8. On what island is the training camp of the Chicago Cubs baseball club?
9. For which government agency do the initials SEC stand?
10. Where is the island of Falster?

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

COUNTY SPENDING According to reporters at yesterday's meeting of the county commissioners, with that which is evidenced by congress . . . an attempt to investigate its spending.

The new county attorneys have notified the commissioners that in their opinion the county payments to the various agencies of the Community Chest are illegal.

The county commissioners, investigation reveals, previously have been subjected to some few injunctions in this connection. This led to the custom of appropriating money for specific agencies rather than for the Chest itself.

Thus, monies appropriated for the Red Cross, for the Sheltering Arms, the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association, the Churches' Home for Girls, the Community Home for Girls, the Family Welfare Society, the Home for Old Women, the Home for Incurables and other similar agencies, eleven or more in number, are believed to be illegal and without the authority of law.

It is not that the agencies are not deserving and in need of support but that the county cannot, if the final ruling so holds, legally donate them money out of county funds. None is operated by the county and the county has no legal connection with them.

This, one may imagine, is but a starter. It came from the first presentation of the master budget at yesterday's meeting of the commission. The individual budgets must next be given an investigation as to the proper legal aspect of their appropriations.

If this preliminary opinion of yesterday is made final and if the commission abides by it, as it must to remain within the law, it will have some very important results.

THE RELIEF PROBLEM The county plans also to do a sort of relief personnel. There will be an attempt made to find out, its medical examination, how many on relief actually are unemployed.

There also will be made an investigation which will have for its purpose the determining of how many non-residents of Fulton county are partaking of Fulton county's tax money spent for relief. It is a well-known fact that many communities get rid of their relief problems by buying them bus or railroad tickets to Atlanta, Atlanta has been the dumping ground for many such communities which had undesirable on their hands and wanted to be rid of them without undue expense.

A careful investigation probably would reveal that 30 per cent of those receiving Fulton county relief are not bona fide Fulton county people but properly belong to other counties.

A FIFTH FOR RELIEF It is an important problem. If Fulton county residents consider the money spent for relief; for matching federal funds and for the purchase of machinery to do federal projects, and if to that they will add the more than $100,000 spent on smaller relief agencies, it will be found that about one-fifth of all the money collected in county taxes is going, directly or indirectly, for relief. Indeed, it might run closer to one-fourth than to one-fifth if all the money be traced to its ultimate goal. Relief is the big item.

There are those who see bankruptcy ahead if the county is to continue to match federal funds and continue its relief spending. There are pressure groups which demand the spending. The spending needed. But no one will have anything but applause for the county attorneys and for the commissioners who apparently have determined to examine minutely their spending; to work out all possible economies and to eliminate their spending.

It is a gigantic problem with the city of Atlanta in the middle and with the county face to face with problems which will require much intelligence, courage and patriotism to solve.

THE MARCH ON WASHINGTON It is disturbing to read that the Workers' Alliance is sending out ballots to its members seeking to obtain a march on Washington in the event the congress does not supply the WPA funds eliminated from the original budget.

That sort of organization undoubtedly is subversive in purpose and intent. That WPA served and serves a worthy purpose cannot be denied. That it has been abused in many sections also must be admitted.

Those who would march on the capital are ill-advised. Of such things come a breakdown in the form of government which we possess. The Workers' Alliance is in bad repute even among those of unusually liberal opinion. Its purpose in sponsoring a march to Washington cannot be an honest one.

We Can't Preserve a Great Nation By Making Forty-Eight Little Ones

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Once upon a time a certain man was so blinded by greed and shortsighted selfishness that he cut his own throat in order to— But maybe the facts will serve better than a parable.

A few weeks ago one of the popular magazines printed a complimentary article about Mayor LaGuardia. As evidence of his efficiency it told how he reacted to a helper's warning that a certain contemplated action would violate the constitution. "You mean the little old state constitution," said he. "We'll find a way to get around that."

The story may have been fiction, but the idea was typical of Americans. Getting around the law is an American pastime, and officials see no wrong in getting around the constitution.

Within the last few years, so many state officials have learned to get around it so well that we are in process of being destroyed as a nation.

When the fathers wrote the constitution, their chief concern and greatest problem was to harmonize the conflicting interest of jealous states. Their success made us a great nation, yet even today there are few people, in or out of office, who can think in national terms. Our country is too vast and its interest too varied to be encompassed by provincial minds. Few are able to extend their loyalty and affection beyond the state line.

For example, it is now well known that freight rates are higher in the south and west than in the east. In some instances the rates in the hinterland are doubled and trebled. Nobody has yet given a reasonable excuse for this official unfairness, but recent efforts to have the rates changed have met with bitter opposition.

When a party official spoke in favor of the change, a congressman wrote to President Roosevelt protesting that it would "destroy all that you and your party in New York have worked so many years to achieve, i. e., the finest industrial standards in the whole world."

Of course the original purpose and present effect of the discrimination is to penalize one section for the benefit of another. And of course it has built up "the finest industrial standards" in one section, but the gain has been made by injuring the other sections.

Those who profit by the present arrangement wish to preserve it, yet they can give no reason for preserving it except that it profits them. That would be reason enough if we were 48 nations, but we are supposed to be one. What injures one must ultimately injure all, whether we realize it or not.

Failure to realize it has resulted in ever-increasing effort to evade the constitution and impose trade barriers at state lines. The constitution forbids state tariffs. Because of that wise provision, we are the largest free-trade area in the world; and this fact, more than anything else, has made our nation great

One of the first Egyptian mummies exhibited in the United States was the gift of a Smyrna merchant to the good people of Boston.

INVEST IN HOT WATER HAPPINESS ... with an automatic Gas water heater

Have you ever thought how much it would add to the comfort of your home to have hot water on tap all the time?

You CAN have ... at surprisingly low cost ... with automatic gas hot water service.

For your automatic gas water heater never forgets. Faithfully, it replaces hot water as fast as you use it, and stores it for instant use when needed again. You have ALL the hot water you want ... for baths and showers, and for the thousand and one household needs that come up during the day.

Investigate now, without waiting. When you realize how little it costs to enjoy this modern aid to a happier household, you'll surely want to invest in an automatic gas water heater right away.

ATLANTA GAS LIGHT COMPANY

Commercial High Alumni Swing It Out at Banquet

Swing music set the pace last night for the annual banquet of the Commercial High School Alumni Association, which assembled more than 250 persons. Enjoying this musical session are (left to right) Lillian Andrews, Ralph

L. Ramsey, secretary of the Georgia Education Association and principal speaker; Reuben Crimm, president of the alumni group and Mildred Mayfield. Brief speeches were made by several prominent men.

The maximum width of the path of a solar eclipse is 160 miles.

GEORGIA NEIGHBORS AWAIT ROOSEVELT

Warm Springs To Greet Him Not as President But as Farmer.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 28.—(P)—West Georgia farm and village folk prepared to take time off from spring plowing and planting Thursday to welcome Franklin Delano Roosevelt back to the neighborhood as just another farmer home for a visit.

Many planned to watch his arrival as the President of the United States, with all of his official entourage, while others awaited a casual chat with him as a neighbor, out to see the freshly-turned acres, the blossoming peach trees and the brightening

Putnam Is Warned To Suppress Book

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(P)—George Palmer Putnam, publisher and husband of the late Amelia Earhart, said in a civic club address today he had received an anonymous telephone warning not to publish a fiction book, "The Man Who Killed Hitler."

"The German Bund forbids you to publish that book," Putnam said the voice warned, but he announced it would be published.

grassland of this section of the state.

No formal welcome ceremony was arranged.

In Washington, President Roosevelt began clearing up all engagements today preparatory to his departure tomorrow afternoon.

He conferred individually with three senators, five representatives, and the Spanish and British ambassadors; held a farewell cabinet meeting in advance of the customary Friday session, and received newspapermen.

FILM EXECUTIVE'S MOTHER SUCSUMBS

Mrs. Robert Strickland Dies in Birmingham.

Mrs. Robert B. Strickland, mother of Robert B. Strickland, president of the Strickland Industrial Film Corporation, of Atlanta, died yesterday morning at her home in Birmingham after an illness of six weeks.

Although a resident of Birmingham, she had recently been active in the work of the Glide Memorial Methodist church in San Francisco, Cal., returning to her home two weeks ago on account of her health.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. James H. Hard Jr., of Birmingham; another son, Charles L. Strickland, of Hobbs, N. M., and several nieces and nephews.

GOOD MORNING By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT.
"And it came to pass in those days that He went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God" (Luke 6:12). If the Son of God, without sin, felt the need of prayer—whole nights of prayer—how much more should we; and if Jesus found the quiet of the night the best time to pray, shall we not the more turn to the quiet night as the best seasons for communion with the Father?

If one hour can be endowed with a sacredness above the other hours, it must be the hour when the Lord looseth the bands of Orion and leadeth forth Arcturus, for then voices from worlds afar call us to contemplation and adoration, and the stillness of the lower world prepares an oratory for the devout soul. He likely never prays at all who does not end the day—as all men wish to end their lives—in prayer. It is good to pray in the morning, when the dew is still on the roses, and at noon, when life presses its heaviest burdens upon us, but in the hush of the evening the soul finds God very near. Well does James Montgomery say:

Night is the time for rest;
How sweet, when labors close,
To gather round the aching breast
The curtain of repose,
Stretch the tired limbs, and lay
The head
Upon our own delightful bed.

Night is the time to weep;
To wet with unseen tears
Those graves of memory, where sleep
The joys of other years;
Hopes that were angels in their birth,
But perished young, like things on earth.

Night is the time to muse;
Then from the eyes the soul
Takes flight, and with expanding views
Beyond the starry pole,
Descends athwart the abyss of night
The dawn of uncreated light.

Night is the time to pray;
Our Saviour oft withdrew
To desert mountains far away;
So will His followers do—
Steal from the throng to haunts untrod,
And hold communion there with God.

COMMERCIAL HIGH ALUMNI BANQUET

Confetti, Oratory and Swing
Music Entertain 250 at Festivities.

Streaming confetti—and swing music, with an intermingling of speeches—entertained more than 250 Commercial High school alumni and their friends at the annual alumni banquet last night in the Biltmore hotel.

Faber A. Bollinger, executive secretary of the Atlanta Convention and Visitors' Bureau, and the Commercial High school orchestra and choir led the music; prominent city and school officials provided the speeches, and everyone present joined in streaming the confetti.

Ralph L. Ramsey, secretary of the Georgia Education Association, who spoke on "The Importance of Living," declared that "successful living is measured in terms of service rather than in terms of material wealth."

He listed a sense of reality, the ability to dream constructively, and a sense of humor as essentials to a full, well-rounded life.

Among those who spoke briefly were Mayor Hartsfield, County Commissioner Hailey, Ed S. Cook, president of the Atlanta board of education; Ernest Brewer, Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, and the Rev. H. J. Penn, members of the board of education; T. W. Clift, business manager of the Atlanta school department; Councilman Cecil Hester, and Dr. George Sparks, president of the Georgia Evening College.

Reuben G. Crimm, president of the alumni association, opened the meeting and introduced Edward L. Floyd, principal of Commercial High, who was toast-master.

CIO ORDERS UAW TO PURGE RADICALS

Union Warned Disintegration Is Alternative.

CLEVELAND, March 28.—(P)—The Congress of Industrial Organization warned its affiliated United Automobile Workers' Union today to purge its ranks of "radicalism" or face disintegration.

Addressing a closed session of the CIO-UAW convention here, CIO Vice Presidents Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman joined also in appealing for an end to factionalism within the auto union.

Both told the 500 assembled delegates "subversive groups" were at work within the union, seeking its control.

Park Lane Suits

—another way of saying "QUALITY"

DO YOUR FRIENDS ever ask "Who is your tailor?" It's worth a lot to know your appearance and good taste command such attention. But it no longer costs a lot! Put on a Park Lane Suit, and see! Your mirror will show you a suit that fits as though it were made for you. Your eye will light on woollens styled to set you apart from the crowd. And if there is a microscope handy, you may be able to count the thousands of fine stitches our Rochester tailors have lavished on these expensive-looking clothes. That, sir, is Quality! The kind that proves its worth with the test of time, and hard wear. The kind that Bond, only, offers you in Park Lane Clothes at this modest price—with two trousers

$35

BOND CLOTHES
45 Peachtree St.
(Facing Walton St.)

2 ways to "charge it"
Pay weekly or twice a month.
OR 1/3 on these dates:
MAY 10 JUNE 10 JULY 10

Drink
Coca-Cola
Delicious and Refreshing

5¢

"Time out" for refreshment

A pause in work plays an important part in doing the job right. That's where ice-cold Coca-Cola does the job right, too. It makes a pause the pause that refreshes and leads to better work.

ATLANTA COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
560 Edgewood Ave., N. E. JACKSON 1507

WUTHERING HEIGHTS

By EMILY BRONTE

INSTALLMENT VIII.

He entered, vociferating oaths dreadful to hear; and caught me in the act of stowing his son away in the kitchen cupboard.

"There, I've found it out at last!" cried Hindley, pulling me back by the skin of my neck, like a dog. "By heaven and hell, you've sworn between you to murder that child! But with the help of Satan, I shall make you swallow the carving-knife, Nelly! You needn't laugh; for I've just crammed Kenneth, head-downmost, in the Blackhorse march; and two is the same as one—and I want to kill some of you; I shall have no rest till I do."

"But I don't like the carving-knife, Mr. Hindley," I answered. "It has been cutting red herrings. I'd rather be shot, if you please."

"Oh," said he, "I see that hideous little villain is not Hareton: I beg your pardon, Nelly. If it be, he deserves lying alive for not running to the kitchen cupboard."

"Hush, child, hush! As sure as I'm living, I'll break the brat's neck."

Poor Hareton was squalling and kicking in his father's arms with all his might, and redoubled his yells when he realized that he was being lifted over the banister. I cried out that he would frighten the child into fits, and ran to rescue him. As I reached them, Hindley leant forward on the rails to listen to a noise below; almost forgetting what he had in his hands. "Who is that?" he asked, hearing someone approaching the stairs' foot. I leant forward also, for the purpose of signing to Heathcliff, whose step I recognized, not to come further; and, at the instant when my eyes quitted Hareton, he saw a sudden spring, delivered himself from the careless grasp that held him, and fell.

There was scarcely time to experience a thrill of horror before we saw that the little wretch was safe. Heathcliff arrived underneath just at the critical moment; by a natural impulse, he arrested his descent, and setting him on his feet, looked up to discover the author of the accident.

Heathcliff's countenance was black when he beheld the figure of Mr. Earnshaw above it, and he pressed, plainer than words could do, the intense anguish at having made himself the instrument of thwarting his own revenge. Had it been dark, I dare say, he would have tried to remedy the mistake by smashing Hareton's skull on the steps; and I was presently below with my precious charge pressed to my heart. Hindley descended more leisurely, sobered and abashed.

"It is your fault, Ellen," he said. "You should have kept him out of sight. Is he injured?"

"Injured!" cried angrily. "If he's not killed, he'll be an idiot! Oh! I wonder his mother does not rise from her grave to see how you use him!"

He attempted to touch the child who, on finding myself with me, sobbed off his terror directly.

"You shall not meddle with him," I continued. "He hates you—they all hate you—that's the truth!"

"I shall come to a prettier, yet, Nelly," laughed the misguided man, recovering himself, his harshness. "At present, convey yourself and him away. And, hark you, Heathcliff! clear your throat, quite from my reach and hearing. I wouldn't murder you tonight; unless, perhaps, I set the house on fire: but that's as my fancy goes."

While saying this he took a pint bottle of brandy from the dresser, and poured some into a tumbler. "Nay, don't!" I entreated. "Mr. Hindley, do take warning. Have mercy on this unfortunate boy, if you care nothing for yourself!"

"Anyone would do better for him than I shall," he answered.

"Have mercy on your own soul!" I said, endeavouring to snatch the glass from his hand.

"Not I! On the contrary, I shall have great pleasure in sending it to perdition to punish its Maker," exclaimed the blasphemer. "Here's to its hearty damnation!"

He drank the spirits and impatiently bade us go; terminating his command with a snarl of horrid imprecations.

"It's a pity he cannot kill himself with drink," observed Heathcliff, muttering an echo of curses back when the door was shut.

I went into the kitchen, and sat down to lull my little lamb to sleep. Heathcliff, as I thought, walked through to the barn. It turned out afterwards that he only got as far as the other side the settle, when he flung himself on a bench by the wall, removed from the fire, and remained silent.

I was rocking Hareton on my knee, and humming a song when Miss Cathy put her head in.

"Are you alone, Nelly?"

"Yes, miss," I replied.

She entered and approached the hearth. The expression of her face seemed disturbed and anxious.

"Where's Heathcliff?" she said, interrupting me.

"About his work in the stable," was my answer.

He did not contradict me; perhaps he had fallen into a doze. There followed another long pause, during which I perceived a drop or two trickle from Catherine's cheek to the flange.

"Oh, dear!" she cried at last. "I'm very unhappy!"

"A pity," observed I.

"Nelly, will you keep a secret for me?" she pursued, kneeling down by me.

"Is it worth keeping?" I inquired, less sulkily.

"Yes, and it worries me, and I must let it out! I want to know what I should do. Today, Edgar Linton has asked me to marry him, and I've given him an answer. Now, before I tell you whether it was a consent or denial, you tell me which it ought to have been."

"Really, Miss Catherine, how can I know?" I replied. "To be sure, considering the exhibition you performed in his presence this afternoon, I might say it would be wise to refuse him: since he asked you after that, he must either be hopelessly stupid or a venturesome fool."

"If you talk so, I won't tell you any more," she returned, peevishly, rising to her feet. "I accepted him, Nelly. Be quick, and say whether I was wrong!"

"You accepted him! then what good is it discussing the matter? You have pledged your word, and cannot retract."

"But, say whether I should have done so—do!" she exclaimed in an irritated tone, chafing her hands together and frowning.

"There are many things to be considered before that question can be answered properly," I said sententiously. "First and foremost, do you love Mr. Edgar?"

"Who can help it? Of course I do," she answered.

"Why do you love him, Miss Cathy?"

"Nonsense, I do—that's sufficient."

"By no means; you must say why?"

"Well, because he is handsome, and pleasant to be with."

"Bad!" was my commentary.

"And because he is young and cheerful?"

"Bad still."

"And because he loves me?"

"Indifferent, coming there."

"And he will be rich, and I shall like to be the greatest woman of the neighborhood, and I shall be proud of having such a husband."

"Worst of all. And now, say how you love him?"

"As anybody loves—You're silly, Nelly."

"Not at all—Answer."

"I love the ground under his feet, and the air over his head, and everything he touches, and every word he says. I love all his looks, and all his actions, and him entirely and altogether. There now!"

"And why?"

"Nay, you are making a jest of it; it is exceedingly ill-natured! It's not just to me!" said the young lady, scowling, and turning her face to the fire.

"I'm very far from jesting, Miss Catherine," I replied. "You love Mr. Edgar because he is handsome and young, and cheerful, and rich, and loves you. The last, however, goes for nothing: you would love him without that, probably; and with it you wouldn't, unless he possessed the four former attractions."

"No, to be sure not: I should only pity him—hate him, perhaps, if he were ugly, and a clown."

"But there are several other handsome, rich young men in the world: handsome, possibly, and richer than he is. What should hinder you from loving them?"

"If there be any, they are out of my way! I've seen none like Edgar."

"You may see some; and he won't always be handsome, and young, and may not always be rich."

"He is now; and I have only to do with the present. I wish you would speak rationally."

"Well, that settles it: if you have only to do with the present, marry Mr. Linton."

"I don't want your permission for that—I shall marry him; and yet you have not told me whether I'm right."

"Perfectly right; if people be right to marry only for the present. And now, let me know what you are unhappy about. Your brother will be pleased; the old lady and gentleman will not object, I think; you will escape from a disorderly, comfortable home into a wealthy, respectable one; and you love Edgar, and Edgar loves you. All seems smooth and easy: where is the obstacle?"

"Here! and here!" replied Catherine, striking one hand on her forehead, and the other on her breast: "in whichever place the soul lives. In my soul and in my heart, I'm convinced I'm wrong! That's very strange! I cannot make it out."

"It's my secret. But if you will not mock at me, I'll explain it: I can't do it distinctly; but I'll give you a feeling of how I feel."

She seated herself by me again; her countenance grew sadder and graver, and her clasped hands trembled.

"If I were in heaven, Nelly, I should be extremely miserable."

"Because you are not fit to go there," I answered. "All sinners would be miserable in heaven."

"But it is not for that, I dreamt once that I was there. I made a motion to leave my chair."

"This is nothing," cried she. "I was only going to say that heaven did not seem to be my home; and I broke my heart when I thought to come back to earth; and the angels were so angry that they flung me out into the middle of the heath on the top of Wuthering Heights; where I woke sobbing for joy. That will do to explain my secret, as well as the other. I'm wrong! My business to marry Edgar Linton than I have to be in heaven; and if the wicked man in there had not brought Heathcliff so low, I shouldn't have thought of it. It would degrade me to marry Heathcliff now; he's more myself than I am. Whatever our souls are made of, his and mine are the same; and Linton's is as different as a moonbeam from lightning, or frost from fire."

Ere this speech ended, I became sensible of Heathcliff's presence. Having noticed a slight movement, I turned my head, and saw him rise from the bench, and steal out noiselessly.

"Joseph is here," I said, catching opportunely the roll of his cart-wheels up the road. "And Heathcliff will come in with him."

"Give me Hareton then," she said, "while you get the supper, and when it is ready ask me to sup with you. I want to cheat my uncomfortable conscience, and be convinced that Heathcliff has no notion of these things. He has not, has he? He does not know what being in love is?"

"I see no reason that he should not know," I returned. "As soon as you become Mrs. Linton, he loses friend, and love, and all! Have you considered how you'll bear the separation, and how he'll bear to be quite deserted in the world?"

"He quite deserted! We separated!" she exclaimed, with an accent of indignation. "Oh, that's not what I intend—that's not what I mean! I shouldn't be Mrs. Linton were such a price demanded! Nelly, I see now, you think me a selfish wretch; but did it never strike you that if Heathcliff and I married, we should be beggars? Whereas, if I marry Linton, I can aid Heathcliff to rise, and place him out of my brother's power."

(Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution.)

JUST NUTS

Solution to Yesterday's Puzzle.

PICT SCANS ELBA
ALIM EMBLazonRY
TEMPORAL RONDEL
EARN EMEU
KERNELS ADAPTED
ALI YAPS VERSE
RECKS VIS ELITE
AMAIN APER POP
TILTING SATRAPPS
VIOLET ASBESTOS
AQUARTENCE PITTA
SEEN EROGOT ETON
TARA DIETS DEED

THE GUMPS

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

MOON MULLINS

DICK TRACY

JANE ARDEN—By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

TODAY'S CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

- ACROSS
- Guard.
 - Throwing-rope.
 - Rotating pieces.
 - Remotely.
 - Diplomatic agent.
 - Overlook.
 - Cleave.
 - Sideboard.
 - Extra.
 - Disassociate.
 - Herring-like fish.
 - Perceptive.
 - Algonquin Indian.
 - Printer's measures.
 - Bar from action.
 - Harmonious combination.
 - Dressing.
 - Perceive.
 - Turn to the left.
 - Destructive insects.
 - Measure of length.
 - Beverage.
 - Expunge.
 - Heavy seas.
 - Be similar to.
 - Transgression.
 - Urn.
 - Robber.
 - Cuts off edges.
 - Blackmailing: law.
 - Wolf hound.
 - Worries.
- DOWN
- Eye: German.
 - Covenant.
 - Apprise of danger.
 - Migrate.
 - Invites.
 - Is obligatory.
 - Lugs.
 - Silly.
 - Covetous.
 - Measure of weight.
 - Forever.
 - Exact.
 - God of love.
 - Variable star.
 - Printer's direction.
 - Groundhog Day.
 - Withdrawal.
 - Small jug.
 - Receipt: abbr.
 - Intermit.
 - Employer.
 - Colored earthenware.
 - Lampreys.
 - Scorch.
 - Robust.
 - Be in debt.
 - Ascend.
 - Encircles.
 - Remainder after dividing a number.
 - Incidents.
 - Vehicle.
 - The fourth caliph.
 - Fragment of pottery.
 - Heroine of "Pendennis."
 - Instigator.
 - Smokes.
 - Father.
 - Exclamation of sorrow.
 - Torment.
 - 55 cents in Persia.
 - Vehicle.
 - The fourth caliph.

Bim States an Undisputable Fact

Fellow Travelers

Open for Business

Cold Concrete

Time to Leave

Save
$$$$$$

SAVE 25% ON TIRES
By Using An
OPEN ACCOUNT
Why Pay "Boosted" Budget Prices?
SEE US FOR PARTICULARS

It's Time For WARM WEATHER LUBRICATION!
It's important that you change from winter to summer lubrication. Proper lubrication NOW will save you expense later on.

Drive In For Free Check-Up

WA. 6645
MASON KROMINERS
121 CENTRAL AVE., S. W. & 94 PRYOR ST., S. W.

COMPLETE AUTO SERVICE
TIRE CO.

Save
$$$$$$

SAVE 25% ON TIRES
By Using An
OPEN ACCOUNT
Why Pay "Boosted" Budget Prices?
SEE US FOR PARTICULARS

It's Time For WARM WEATHER LUBRICATION!
It's important that you change from winter to summer lubrication. Proper lubrication NOW will save you expense later on.

Drive In For Free Check-Up

WA. 6645
MASON KROMINERS
121 CENTRAL AVE., S. W. & 94 PRYOR ST., S. W.

COMPLETE AUTO SERVICE
TIRE CO.

Save
$$$$$$

SAVE 25% ON TIRES
By Using An
OPEN ACCOUNT
Why Pay "Boosted" Budget Prices?
SEE US FOR PARTICULARS

It's Time For WARM WEATHER LUBRICATION!
It's important that you change from winter to summer lubrication. Proper lubrication NOW will save you expense later on.

Drive In For Free Check-Up

WA. 6645
MASON KROMINERS
121 CENTRAL AVE., S. W. & 94 PRYOR ST., S. W.

COMPLETE AUTO SERVICE
TIRE CO.

Save
$$$$$$

SAVE 25% ON TIRES
By Using An
OPEN ACCOUNT
Why Pay "Boosted" Budget Prices?
SEE US FOR PARTICULARS

It's Time For WARM WEATHER LUBRICATION!
It's important that you change from winter to summer lubrication. Proper lubrication NOW will save you expense later on.

Drive In For Free Check-Up

WA. 6645
MASON KROMINERS
121 CENTRAL AVE., S. W. & 94 PRYOR ST., S. W.

COMPLETE AUTO SERVICE
TIRE CO.

RUNWAYS SHORT, MAYOR ASSERTS

Airline's Mishap Proves Need of Improvements,
Hartsfield Says

Crack-up of an Eastern airliner at the municipal airport Monday has called the attention of the public to the necessity for longer runways, city officials asserted yesterday.

Though none was hurt when the ship overshot the field in landing, Mayor Hartsfield, Councilman Cecil W. Hester, chairman of the aviation committee, and Jack Gray, airport manager, asserted the runways must be lengthened if the city is to hold its place as an important aviation center.

The airliner was seriously damaged when it landed in soft earth after overshooting the 3,500-foot runway. Gray said plans call for a 4,500-foot runway.

Proposals for improving the airport and the runways was contained in the recent bond issue which failed at the polls.

Hartsfield pointed out the big airlines are now landing on fields with shorter runways than Atlanta's, but added that if the city is to have the biggest planes on routes through here, it must eventually provide runways long enough to land them in complete safety.

JOINT FUNERAL RITES FOR TWO AGED SISTERS

Joint funeral services for Mrs. Tiny D. McHugh and Mrs. Martha Emmal Elliott, aged sisters who died Monday within a few hours of each other, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Fellowship Tabernacle.

The Rev. J. L. Evans will officiate and burial will be in the Porterfield (Ga.) cemetery under direction of Awtrey & Lowrey. Both had been residents of Atlanta for many years.

"Princess Cruises" TO ALASKA

2000-mile cruises to the land of the Midnight Sun! Via the sheltered Inside Passage.

9-DAY CRUISES . . . from $95
To Skagway. Sailings from Vancouver each week.

SPECIAL 11-DAY CRUISES, from $115 via Sitka and Skagway, from Vancouver
July 21 and July 28.

Fares for "Princess" cruises to Alaska and Seattle include meals, berths, and all other expenses. For full details and reservations, write to:
Canadian Pacific, 1000 Broadway, New York City, N. Y.

Canadian Pacific
C. & S. Nat'l Bank Bldg., Atlanta,
Georgia. Phone: Walnut 2217.

BACKACHE?

Try Flushing Excess Poisons
And Acid Thru Kidneys
And Stop Getting Old Nights

35 CENTS PROVES IT

When your kidneys are overtaxed and your bladder is irritated and passage scanty and often painful, you may need Gold Medal. It's a genuine medicine for weak kidneys—right from Haeckel in Holland.—(adv.)

MECHLING'S

SULFOTE
ROTENONE-SULPHUR KILLING MIXTURE
An effective combined insecticide and fungicide Controls Gladiolus Thrips, Leaf Hoppers on Dahlias,
Black Spot and Mildew on Roses, Mexican Bean Beetles, Repels Japanese Beetles.

PYROTE
A Concentrated Rotenone-
Pyrethrum Insect Spray
No insecticide required, for use on Flowers, Plants, Fruits, and Vegetables. Ask your dealer or write for descriptive folder.

MECHLING'S
BROS. CHEMICALS
CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY.

FOR CRACKED SKIN
CHAFING, IRRITATION
USE
CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

Yes, 10 years old!
Would you give your lips a rare treat . . . your guests a truly distinctive whiskey? Then give them Ancient Age. This whiskey is 10 years old—90 proof. It wears the Mark of Merit.

SCHENLEY'S ANCIENT AGE
STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY
(Distilled in Canada)

Former Suitor Calls

MRS. OPAL GONZALEZ.

EX-SUITOR SHOT, BRIDE ARRESTED

Tried To Take Me Away From My Husband,' She Tells Police.

An attractive blonde—a bride of less than a year—was free under bond yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct in connection with shooting and seriously wounding a former suitor, who, she told police, "tried to take me away from my husband."

The woman, 22-year-old Mrs. Opal Gonzalez, and her husband, Bennie Gonzalez, were arrested shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning after a man listed as Henry Lancaster was shot in the left shoulder following a scuffle in the Gonzalez apartment on Parkway drive.

The case was set for a hearing Friday morning because physicians at Grady hospital refused to allow Lancaster's appearance in court.

Mrs. Gonzalez told police she and her husband returned from a picture show about midnight. She said a telephone call was received from Lancaster who said he would like to visit them.

Lancaster arrived a short time later, Mrs. Gonzalez said. He told them he had a new car and asked her to go for a ride, she said. Her husband intervened and Mrs. Gonzalez quoted Lancaster as saying:

"I'll tell you to your face, I'm going to take her with me. I love her more than you do."

Heated words followed and the two men grappled. Mrs. Gonzalez said she grabbed Lancaster's sweater and ripped it off, but failing to halt the struggle, drew a pistol from under a pillow on the settee and fired four times. Three shots went wild.

Lancaster fled out the front door, after failing to climb through a window, Mrs. Gonzalez said. The man was found later in the office of a physician where he was having his wound treated, and taken by police to Grady where he was placed under guard.

BRUCE ABSOLVED IN STORE ROBBERY

Figured in Davison-Paxon
Holdup But Not in Rich's, Officer Says.

Atlanta detectives yesterday absolved Ray Bruce, suspected mail robber, of participation in the robbery of $10,000 from employees of Rich's, Inc., early last fall, but declared they were certain he was implicated in the $30,000 holdup of messengers of the Davison-Paxon Company later in the same year.

Bruce, captured Saturday at Ellaville, Ga., was taken to Louisville, Ky., Sunday to await trial with his brother, Floyd, in the slaying of a post office messenger during a $25,000 holdup at Guthrie, Ky., January 5, 1938.

Detective M. M. Coppenger, who with Detective Leo Nahlik returned yesterday from Louisville, said yesterday he was sure the notorious mail bandit had nothing to do with the robbery of two Rich employees in the basement of the store.

Newton, given the check more than 32 years ago upon his honorable discharge from the marines, found it while looking over some old papers.

Check Written in 1907
Cashied Without Trouble
TULON, Ill., March 28.—(AP) The check was for 70 cents and was dated January 2, 1907, but V. S. Newton didn't have any trouble cashing it at the State Bank of Toulon. Uncle Sam signed the check.

Newton, given the check more than 32 years ago upon his honorable discharge from the marines, found it while looking over some old papers.

MACHADO OPERATION.
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—Gerardo Machado, exiled former President of Cuba, will undergo an operation tomorrow for the removal of a tumor. General Machado, who is 67 years old, has been under observation at a hospital since Sunday and Dr. Jose Navarro, his physician, reported today his general condition was good.

Razor Blade Diet Okay
But Shrimp Too Much
NEWARK, N. J., March 27.—(UP)—Thomas McQuire swore off shrimp today but said he saw no reason to discontinue the remainder of his diet, which X-ray photographs showed was unusual. X-ray photos of his innards showed a pocket knife, a safety razor blade, a key ring, a three-inch nail, a needle and other small hardware and cutlery. The patient said he had been eating such stuff since he was a small boy. He still thinks it was the shrimp dinner which caused his severe stomach ache.

AUTO THEFTS CHARGED TO 3 GRIFFIN YOUTHS
Three Griffin youths, all under 21, were held for the Newnan division of the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner David J. Meyerhardt, on charges of violating the national motor vehicle theft act. Bond was set at $500 each. The prisoners were Wesley Norman Hand, 20; William Jackson Love, 19, and Ralph French Connell, 20. All except Connell have criminal records, police said. The three were arrested in Griffin after they had hopped to Spartanburg, S. C., and returned with a stolen sedan, police said. On March 20, they drove the car to a point near Macon, stuffed it with paper and burned it, the officers reported.

Dr. C. A. Constantine
DENTIST
68 Peachtree 2nd Floor, at Auburn

The Picture Has Changed

Whether you are a salaried man or woman—whether you operate a small business or head a large corporation—whether your financial problems are purely personal or of a complex business nature—the facilities and services of this national bank are sufficiently broad to give you complete personal and adequate service.

We will consider it a privilege to discuss your problems with you—and invite you to come by the nearest Fulton office at your convenience.

This has been our policy since this bank was first established—the picture has only changed in that we have opened new offices to keep pace with a growing community.

Officers

Ryburn G. Clay
President
Frank W. Blalock
Exec. Vice-President
W. V. Crowley
Vice-President
Erle Cocke
Vice-President
Garnett C. Evans
Vice-President & Cashier
W. Ralph DeLoach
Assistant Cashier
Clifford L. Longino
Assistant Cashier
Carl M. Floyd
Assistant Cashier
Louis A. Phillips
Assistant Cashier
William Matthews
Trust Officer
Edward S. Gay
Assistant Trust Officer
Hirsch & Smith
Counsel

—but the Spirit is the Same

TWENTY-FIVE years have brought a change to Atlanta that has been equaled by few American cities. Crowded into those years has been a record of progress and growth that has made Atlanta the focal point of the South and one of the important cities of the nation.

This phenomenal growth of Atlanta has been paced by the growth of Fulton friendly service. Twenty-five years ago a single office in the heart of Atlanta provided ample service for Fulton customers. As the need grew, new offices were added. Today Fulton's complete facilities are available in five offices, conveniently located in every section of the growing city.

The picture has changed—for Atlanta and Fulton. But growth and progress have brought no change in the Fulton spirit. Known then for friendly service, that ideal still governs Fulton's enlarged facilities. In growing large we have not lost the personal interest and friendliness that makes your banking here a pleasure.

Many men and women, particularly salaried people and those operating small businesses, hardly realize the wide scope of service that awaits them at the Fulton National Bank.

Small long-time or monthly repayment loans—special small checking accounts requiring no minimum balance, to mention just a few available.

This bank, over a span of 25 years, has grown steadily through helpful service to people whose banking needs were small—the picture has not changed.

We have plenty of time for the little boy who wants to save 20c a week and plenty of time for the business executive whose requirements are large and complex.

Directors

Harry B. Baylor
F. W. Blalock
Melvin Bodenheimer
B. L. Bugg
Herbert E. Choate
R. G. Clay
R. L. Cooney
W. V. Crowley
Garnett C. Evans
W. B. Haley
Clarence Haverly
Wm. T. Healey
Bolling H. Jones, Jr.
Thos. C. Law
Calhoun McDougall
J. R. Mobley
Wiley L. Moore
Frank G. North
Chas. S. Reid
Hugh Richardson, Jr.
Edward D. Smith
Marion Smith
I. E. Skaggs
Simon S. Selig
F. O. Stone

FULTON NATIONAL Bank

COMPLETE SERVICE
AT FIVE OFFICES IN METROPOLITAN ATLANTA

MARIETTA STREET
CANDLER BUILDING
BUCKHEAD-DECATUR
PETERS STREET

MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Crackers Trounce Waycross, 14 to 1; Battle Smokies Today

Now, no one would expect Babe Ruth to come out of retirement and hit a flock of home runs against expert pitching. And the reason would be that the Babe long since has retired from competition and consequently has frowned, more or less, on conditioning. He has grown a bit soft in a competitive sense.

The Babe might even now step out and hit a few, but he wouldn't, conceivably, worry such sluggers as Hank Greenberg, Rudy York, Jimmie Foxx and others.

In large sense, the same line of reasoning applies to Bob Jones in the Masters tournament at Augusta. It is granted that his game is sound. He still has the strokes. But nine years out of active competition means the same thing in Jones' case as it does in Ruth's. There is not the same old zest for competition, and if Ruth wouldn't worry sluggers such as Greenberg, York, Foxx and others, why should Bob Jones worry golfers such as Ralph Guldahl, Dick Metz, Henry Picard, Byron Nelson, Horton Smith, and so on?

There is a reason for mentioning this. And the reason is that lots of folks cling to tradition. The name of Bob Jones is magic in golf, and the passing years fail to dim it.

Even writers there are today who dream of Bob Jones setting on 68 and coming to the last whole needing only a par to win.

There apparently is no way to curb the sentiment and it is, in a way, a wonderful testimonial to Bob Jones' greatness. But it seems to be asking too much.

Suppose, of a sudden, folks generally should take it for granted that he really has no chance, any more, to beat the top-notch professionals in competition.

That might make a big difference. As said, Bob Jones has the strokes. He frequently trims par in friendly rounds. And if that pressure of feeling that people expect too much of him were removed once, it might mean that the pars would come again.

It seems logical to think that if he could regard the Masters more in a spirit of fun, he could play a normal game which, incidentally, would land him among the leaders. Four rounds of 72 would give him a scoring total of 288, equaling par.

Even that is asking a lot because even if Jones could play in a spirit of fun there still would be the pressure at times. If he started out at par it might build up.

The presence of Bob Jones in the Masters is enough. The big names who depend on golf for a livelihood supply the competitive show, which may well be described as the greatest golfing show on earth.

For, in addition to golf's greatest performers of the present, there is golf's greatest performer of the past. You can't beat it for sheer spectacle.

GOLF WAS AN OFFENSE ONCE.

The Scottish people began to show great interest in a new sport called "golf" around 1457. And they took to it in such numbers that the ruler of Scotland became alarmed. It was becoming a menace to archery, which was a compulsory national sport.

And so the King must have passed the word on to parliament, because "golf" was ruled against. That didn't keep people from playing the game, however. And it wasn't until 1491 that parliament let the people know it wasn't fooling.

In that year, parliament not only forbade the game but fixed a fine and imprisonment for players and also persons on whose property the forbidden game was played.

And so it seems that the game owes its early start to King James IV of Scotland, who was bitten by the golf bug apparently while practicing in secret in the royal boudoir.

Actually, the game challenged the King and he figured that if he could rule his subjects he certainly could control a feather-stuffed leather pellet. That was where he made his first mistake. It is not known today what par was for the course, but it is rather definitely established that the King never equaled it.

Anyway, when it became known the King was playing, the national ban against the game became a public joke, and golf went on from there. And archery had to shift for itself.

DOING ALL RIGHT TODAY.

Golf, which is noted by historians as just another descendant of field hockey, has enjoyed a most healthy growth in the United States.

Today, statistics show, there are about 6,000 golf courses, private and public, and approximately 3,500,000 players. As a matter of fact, the entire world has only 8,800 courses and around 5,000,000 players; hence this country has about 70 per cent of all the courses and, perhaps, two-thirds of all the performers.

These figures mean more when one considers that over one course, the Augusta National, the cream of the nation's golfers, pro and amateur, will play from Thursday through Sunday.

Continued on Second Sports Page.

HERE ARE PAST WINNERS—WHO'LL TRY TO REPEAT—in MASTERS TOURNEY AT AUGUSTA

A great field of golfing talent will begin play Thursday at Augusta in the sixth annual Masters tournament. Shown above are past winners. They are, left to right,

Horton Smith, who won in 1934 and 1936; Gene Sarazen, the 1935 winner; Byron Nelson, winner in 1937, and Henry Picard, the defending champion. Smith is, of course, the only two-time winner. They'll all be out to repeat in the four-day event over the Augusta National. Officials expect a record-breaking southern crowd on Sunday.

BOB JONES HAS 74 IN PRACTICE

Putts Won't Drop for Golf King; Lawson Little Fires 68.

By KENNETH GREGORY.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 28.—(P) A tournament that often has been referred to as the "World Series" of golf attracted today the cast of an all-star show that will compete, along with Robert Tyree Jones Jr., for the laurels, applause and cash that accompanies the run-off of the Augusta national classic.

Two days before the start of the 72-hole skirmish of strokes over one of the most unique and beautiful courses ever designed, indications pointed to a field of around 50 golfers, all of whom were invited to participate because of some particular feat.

Some refer to the blue-ribbon event as a "tournament of champions." It is close to that, for, in the field along with Jones, who retired from competition except for this annual show following his "grand slam" of 1930, were Charlie Yates, of Atlanta, British amateur king; Ralph Guldahl, the national open titleholder for the last two years; Willie Turnesa, the U. S. amateur champion, and Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., the P. G. A. titleholder.

CELEBRATED NAMES.

In addition to those celebrated names the starting field will include such familiar golfing characters as Lawson Little, of Bretton Woods, N. H., former American and British amateur champion, all the winners of the Augusta national for the past five years, and other former major champions, including Gene Sarazen and Billy Burke.

Jones, who helped design the Augusta national course along with the late Dr. Alister MacKenzie to provide a tournament layout that does not severely penalize the mistakes of an average golfer, but one that will definitely reward skillful play, did himself a practice 74 this afternoon, going two over par principally because putts wouldn't drop.

The retired champion played with Little, Byron Nelson, of Reading, Pa., who won here in 1937, and Dick Metz, of Chicago, leading money winner of the winter golf league.

LITTLE HAS 68.

Little took that scoring laurel in the practice journey, knocking off a neat 68 that included birdies on two of the last four holes, and Nelson, second on the winter earnings list, got around in 69 shots. Metz equaled the course's 72 par.

Walter Hagen, recently named captain of the Ryder cup forces for the second straight year and one of the leading players of all time, was out tuning up, but didn't report his score.

Naturally, when the field moves off for the first of four 18-hole rounds Thursday morning, the big part of the gallery will take to Bob Jones, whose best total for the 72-hole distance was a 294 in the inaugural tournament in 1934 when he finished in tie for 13th position with Hagen and Denny Shute, of Coral Gables, Fla., former P. G. A. champion.

Inclement weather—lots of rain, cold—and both at times—have hit Augusta for the last five tournaments. Today the weather was perfect, and the prediction is for a fair week end.

Georgia Nine Loses To Michigan State

Bulldogs' Two-Run Rally in Ninth Falls Short as Spartans Even Series, 5-4.

By EDWARD M. MILLISAP.

ATHENS, Ga., March 28.—Michigan State's diamond squad tasted the sweetness of revenge this afternoon as they evened the score with the Georgia Bulldogs by winning the second of a two-game series, 5 to 4, in spite of a threatening Bulldog rally in the ninth stanza.

Yesterday's game ended with the Bulldogs eking out a scant 3-to-2 victory made possible by a tenth-inning run.

MOST OF EACH HIT.

The Spartans' victory today was probably due mostly to their ability to make the most of each hit. They were able to account for but seven hits off the Red and Black pitchers, Alex McCaskill and Bob Smith, while the Georgians chalked up eight clean blows.

McCaskill had given up only three hits when he was replaced in the sixth frame by Smith, who held the Michigans scoreless the rest of the way.

Georgia's first run came in the fifth when Billy Mims brought in little Joe Gerson with a single and then in the sixth Gerson returned the compliment by scoring Spook Newsom on a two-bagger.

BIG RALLY SHORT.

The Bulldogs staged a spectacular rally in the last half of the ninth inning which threatened for a while to overcome the 5-to-2 advantage held by the Spartans, but were retired one run short. After the Michigans had called in a reserve pitcher.

THE BOX SCORE.

Georgia	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Gerson, cf	3	1	2	0	0	0
Stallings, 3b	3	0	2	0	0	0
Kelly, 2b	3	0	2	0	0	0
Kilian, if	4	1	2	0	0	0
Wahlstrom, c	3	1	2	0	0	0
Thomas, c	4	0	1	3	0	0
Skipworth, 1b	3	1	0	1	4	0
Newsom, ss	3	1	0	0	0	0
McCaskill, p	2	0	0	0	0	0
Smith, p	3	0	0	0	0	0
Owen, 2b	0	0	0	0	0	0
Wick, c	0	0	0	0	0	0
Klewicki, 3b	0	0	0	0	0	0
Stark, c	0	0	0	0	0	0
Libbers, p	3	1	0	1	2	1
Delaponte, p	3	1	0	1	2	1
Totals	37	4	8	27	18	2

MICH. STATE—ab. r. h. po. a. e.

McLean, ss	2	0	0	1	0	0
Diebold, rf	2	0	0	1	0	0
Levangio, cf	3	0	0	0	0	0
Nuznov, 1b	4	1	1	1	0	0
Owen, 2b	0	0	0	0	0	0
Klewicki, 3b	2	0	0	0	0	0
Stark, c	2	0	0	0	0	0
Libbers, p	3	1	0	1	2	1
Delaponte, p	3	1	0	1	2	1
Totals	32	5	7	27	12	6

xBatted for Skipworth in ninth.

xxBatted for Newsom in ninth.

xxBatted for Lyons in ninth.

Score by innings: 100 220 000-5

Michigan State 000 011 002-4

Georgia

Two-base hits, Newsom, Gerson and Stark; three-base hit, Duncan; home run, Nuznov; runs batted in, Nuznov 2, Thomas 2, Diebold, Mims and Gerson; double plays, Stallings to Kelly to Skipworth; Klewicki to Nuznov to Klewicki; Klewicki to Owen; sacrifice hits, Diebold 2; stolen bases, Kelly, Thomas, Duncan and Diebold; left on bases, Georgia 13, Michigan State 2; base on balls, off Libbers 6, McCaskill 2; struck out, by Libbers 6, Smith 3; hit by pitcher, by Delaponte 1; Lyons; hits, off McCaskill 3 in 5 innings with 5 runs, Libbers 7 in 8 and 2-3 innings with 2 runs; winning pitcher, Libbers; losing pitcher, McCaskill; Umpires, Edwards and Knowles. Time of game, 2 hours, 10 minutes.

T. M. Dorsett, Derby Nominee, Taken Ill

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—(P) Joe W. Brown, who has maintained one of the largest stables at the Fair Grounds this season, was concerned today over the condition of his Kentucky Derby nominee, T. M. Dorsett, ill from toxic poisoning and laryngitis.

WARREN BEATS PETRELS, 8 TO 4

Geracie Homers for Oglethorpe; Mize, Donehoo Best for Winners.

Bunched hits in the second and sixth innings enabled Warren's baseball team to open its season with an 8-to-4 victory over Oglethorpe's Petrels Tuesday afternoon at Hernando field.

Warren's players, after only a few practices, unlimbered their bats in the second inning for three hits and three runs and came back strong again in the sixth inning with four hits and three runs, added to a couple of others in the first and fourth innings.

John Barnett pitched four innings for the Petrels and worked well except the first two innings, when woefully support and five timely hits sent four runners across the plate.

Worthington replaced Barnett and pitched fine ball except for the sixth inning.

Sewell worked three innings for Warren and gave up four hits and three runs, all in the second inning. Lefty Eldson did not give up a hit in the three innings he worked, while Lefty Rucker gave up four hits and one run in the final two frames.

Fine fielding at opportune times, with three double plays cutting off possible rallies, was the defensive feature for Oglethorpe. Henry Geracie hit a home run in the second with a mate aboard for Oglethorpe, while Ralph King and Barnett added triples to the Petrels' cause.

Mize's triple and two singles and Donehoo's three singles were the outstanding offensive features for Warren.

WARREN	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Mize, 3b	3	3	1	0	0	0
Hill, cf	3	0	2	0	0	0
Confer, 2b	3	0	0	0	0	0
Donehoo, rf	4	1	0	0	0	0
Confer, 2b	3	1	1	0	0	0
Forester, 1b	1	0	0	0	0	0
Forester, 1b	4	1	0	0	0	0
Sevell, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Eldson, p	2	0	0	0	0	0
Rucker, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	11	24	6	30	8

xxBatted for Eldson in ninth.

xxBatted for Rucker in ninth.

Score by innings: 100 220 000-8

Warren 000 000 000-8

Oglethorpe

Runs, Mize, Rothstein, Donehoo 2, Forester 2, Confer, Ford, R. King, Decker, 2; errors, Ford, Melton, Decker 2, Confer, runs batted in, Hill, Mize 2, Ford 2, Geracie 2, Barnett, Decker 2; base on balls, off Forester 2, two-base hits, Confer, Forester, Rothstein, three-base hits, Mize, R. King, Geracie, sacrifice, Hill, double plays, Melton to Eldson, Eldson to Rucker, Rucker to Melton to Geracie; left on bases, Warren 3, Oglethorpe 6; base on balls, off Worthington 1, Eldson 3, Rucker 1; struck out, by Barnett 4, Worthington 3, Eldson 4 in 3 innings 3 runs, off Eldson none in 3 innings no run; winning pitcher, Sewell; losing pitcher, Barnett.

Georgia Tech Golfers

Beat Hampton-Sidney

Georgia Tech's golf team defeated Hampton-Sidney yesterday afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club, 12-1-2 to 5-1-2.

Gene Brooks turned in the lowest card of the day, a 76.

Results: Lefty T. won 2 and lost 1 to Fulton. Barnes (H-S) won three from Thompson.

The foursomes split, 1½ to 1½.

Howell (T) won three from Engel. Brooks (T) won three from Dunlop.

Tech foursome won three points.

BULLDOG TEAM ON GOLFING TOUR

Georgians To Meet Tarheels, Gamecocks, Davidson, Hampden-Sydney.

ATHENS, Ga., March 28.—Eight certain matches and two others that are in the tentative stage, were announced this week for the University of Georgia's golf team by Coach Bob Keener.

The Bulldogs opened the season Monday afternoon with a victory over Hampden-Sydney and are scheduled to leave late this week for a tour of South and North Carolina, going as far north as Virginia. Four matches will be played on the week-long tour.

In addition to the dual matches, Georgia will enter two tournaments, the Southern Intercollegiate to be held here April 13, 14 and 15 and the Southeastern conference meet in Baton Rouge, La., April 27, 28, 29.

Byron Bower, a veteran member of the golf team, is captain of the Bulldogs linksmen this year. He is from Bainbridge, Ga. Others on the team include Sonny Swift, of Columbus, and Calhoun Bowen.

THE SCHEDULE.

Monday, April 3—South Carolina in Columbia, S. C.

Tuesday, April 4—North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Wednesday, April 5—Hampden-Sydney at Hampden-Sydney, Va.

Thursday, April 6—Georgia Tech. in Davidson, N. C.

Monday, April 10—L. S. U. in Athens (tentative).

Tuesday, April 11—University of Michigan in Athens.

Wednesday, April 12—The Citadel in Athens.

Thursday, April 13, 14, 15—Southern Intercollegiate golf tournament in Athens.

April 27, 28, 29—Southeastern conference meet in Baton Rouge, La.

Saturday, May 6—Georgia Tech. in Atlanta.

Atlanta, May 12—Georgia Tech. in Atlanta.

TETER AND SHOW TO APPEAR HERE

Lucky Teter, the world's champion daredevil, and his Helel Drivers will make their annual appearance in Atlanta Sunday afternoon, appearing at Lakewood park, where they will present their 1939 routine of smashing, crashing, stunting and racing stock model automobiles and motorcycles.

Many new thrillers, conceived and perfected since their engagement here last year, will be unveiled in the thrill show, which will find Lucky staging all of his celebrated stunts of the past, such as the crash-roll, the car jump and the blazing timber barrier crash, besides the recent additions to his stunt repertoire.

Members of his strong, star-studded supporting cast of daredevils will contribute many feats during the program, which will embrace 28 events. Included among the stunts they will attempt are many never before presented here.

Since its last appearance here, the Teter aggregation has continued to grow, both in personnel and in equipment. More than 20 Hell Drivers will support the colorful Lucky here, and more than 25 units of stunting equipment, all of it stock model, will be pressed into service during the thrill show.

Capital City Women Hold Tourney Today

Capital City's women golfers clash today in the first weekly tournament of the season. Starting April 9 and continuing through April 15 Capital City golfers will qualify for the spring handicap tournament for women.

Miller, Smoll Pitch As Crackers Win

Johnston, Stewart Slated To Face Smokies Today; Williams Gets 3 Hits.

By THAD HOLT.

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 28.—The Crackers cut loose with some effective hitting in the clutches here this afternoon to humble Waycross, Georgia-Florida League club, 14-1. It was Atlanta's seventh win in as many spring starts.

Waycross, returning to organized baseball after an absence of 12 years, turned out more than a thousand strong to see its team attempt to show up the Southern League champions, but the Crackers turned in their usual classy performance, featuring flawless fielding, steady pitching and sensational base running.

The Waycross players were calling for the ball three bases ahead of the runner. In other words, when a Cracker was on first and a team-mate hit to the outfield, the Bears yelped frantically at home plate for the relays. And most of the time they were a second or two late even then.

That is why Paul Richards' pack of greyhounds was able to score 14 times on 18 hits without the aid of so much as one home run or a triple. Incidentally, there will be few circuit drives in this park. None out of it. The shortest fence is 500 feet from home plate. Lester Burge drove a tremendous wallop into right field, but Garlis, already playing 350 feet away, merely had to run back a few steps to gather it in. No Southern league park could have held that drive.

Larry Miller had more speed today than he has shown during his career as a Cracker. He was a bit wild and at times had trouble hitting Williams' big mitt, but his fast ball was cutting up. And his curve and fork ball had the Bears completely befuddled. Larry allowed three hits, one a triple, in five innings, and gave up one run. He struck out six of the Waycross batters.

Lefty Clyde Smoll was nicked for seven hits in the remaining four frames, but turned in a cool bit of chunking in the pinches to keep the locals away from home plate. Thurman McPherson, young left-hander up from Rollins College, southpawed the Crackers into submission for three innings, allowing three hits and no runs.

BREAK LOOSE.

Cracker artillery broke loose in the wild fourth, however, and the ex-collegian didn't get them out until eight runs had crossed home platter. Dewey Williams, batting leader of the Crackers today with three for five, led off the explosive fourth with a single to left and rolling lined one into right sending Dewey to third. When Rubeling beat out a roller to deep short Williams breezed home. McPherson hit Peters with a pitch and the bases were full. Larry Miller sent a high one over first base that fell safely for a hit, Bolling went home.

Johnny Rucker slashed a one-timer into right, scoring Rubeling and Peters. And still they weren't through. Alf Anderson clouted his second double of the game into center and McPherson and Rucker trotted across. After Mailho walked and stole second, Williams' drive to center field was misjudged and fell for a double, punching Anderson home, but Mailho was out at the plate.

Waycross scored its lone marker on Wesson's single with two out in the fifth. The Crackers jumped on Bray, McPherson's successor, for three runs in the sixth on a double by Burge and hits by Richards and Williams.

THREE IN EIGHTH.

They came back against Lee, a young fireballer, to tally three more in the eighth. Paul Richards, who hit safely on both trips to the plate, drove a single to left and Rubeling was hit by the pitcher. Continued on Second Sports Page.

THE BOX SCORE

Rucker, cf	3	1	2	1	0	0
Gettling, cf	3	0	2	1	0	0
Anderson, 2b	6	1	2	1	0	0
Mailho, cf	2	1	0	0	0	0
Burge, rf	5	1	0	0	0	0
Williams, c	5	3	3	9	1	0
Richards, 1b	2	1	2	7	0	0
Boiling, 1b	3	1	2	4	0	0
Rubeling, 3b-ss	4	2	1	2	2	0
Peters, ss	2	1	0	0	1	0
McMaul, 3b	1	1	1	0	0	0
Miller, p	3	1	2	0	1	0
McHarris, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Smolt, p	0	0	0	0	1	0
dLockbaum, lf	2	0	0	0	0	0
Green, c	1	0	0	1	0	0

Berlin Warns Poland in Fated Words

Foreign Office Serves Notice To Respect Germany's Minority or Face Threat To Nation.

BERLIN, March 28.—(UP)—The German foreign office tonight semi-officially served a blunt warning on Poland that unless the "vital rights" of the German minority there are respected developments may be "harmful to the Polish nation itself."

The warning, giving formal status to Nazi pressure against Poland in what some quarters regarded as a prelude to possible demands regarding Danzig and the Polish corridor, was made by the foreign office organ "Diplomatische Politikal Korrespondenz."

It followed Nazi accusations of the "deplorable mistreatment" of German men and women in the Bromberg section of the Polish corridor and an announcement in Warsaw that "baby bonds" would be floated among the people to raise $228,000,000 for air force and anti-aircraft expansion.

The foreign office organ, using phrases that were familiar in the Nazi campaigns preceding Germany's absorption of Austria, the Sudetenland and Czech-Slovakia, said the "anti-German acts" in Poland must be regarded as deplorable despite the Reich's desire to live in peace with the Poles.

"It is a clericalistic policy," it charged, "if they believe in certain Polish cities that it is quite in order to persecute Germans or persecute them, which can mean nothing more than a profession of faith in the spirit of the Versailles treaty."

Versailles sliced a strip from Germany and gave it to Poland,

ROOSEVELT TRIPS CREDITED WITH 11 BILLION BUSINESS GAIN

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—Representative Barton, Republican, New York, estimated in a statement today that business had made a net gain of $11,322,000,000 because President Roosevelt had taken so many trips.

He said he arrived at that amount by checking stock market changes during the 47 times the President has been absent from Washington since he took office.

A trip which Mr. Roosevelt starts tomorrow to Warm Springs, Ga., will be number 48, Barton said.

Taking averages of 90 representative stocks listed on the New York Exchange, he said an average gain or loss of 1 point meant about $340,000,000. He added:

"Multiplying this out we discover that—

"The 27 absences of the President, represented by five Florida fishing trips and 22 Hyde Park trips, netted a gain of 42.6 points, thus isolating German East Prussia from the Reich.

HITLER'S ENVOY CALLS ON BECK

WARSAW, March 28.—(AP)—The German ambassador, Hans von Moltke, called on Foreign Minister Joseph Beck tonight and, amid Polish anxiety over German expansion on the Baltic, held a conversation later described as "conciliatory."

Chancellor Hitler's envoy was reliably said to have assured Beck that reports that Germany had demands to make on Poland were "absurd."

BRITAIN CONTINUING BLOC NEGOTIATIONS.

LONDON, March 28.—(AP)—The or $14,484,000,000.

"The 30 speaking trips netted a loss of 9.3 points or $3,162,000,000.

"Making a net gain by having the President away from Washington of $11,322,000,000."

On most of the Florida trips, he said, the President left Washington with a reassuring comment, and business men went cheerfully to work, making plans, placing orders and hiring more help.

"But, alas," he said, "the rest and recuperation on the boat have served only to fill the President's fertile mind with a new crop of experiments. Back he has come with a fresh supply of 'must' legislation to throw things into confusion again."

"Tragic as it may sound," Barton added, "it seems none the less clear from the figures I have cited, that when the President goes away and lets the country alone the people are better off."

house of commons cheered today government announcements that Britain was "actively continuing" negotiations for an anti-aggression front and that "political developments made further progress impossible" in trade talks with Germany.

British diplomats, meanwhile, were reported to be seeking definite military alliances designed to halt the expansion of Nazi Germany; the government planned loans and subsidies to fit the merchant marine for possible use in wartime; an increase in the British territorial army was being considered, an "General Viscount Gort, chief of the army general staff, went to France for military conferences and inspections.

HUNGARY DELIVERS STERN ULTIMATUM

Budapest Requisitions Autos and Supplies as New Fighting Breaks Out.

BUDAPEST, March 28.—(AP)—Hungary called more men to the colors and requisitioned automobiles and other supplies today after Hungarian-Slovak boundary fighting was resumed along the disputed frontier between Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukraine, acquired a fortnight ago by Hungary.

Slovak negotiators left Budapest without reaching an agreement. They took back to Bratislava, their capital, a Hungarian "solution" of the problem which, informed sources said, was presented to the Slovaks virtually as an ultimatum.

Diplomatic circles believed the Bratislava government would be given a few days to consider the proposal, but as reports of continued fighting reached this capital, an immediate push was considered possible.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, of Germany, arrived in Budapest today. Dr. Goebbels planned conferences with Regent Admiral Nicholas von Horthy and Premier Count Paul Teleky.

PWA WORKERS STRIKE.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—The number of Public Works Administration projects here halted by strikes reached a total of eight today as workmen left two new jobs.

FOUR ARE INDICTED IN BOYS' FARM QUIZ

Colonel Nash and Three Employees Charged With Various Offenses.

Colonel J. Q. Nash, former superintendent of the Fulton County Industrial Farm for white boys, Hapeville, and three former employees yesterday were indicted on a series of charges in connection with operation of the institution.

A four-count indictment complained that Nash had used cruelty in disciplining inmates.

Jimmie Maddox, former assistant night watchman and office boy, was charged with two counts of cruelty, and C. F. Dunn, J. A. McCubbins Jr., and Chester W. Perryman, all former guards, and Maddox were charged with 17 statutory offenses.

The Fulton county grand jury returned the indictments late yesterday and its action was construed to mean that its probe of the institution has been completed, but that the matter may be treated specially in presentations which will come at the conclusion of its service.

FRAUD CHARGED TO 30 IN SALE OF OIL STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—Thirty persons were named today in a federal indictment charging conspiracy and use of the mails to defraud in connection with sales of oil royalties securities.

The defendants included Charles G. Hoffman, a justice of the peace, of Maplewood, N. J., two lawyers, an army reserve officer, a dentist and a certified public accountant, as well as three corporations. The indictment charged investors were defrauded to the extent of $330,000.

Maharaja Weds American Girl, A Former Railroad Stewardess

Ruler of Indore Follows in Steps of Father, Who Married Nancy Miller.

INDORE, India, March 28.—(AP) The wealthy, Oxford-educated young Maharaja Yeshwant, of Indore, surprised his subjects today by announcing he had followed in the footsteps of his abdicated father and married an American girl.

He told an assemblage which included nobles and officials he had decided on the marriage to give himself "the mental peace" necessary for the proper discharge of "my duties as a ruler" over the 1,325,000 inhabitants of his central Indian state.

The 30-year-old ruler, son of the former Maharaja Tokoji Rao Holkar, whose marriage to the American Nancy Miller in 1928 caused a sensation, said the wedding had taken place recently in Europe.

The bride's name was said by the government publicity director to have been "Miss Branyan" and earlier her name was given as Marguerite Lawler. She and the Maharaja were understood to have met in California about two years ago.

(It was believed that the bride was Marguerite Lawler, 30-year-old nurse who attended the Maharaja when he visited California a few years ago. She was born at Fargo, N. D., and was one of seven original Union Pacific railroad nurse stewardesses who lived at Los Angeles and Omaha. She formerly was married to John Paul Branyan, of Los Angeles.)

Announcement of the marriage was received with less orthodox opposition than was expected, since the Maharaja is the descendant of a shepherd and therefore not of a high cast Hindu dynasty. Maharaja Yeshwant visited Los Angeles a few years ago with his first wife, the daughter of the junior chief of Kagal, in 1936. She died in 1937.

MAHARAJA OF INDORE.

A scandal over the father's alleged attempt to kidnap his discarded Nauch girl favorite, Mumtaz Begum, from a rich merchant named Bawla, led to abdication of the former Maharaja. Under the eastern code even a discarded dancing girl was too good for a merchant. Bawla was killed in the kidnap attempt.

(When the former Maharaja abdicated he was given an annual allowance of $200,000 and each of the two wives he then had before his marriage to Miss Miller was granted $72,000. The eldest of these wives—the Senior Maharanees, is the mother of the present ruler.)

CEASE ORDER LIFTED AGAINST FIDELITY.

Investment Association Free To Resume Operations In Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—The Fidelity Investment Association, of Wheeling, W. Va., was free today to resume business operations in the state with the approval of Insurance Commissioner James McCormack.

The commissioner yesterday lifted a cease order against the company preventing it from collecting premiums from policyholders in Tennessee.

The association has deposited acceptable securities to cover the full amount of its reserves in Tennessee, McCormack reported, and has complied with insurance legislation of the 1939 legislature.

Further, the association has agreed to invest its Tennessee reserves in approved types of securities, to eliminate all practices criticized by the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington and to qualify all salesmen selling types of contracts with insurance features under the state's insurance code.

The state Insurance and Banking Department ordered the association to cease business operations here in December, 1938, in line with an investigation order from the SEC.

NOW SPRING GARDEN GLOVES

(Wrapped in Cellophane)

75¢

GLOVES THAT ARE ALL LEATHER

Durable, Yet Soft as Kid. Easy to Wear.

For Men and Women

EZEY Wear

GARDEN GLOVES

Sizes 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

Easy Wear Gloves—featuring at Garden Club Shows everywhere—give you everything you've been looking for in a garden glove: all-leather protection from dirt, scratches, stains, infections, yet almost as soft as silk. EZEY Wear's amazing softness and pliability is the result of a special processing of selected lamb skins. Economical, too—outwear six pairs of ordinary fabric gloves, are washable, and can be used the year round for housework, gardening, handling, furnace, etc. We carry all sizes of this famous washable glove—size 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. For working gloves we suggest one size larger than is usually worn. The price is the per pair, postpaid. Money-back guarantee.

Hastings

SEEDS

Mitchell at Broad. WA. 9464

TODAY IS POST DAY

"My boy friends... SWING-CRAZED HOODLUMS?"

"WHY, DADDY! How ridiculous! We drove your car straight home from the hospital, and you can settle the damage later, and suppose the intern was a little oiled and clanged his bell—... Here's a Booth Tarkington story that smilingly slips a fast one across the family dinner plate. Parents—and 1939 youngsters—please note!

Now, Ripley, Please! by BOOTH TARKINGTON

They developed a supersensitive CANDID-CAMERA ROMANCE

It was love at first sight—the perfect mating of a Rocoflex f.2.8 and a Statzer f.3.5. She snapped him. He snapped her. Then she snapped him snapping her. It made a beautiful picture—until a photographer's model stepped in. A short story.

Photo Finish by DOUG WELCH

ODDEST GUY IN BASEBALL

He slumped with a good team—but won 20 games last year for the 7th-place Browns! His fast ball makes sluggers look silly—so when the catcher signals for it, he likes to throw a curve! Eccentric? Let sportswriter Bob Considine tell you about the rabbits in his hotel room! And the crafty way he wangles jobs with rival managers! And why he says—

THEY NEED ME SOMETHING TERRIBLE

Meet "Henny Penny"

The farmer who runs the U.S. Treasury

DO YOU KNOW the happenings behind these headlines?

F. D. R. DEVALUATES DOLLAR TO 59 CENTS

TREASURY TO FLOAT $941,000,000 BOND ISSUE

U. S. LENDS CHIANG KAI-SHEK $25,000,000

Behind such news stands the tall, nervous gentleman-farmer Mr. Roosevelt calls "Henny Penny." Closer to F. D. R. than any man but Hopkins, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., worships his chief, likes to tell associates, "Gad, I had him laughing today." What's Morgenthau like? How does he handle his job? Why do New Deal advisers hate him? In the Post this week, two noted Washington correspondents turn their spotlight on the nation's money master.

First of Three Articles by JOSEPH ALSOP and ROBERT KINTNER

HOUD vs. BEAR

The Strange Story of a Feud between Two Animals

Get a kick out of animal stories? Here's a yarn by an author famous for them. He tells you about old Spadefoot, 500 pounds of fighting black bear. And Musketeer, the best bear dog in the Black Mountains. And what happened when they met.

Musketeer by HERBERT RAVENEL SASS

"ST. PETE"

HOT SPOT FOR OLDSTERS

If the sun doesn't shine in St. Petersburg, you get your paper free! And it's a safe offer 361 days a year. Read how this Florida winter resort puts itself over with sunshine, shuffleboard, and "life begins at 70." (Two pages of natural-color photographs)

Sitting in the Sunshine

"That miner's a devil"

"He's set us digging a vein where a feller can't make no money at all," complained Sid, after his first day down at Number Two. "I'd like to set a fuse and dynamite that trap in."... Turn to page 12 of your Post for a dramatic story of the Kentucky mines.

Two Eyes, Two Pennies by JAMES STILL

IS THE NEW DEAL SCALPING THE NAVAHO? What's going on, on the reservations under the Indian New Deal? And why is there Thunder Over the Southwest? Flora Warren Seymour brings you the story on page 23.

RACING HORSES FOR BREAD-AND-BUTTER. That's the precarious, day-to-day business of the wandering trackmen. See page 14... PLUS a short story by George Sessions Perry, Matthew 22:39; editorials, fun, and cartoons.

5¢ THE SATURDAY EVENING POST 5¢

MORE THAN 3,000,000 COPIES WEEKLY - ALL BOUGHT AT FULL PRICE that really help you!

LOANS

As little as $4.17

Automobile Loans

—made at the same low rate on any model car. Loans also made on combinations of several kinds of security.

6 month repayments each $100 borrowed

No need to go to a bank way—borrowing just enough to tide you over till the next lot of payments fall due. Get ALL the money you need at ONE time with payments so low they're easy to meet.

Loans $20 to $5,000 on most any security (personal notes, too)... and terms extended as long as 2 1/2 years. If you want them that fast!

The PEOPLES Bank

WA 9786

Volunteer Bldg.

A Georgia State Bank 4% Paid on Savings

THOSE HOUSEHOLD PESTS

Not the human ones—we are talking about ants, moths, beetles, centipedes, bedbugs, fleas, flies, mosquitoes, mice, rats, roaches, termites, spiders—and the rest of the nuisances that do their best to make life miserable for the careful housewife.

Our Service Bureau at Washington has a 24-page booklet "Household Pests" that will tell you exactly what measures to take this spring to guard against trouble from any and all of them.

Send the coupon below, with a dime enclosed, to cover return postage and handling costs.

CLIP COUPON HERE

F. M. Kerby, Director, Dept. B-102, The Constitution's Service Bureau, 1013 Thirteenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Here's a dime (carefully wrapped); send my copy of the booklet on "Household Pests" to:

Name _____

Street and No. _____

City _____ State _____

I am a reader of The Atlanta Constitution.

HITLER CONGRATULATES FRANCO ON VICTORY

BERLIN, March 28.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler tonight sent "heartiest congratulations" to Nationalist Generalissimo Franco for

Gingerbread Sent From Virginia For Opening of Seminary Cafeteria

By Sally Forth.

WHEN the new cafeteria at Washington Seminary was opened yesterday, gingerbread made from a recipe used by Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington, was served. The large, sunny room which adorns the school founded by a descendant of the Washington family was the scene of a "senior recognition" party given by Miss Emma Scott, the school's beloved principal.

Miss Emma's cousin, Mrs. Vivian Minor Fleming, honorary regent of the Washington Lewis Chapter, D. A. R., at Fredericksburg, Va., visited here recently, and heard plans for the cafeteria. She volunteered to send enough of the delicious dessert to serve all guests on the opening day. A huge box containing the cake arrived early yesterday for the party.

The dessert, according to history, was served Marquis de Lafayette at KING'S new SPEEDLINE GARDEN TOOLS

Made specially for home gardeners—lighter, faster, double your fun and results. New, weather-proofed blue handles!

KING
HARDWARE COMPANY
53 Peachtree
and Convenient Neighborhood Stores

by Mrs. Washington, mother of the first President, when the famous French general returned to America after the Revolutionary War in 1784. Lafayette visited General Washington at Mount Vernon, and during his stay went to Kenmore at Fredericksburg to pay his respects to Mrs. Washington. It was while there that the charming colonial matron served him mint julep and gingerbread.

The 80 stools in the Seminary's dining room, given by members of the junior class, are placed at long tables, while the steam tables, where delicious hot lunches will be served every day to the students, were given by members of the senior class.

IN CASE you are anticipating the exhilarating pleasure of attending the Eggleston hospital garden tour on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, you should make certain to miss the "double entry," so to speak, of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Willet's garden and that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox Jr., which will be shown together on Monday. You see, the two families live next door to each other and their lovely gardens connect by means of an artistic arbor, thus forming a perfect panorama of horticultural beauty.

In the Willet garden you will find some charming examples of Old World art. When Mr. and Mrs. Willet were traveling in Europe two years ago, they purchased in Italy a pair of exquisite marble figures which dominate their formal garden. Another interesting feature is the graceful wall fountain which serves as a background for their formal perennial garden. Mrs. Willet's favorite statue, however, is a beautiful Florentine figure of "Firenze," which crouches the boxwood maze in her garden and which she also imported from Italy.

The Maddox garden is a riot of colorful bloom, with its terraces sloping to a beautiful natural woodland at the rear. The plantings on the terraces are arranged according to color, the whole presenting a harmonizing kaleidoscope of pastel tints. A flagstone wall surrounds the garden in charming European fashion.

WHEN members of the Florida state library commission convene today at Mt. Clemens, Fla., for their annual convention, they will hear addresses by two of the south's well-known literary figures whom Atlanta claims as her sons, Daniel Whitehead Hickey, who has become one of the nation's leading poets and lecturers, will address the assemblage on "Contemporary Poetry."

Harry Lee, another Atlanta writer, whose recent novel, "The Fox in the Cloak," brought his name to the top rung of the literary ladder, will address the Florida librarians on "The Writing of a Modern Novel."

The Atlantans were accompanied to Florida by Norman Berg, representative of a well-known publishing house, and en route to the Sunshine State the trio stopped at Orlando to visit Margorie Kinnan Rawlings, who authored "The Yearling," a best 1938-39 seller, which at an early date will be filmed in Hollywood, Cal.

NEWS reached Sally yesterday of the recent honor conferred upon James B. Little, who married the former Gates Eckford, of this city. Since their marriage 10 years ago the Littles have resided in Gadsden, Ala. They moved to Montgomery a few weeks ago when Governor Frank Dixon appointed Mr. Little the state superintendent of banks and head of the Bureau of Commerce of Alabama.

For the next four years, Mr. and Mrs. Little and their son, James Jr., will live in the Alabama capital during the present chief executive's regime.

According to Sally's informant, the Littles are being welcomed in Montgomery and are fast becoming leading figures in the young married ranks of that city.

Mrs. James F. Curtis Jr., of Roslyn, Long Island, N. Y., who with Mr. Curtis has spent the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gatins, at the Georgian Terrace hotel. Mrs. Curtis is the former Miss Barbara Hope Gatins and is considered one of New York's most beautiful young society matrons. She is a member of the New York Junior League and takes an active part in its charity program. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis leave today for Aiken, S. C., to visit the former's sister, Mrs. George Bostwick, at her winter home there.

Society Events

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29.

The marriage of Miss Frances Adams and LeRoy Rogers Jr. takes place at 5:30 o'clock at the Peachtree Christian church.

Nelson Eddy, baritone, will be presented in concert at the city auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. W. Eugene Harrington, chairman for the Young Matrons' Circle for the Tallulah Falls school of the tenth annual horse show, entertains the show committee at 2:30 o'clock at her home on the Peachtree Dunwoody road.

Miss Helen Roberts entertains this evening at a spinster dinner at her home on Montgomery Ferry drive honoring Miss Dorothy Sanford, bride-elect. At the same time Miss Sanford's fiancé, Joseph Horacek Jr., will be honored by his groomsmen at a stag dinner at the Capital City Club.

Mrs. MacGregor Flanders gives a luncheon at her home on Peachtree road for Mrs. T. M. McCleskey, recent bride.

Miss Evelyn Green entertains at a dinner and theater party this evening complimenting Miss Frances Sewell and her visitors, Misses Elizabeth Fuller, Washington, D. C., and Betty Scranke, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. S. B. Wimbish will be hostess this afternoon at a children's party at her home on Brookhaven drive, complimenting her little son, Shack Jr., on his fourth birthday.

Informal luncheon hour takes place at the Capital City Club and this evening an informal supper-dance takes place in the grill room between 7:30 and 11:30 o'clock.

Weekly dance of the Club Quatre takes place at Peachtree Gardens.

Cascade P.-T. A. sponsors a salmagundi party at the Cascade Community House.

Mrs. Otis Jones entertains the Friendly Twelve Club.

Capital City Chapter No. 111, O. E. S., sponsors a bridge party at Southern Dairies.

Executive board of the Patillo Memorial W. M. S. will be honored at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Florence G. Folger and Mrs. M. E. Hill, at 1116 West College avenue.

Women's Division, Fulton Coun-

Garden Pilgrimage Visitors Will Visit Church at Roswell

The Presbyterian church of Roswell, which is celebrating its hundredth anniversary this year, has issued an invitation to the Georgia Garden Pilgrimage to visit the old church when the tour arrives at Mimosa Hall on Saturday, April 1.

Intimately connected with the early history of Roswell, this church will be an interesting addition to the pilgrimage. In 1839 the Rev. Nathaniel Pratt came to Roswell and founded the church. Fourteen people joined and the first elders were John Dunwoody, who built Mimosa Hall; Barrington King, the builder of Barrington Hall, and A. Smith. In May, 1840, Mr. Pratt and his family moved to Roswell to live and the building of the present church began.

The church has been restored to its original state and the church auxiliary is now developing the grounds. The old slave gallery in the rear of the church is a reminder of the early days of Roswell when extensive plantations were cultivated there.

During the War Between the States the church was occupied by Union soldiers. One of the doors was taken off and used as a checkerboard by the men quartered there, the marking being visible today. They left a souvenir of their stay by carving their initials on the door.

On display in the church on Saturday will be the old English church silver, a gift from the Presbyterian church in Savannah. Through almost a century this silver was kept at Barrington Hall. There will be no admission fee, but anyone desiring to make a contribution to the restoration may do so.

At Mimosa Hall, pilgrimage visitors will see one of the fine old mansions of Georgia. When John Dunwoody completed his home, he gave an entertainment to celebrate. During the celebration a fire broke out and the wooden edifice burned to the ground. John Dunwoody built the present Mimosa Hall, a replica in brick of the first home. He called it Phoenix Hall, and then later the name was changed to Mimosa.

ty Democrats, will hold a membership luncheon at 12:30 o'clock at the Henry Grady hotel.

House Warming.
Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. French entertained Saturday evening in their new home, 3229 Hope street, Hapeville, with a house warming.

Punch was served by Mrs. Doris G. Abernethy and Mrs. C. F. Arnett. The honor guests were presented with many lovely gifts. Fifty guests called.

LAWN GRASS SEED

Evergreen Lawn Grass, 25c lb.—10 lbs. for...$2.20
Shady Lawn Grass, 30c lb.—10 lbs. for...$2.70

Flower Seeds 5c Packet Fertilizer Garden Seeds Packets or Bulk

Wizard Sheep Manure, 25 lbs. 85c—100 lbs. $2.50
Bone Meal, 10 lbs. 40c; 25 lbs. 90c—100 lbs. $2.75
4-12-4 (Guano), 10 lbs. 40c; 25 lbs. 75c—100 lbs. $2.00

149 Alabama St. Corner Forsyth Mixed Gladiolus Bulbs 18c Doz. Daily Deliveries WA. 3193

EVERETT SEED CO.

Druid Hills P.-T. A.

Druid Hills elementary school executive board meets this morning at 8:30 o'clock, followed by a meeting of the study group at 9:30 o'clock at the school. The subject chosen is "Supervised Play and Playgrounds," with Mrs. E. C. Houston as leader.

Druid Hills Elementary School P.-T. A. will hold a daddies' night meeting next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The program will be sponsored by the Glee Club with Mrs. J. B. McNeley in charge.

Study Group Meets.

Study Group of the Inman Park Woman's Club met recently at the home of Mrs. E. S. Lanier on Austin avenue. Mrs. Thomas Peacock, chairman, presiding.

Dr. Edward Watson, of the Georgia Public Health Department, gave a talk on "Health in Georgia."

A bridge party will be given by the Study Group at the home of Mrs. F. A. Baker, on Druid place, March 30, at 10 o'clock. The next meeting of this department will be held April 20 at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Thomas Peacock on Linwood avenue.

TWO COLOR "HITS"

BY

Frances Denney

Bois de Rose

For your "pretty as a picture" clothes—FRANCES DENNEY has created BOIS de ROSE—a dusty pink that harmonizes wonderfully with all smart "pottery" fabric shades.

FASHION FLAUNTS

Red Camellia

A vivid splash of color against Navy Blue... RED CAMELLIA... the Season's most important make-up shade.

CREME ROUGE, $1.00, $2.00
COMPACT ROUGE...$1.00
FACE POWDER, $1.50, $3.00
LIPSTICK...$1.00

Miss Eleanor Kutchins, Special Representative for Frances Denney, will be at Rich's Cosmetics Department all this week.

Cosmetics
Street Floor

RICH'S

RICH'S BASEMENT

1,987 PAIRS

Main Floor Shoes

MATRIX--MARTHA LEE
LE BOLYN--PALIZZIO
QUEEN QUALITY--VITALITY

Including 723 Pairs Children's Growing Girls' VITALITY Shoes

Values to 5.50

3.98

Values to 14.75

LADIES' SHOES IN BLACKS, WINE, BLUES, JAPONICA. ALL materials—high, medium, low heels.

GROWING GIRLS' SHOES: BLACKS, BLUES, BROWNS. Suedes, calfskins or alligator calf. Medium and flat heels.

BROKEN SIZES

FOR LAWNS—
two applications a year (spring and fall) are all that are ever necessary for a rich, velvety lawn. Just be sure to distribute Milorganite uniformly.

FOR TREES—
apply Milorganite where feeding roots around the area from the trunk out to where the drip from outside foliage strikes the ground. . . . Only necessary once every few years when Milorganite is used.

FOR SHRUBS—
scatter Milorganite uniformly over massed beds and work into soil with rake or hoe. On individual shrubs, scatter around base and work into soil.

FOR GARDENS
work into prepared soil before planting. Just before buds start to form, make a second (and lighter) application . . . and work into the soil.

No Charge for Deliveries

KING
HARDWARE COMPANY
ATLANTA OWNED AND OPERATED

Use Your Charge Account

53 Peachtree St.—and Convenient Neighborhood Stores

That a Girl Is Judged by the Company She Keeps, Is Still True

A "Special Occasion" Posture Has No Grace

By Ida Jean Kain.

Most of us are guilty of having a "special occasion" posture which is assumed for very important or gala occasions. But if it is noticeably better than the everyday posture, it is much too constrained to be graceful—and too uncomfortable to last!

A lovely posture is no superficial thing to put on or take off as you please. It must be built from the inside out and from the ground up, and if you want to stand out in the Easter parade now is the time to begin changing your posture.

At a swank Fifth avenue salon which draws the beauties of the social and theatrical world, lessons in posture are the most highly prized commodity sold! If you were to enroll in one of these classes, you would be taught to line up like this:

Stand in the bare feet with the back to the wall and the feet about three inches from it. The feet should be flat on the floor about four inches apart and parallel, with the toes pointing straight ahead. That's groundwork for you! Ready? Without raising the heels from the floor, bend the knees and spread them apart. Dig into the wall with the small of the back—you can't do it unless you tuck the hips under. Pull up with the chest, and up with the muscles back of the ears. Have the chin in, shoulders back and relaxed.

For the first day or so, you would do well to get your back to the wall according to the specifications. You are expected to carry out every one of those orders and to hold the position for several minutes. You will find that it isn't easy.

When you are able to complete this first part of the straightening-out process, you are ready for the real test—walking on the toes as you hold the tuck-under position of the hips, keeping the back straight, and pulling up with the tummy, chest and neck muscles. But first you have to get away from the wall. Do this by walking backward and rising on the toes at the same time, always, of course, holding that position you got yourself into! Then when the legs are straight, bend forward very slightly at the waist and place a book on top of the head.

Chic Femininity

By Lillian Mae

"Iodine Ration" Prolongs Youth, Says Doctor

By Dr. William Brady.

Some fruits and vegetables grown in soil that is not too poor in iodine may supply sufficient iodine for some people, notably strawberries, grapes, white cabbage, tomatoes, green peas, green beans, asparagus, carrots. But owing to the solubility of iodine (iodides) most of the iodine is carried down to the sea. Sea food is the richest source of iodine—lobster, clams, oysters, crabs, sea fish, smoked herring, canned salmon.

In my opinion it is advisable for every child and adult not under medical care to make a regular practice of taking a drop or two of common tincture of iodine in a drink of water once a week the year around. That is what I designate an "Iodine Ration." It helps to build and maintain vitality.

I do not say and never have said that the Iodine Ration will restore the original color to gray hair, although many persons who have taken it have declared that it does. A typical instance:

"Just about a year ago my hair was turning gray at the temples. I am 50. I began taking the Iodine Ration which you recommended. At the present time my hair has resumed its natural color, dark brown, and where the general effect of a year ago was gray now the effect is brown even at the temples." (Mrs. H. O. D.)

My own interpretation of this and much similar testimony is (a) the Iodine Ration retards or postpones graying of the hair and associated manifestations of premature senility or old age; (b) one views the first gray hairs with a feeling of sadness and dismay about the ruthless onslaught of the cold gradations of decay, a foreboding to which iodine shortage predisposes, as it does to other gloomy apprehensions; (c) in the course of the six months or year after adoption of the Iodine Ration one notices that the hair is not so gray as one feared it would be by that time—and this observation itself is reassuring, while at the same time the correction of the iodine shortage restores the normal outlook, the old cheerful self, and makes one younger in heart, as the saying is. After all, as some philosopher has said, youth is not a time of life; it is a state of mind.

Even if an adequate intake of iodine merely renders the progress of senility less rapid or less terrifying, it is of great value. By that I mean to remind you simply that all life, animal and vegetable, follows the ordained cycle of birth, growth, maturity, reproduction, decline or degeneration and death—death being the periodic reduction of materials to elementary form for reconstruction. At no point in the cycle is there a perceptible pause. Life is constant change. In a biological sense we may regard death as the gradual decline or degeneration that begins the moment the body attains full maturity, and the rate of progress of this degeneration depends to a considerable degree on nutritional

My Day: Variety of Country Makes Travel Enjoyable

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

SEATTLE, Wash.—The trip up by air, instead of beginning at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, began at 5, a little detail which I did not have time to tell you about yesterday. A gentleman from Spokane, Wash., and I were the only passengers. He was a very pleasant companion with whom I enjoyed talking until he left at Portland, Ore. Then I came on to Seattle in solemn state. The delay had one advantage, for my family here did not have to meet me in the early hours of the morning. John, Sis and Buzz greeted me at the airport at 10 o'clock.

The stewardess on the plane was completing her ninth year with the company, and has flown more miles than any other woman in this country. This so-called exciting career, which I think at times must be quite nerve-racking, has evidently agreed with her, for she looked like a young girl—without a line in her face.

It is delightful to be back with my daughter and her family, and we did nothing but talk all day yesterday, except for a few hours when I went to sleep, not having had a great deal of sleep the night before.

I woke this morning to blue skies and sunshine, and the Olympic mountains and the Cascades standing out in dazzling snow-white silhouettes against the sky. My daughter and I spent the morning leisurely. At noon, with a picnic lunch in the back of the car, we picked up her husband and went to a delightful park, where we sat in the sun among the trees and ate the first meal I have had out-of-doors this spring.

A most interesting letter has come to me from a young man who is abroad, surveying youth conditions and the trend of young thought in different European countries. I shared that letter with my daughter and son-in-law, and then it was time to go to the train to meet Miss Thompson, who had journeyed up from Oakland in a more leisurely fashion than I did. Whichever way you come, the trip from San Francisco to Seattle is through beautiful mountain scenery.

In Texas and out on this coast you feel that it is more a young man's country. Perhaps that is because the country itself is younger, but it seems to me that there is also a distinct difference to be found in group thinking. Texas is a little more tied with the south. Perhaps coming out to the northwest was a trifle more difficult and tempted even more adventurous souls. In any case, the impact of thinking you get out here is not quite the same as what you feel in the south. There is something a little more windswept about it.

Have you ever noticed that different groups vary in their sense of humor, and that that is sometimes a rather typical point of difference? In northern countries one is said to be more "dour," but there is enough softness in the air of our northwest to keep one gently humorous, but not enough to make one peppy. The United States is a great country from both physical and the human standpoint, and its variety makes traveling forever interesting from both points of view.

(Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution.)

"Oomph" Girl Is Refused A Kiss—She Ate Onions

By Sheila Graham.

HOLLYWOOD, March 28.—Ann Sheridan, the new "oomph" girl, eating onions at lunch. A delicate problem arises afterwards on the set when John Payne has to kiss her. He does not kiss her, but to put it kindly, Ann sends for some parsley, which she assures Payne will remove all traces of her onion orgy. And, surprisingly enough, it does. . . . David Liven shares his beach house with two other Brits. They have a unique system of paying bills. Each meal, per person, is charged as a "unit," so that the lad with most guests pays most at the end of the month. "What do you do about liquor?" I asked him. "Every chap has his own cellar," David replied. "I've got a cellar. I must be confusing sometimes to keep the glasses and bottles separate."

The reason Vivien Leigh looks so tired when she reports to the "Gone With the Wind" set is the 5:30 a. m. New York call she receives every day from Laurence Olivier (8:30 New York time). The devoted actor also telephones Vivien the last thing at night. The telephone company reckons to make around $700 a week from the separation. Olivier has also left a standing order at a florist's to deliver daily to the lady of his affections a huge bunch of yellow roses. . . . George Brent fought desperately to avoid appearing in "Dark Victory," which was only his best picture in five years. It very rarely happens that an actor knows what movie is good or bad for him—until he slips at the box office, and then it is usually too late.

I understand that Samuel Gold-

Indian Design Rug

Pattern 6362.

The Indians made colorful rugs—but they didn't have the wide choice of materials to work with that you have. You can crochet this smart Indian rug (it's entirely in single crochet) of just rags, or inexpensive candlewick, four strands of string. Or, if you'd be more elegant, rug yarn! Two contrasting colors or two shades of one color work out well. Pattern 6362 contains instructions and chart for making rug; illustrations of it and of stitches; materials needed; color schemes.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in coin to Household Arts Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

Woman's Quiz

Q. How can one get cream from goats' milk?
A. Because of the small size of the fat globules in it, the cream rises very slowly and never so thoroughly as in cows' milk. This condition makes impractical the ordinary method of obtaining cream by allowing it to rise, but it may be obtained with a cream separator.

Q. What can be done to cool an oven that continually overheats?
A. Place open pans of cold water in the oven.

What You Are Often Speaks Loudest

By Caroline Chatfield

Dear Miss Chatfield—Is there any chance for a girl who has built up a bad reputation? From the age of 14 until recently I associated with girls of questionable reputation and we threw plenty of rough parties at the beach and elsewhere. As far as doing anything worse than drinking my conscience is clear, but I know I was talked about. Now I am going with a boy I care a lot for and I hope to marry him. He is always bringing up the subject of my early escapades showing that he's questioning my character. He insists that if I am ever going to be his wife I must part company with all these old friends. I don't want to lose him. You'll be doing me a great favor if you'll tell me how to convince him that I'm good enough for him.

ANXIOUS.

Answer—Miss Anxious, it's a simple matter for a girl to convince her best beau that she's as good as she is. You see it's practically impossible for us to fool the people around us when we are doing our level best to deceive them and when we actually wish them to know the full truth about us, they have as good as got it with that wish.

But remember that old saying of Mr. Emerson's "What you are speaks so loud, I cannot hear what you say you are." An honest man doesn't have to go around boasting that he never tells a lie, his associates know instinctively that he's trustworthy. Likewise it's unnecessary for a good girl to cry from the rooftops that she's good. It gets out on her and the best beau is the first one to know it.

In her favor, too, is the fact that the boy who loves her and dreams of marrying her is quite as anxious to be convinced, as she is to convince him that she's good. He will give her the benefit of every doubt so long as he can do it without stultifying his reason. Naturally he's a keen relater by what he hears about her and this is why it's all important for her to rub out the memories of her escapades as rapidly as possible.

You know, don't you that a girl is judged by the company she keeps and if the company isn't good people naturally assume she isn't or soon won't be. Her first step in climbing back into the good estimation of her public is to change crowds—and quickly. Theres advertising the change since the "Birds of a feather" adage is generally accepted.

Isn't it miraculous what love does to us? It jerks us up and turns us around, takes away our fears, gives us new companions and favorite things, gives us a keen relater for all the virtues and makes us want to associate with angels who wear shining halos like ours. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

COMPENSATION: Sometimes it seems as though people have an edge on the healthy, one element after another provides them diversion, topics for conversation and excuses for everything they don't want to do. (Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution.)

Tips for Those Who Would Rumba

Popular is the girl whose dancing makes her stand out from the crowd. While others shuffle along, her smooth stepping tells the stage line she knows what smart dances such as the rumba are all about. Such dancing isn't difficult either—for with simple diagrams, instructions, you can teach yourself.

See how easily you can follow our diagram for the Rumba Turn. Count 1—Step to side on left foot. 2—Close with right foot. 3—Step forward on left foot, turning to left, and pause. 4—Bring right foot near left foot. 5—Close with left. 6—Step back on right foot.

What about the little tricks of posture, stepping that make good rumba dancers look so different from the "shuffle-alongers"? Take these tips.

Dance a little apart from your partner, as in our top picture. Hold arms close to the body. Use heels as well as the ball of the foot. As you switch weight from one side to the other, put down the heel of the foot receiving the weight—as the lower picture shows. Let hips sway to the side too.

Win good times with good dancing. Our 40-page booklet, TEACH YOURSELF THE LATEST DANCE STEPS, gives diagrams, instructions by a well-known teacher for the tango, Westchester, fox-trot, waltz, conga, shag, rumba. Basic steps, variations. How to lead, follow.

Send 15c in coins for our booklet, TEACH YOURSELF THE LATEST DANCE STEPS, to Home Institute Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Madeleine Carroll, star of "Cafe Society," a French-Irish blonde, is called one of the world's most beautiful women.

New Perfume Applicator and Container Holds High Favor With Parisian Women

By Lillian Mae.

With the coming of spring there are more than usual novelties and new gadgets to make beauty and femininity easier for the average woman. But one that has particularly taken by my eye because of the fact that it is new and also because it is so practical and useful, is a new perfume applicator and container—new to this country, although I understand the women in Paris have been using and raving over it for some months.

It's a simple looking little trick—just a little round black enamel box about the size of a quarter, though deeper, with a ring handle on top. With a slight twisting motion you open the box and find in it a fitting sponge.

The idea is to saturate the sponge with perfume, then with another twisting motion close the box. There your perfume is, ready for your handbag with no spilling, leaking or breaking. To use, it sponge against your skin, and when necessary, again saturate the sponge. Neat, eh?

The cosmetic house which thought up this little item, packages it in a modern box with satin base and decorated transparent cover—and in the package is also a generous sized bottle of the perfume which I have so many times told you about with the recommendation that it is suitable for anyone, from the subdeb through the age limit to grandmother. It has long been a general favorite. And the price for both perfume and purse container is no more than you would expect to pay for the perfume itself.

I'll tell you more about it if you will phone me. Or if you do not live in the city, write me, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope for reply.

Illustrating the Simple Defensive Hold-Up Play

By Harold Sharpsteen.

Three useful forms of play employed by declarer are the hold-up, ducking and unblocking plays, the hold-up being the simplest of the three.

Declarer holds-up, hoping to shut off communication between the two defending hands. Defensive players may employ this same type of play against notrump contracts, with the idea of shutting off communication between declarer's hand and dummy hand.

The defensive hold-up play, in elementary form, is illustrated in the following deal:

N
S-K Q J 9 3
H-8 7 4
D-8 (6)
C-10 9 3

W
S-A 7 5
H-Q J 6
D-10 9 7 (5) 2
C-Q 7 4

S-10 8 6
H-A 10 9 2
D-A (K) Q 3
C-A K 6

West opens the Diamond 5 against South's three notrump contract. East playing the King, declarer winning with the Diamond Ace.

Declarer immediately leads his Spade 10 to stop up the spade suit. DEFENSE REFUSES.

East must hold up the Spade Ace until forced to play it on the third round, regardless of what spades declarer plays from his own hand or dummy. It should not be difficult to determine the reason for East's hold-up play in the above example as the spade suit is the only means of entry into dummy hand.

By refusing to play the Spade Ace until the third round, East accomplishes his purpose, for declarer has now exhausted all of his own spades and is unable to reach the dummy hand to bring in the last two good spade tricks.

SETS UP SUIT.

When East is finally forced to play his Ace, he can return the Jack of his partner's diamond suit. Whether or not declarer takes this trick, he is certain to lose several tricks regardless of how he proceeds to play the contract.

The hold-up play is clearly a hopeless play when dummy hand contains other entry cards.

Til tomorrow.

Mail your bridge problems to Harold Sharpsteen, care The Atlanta Constitution. (Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution.)

He Made Furniture From 16 to 80

We were talking to a botanist who has specialized on fine cabinet woods. But he has not confined his study simply to the science of woods—he knows more about the lore of furniture than almost anybody we know, and he has a grand time digging out legends about mahogany, his first love. We got to comparing notes on Duncan Phyfe, that doughty Scot who came to America at 16 and here made furniture till he was past 80.

"But tell me," said our botanist friend, "have you ever found a picture of Duncan Phyfe?" Which was a poser—it turns out that there isn't one as far as anybody can find out. It's strange, in view of the fact that Phyfe carried on an active business in New York for many years and made furniture for many of the wealthiest families in the country at the time, that no one ever drew any kind of a picture of him.

The S Curve. In addition to the lyre-back chairs he made famous, he also made sofas that have his unmistakable personality hovering regally over them. Some have lyre design arms, others have upholstered arms in his typical, elongated S curve.

We've heard tell that Phyfe worked in the Adam-Hopewell style—also that his manner was a grand time digging out legends about mahogany, his first love. We got to comparing notes on Duncan Phyfe, that doughty Scot who came to America at 16 and here made furniture till he was past 80.

Braid-Trimmed Dress

By Barbara Bell

This new house dress design (1727-B) really gets an enormous amount of serviceable comfort and charm into a few simple lines. Of course, it begins with princess lines—the most slenderizing and flattering of all, as well as extremely easy to wear. It has ample armholes and a plain neckline. It buttons down the front, a detail which makes it easier to iron and easier to get into. Rows of braid, running gaily the whole length of it, are delightfully cheery and smart; besides, they help to make you look slimmer!

For this practical dress, choose gingham, linen, percale or calico, with ric-rac to trim. You'll enjoy wearing it the livelong day, until it's time to dress for dinner.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1727-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42 and 44. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 (34) requires 5 1/2 yards of 35-inch material. 9 yards of braid.

Price of pattern, 15 cents. Price of pattern book, 15 cents.

Mail orders to Barbara Bell Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

strain—you'll find no inlaying, no painting. Mahogany was the wood Phyfe favored. And he was so particular about the quality of his wood that the best logs in the West Indies were called "Phyfe's" in his day. (Copyright, 1939, for The Constitution.)

YOUNG STAR POULAR. Although in pictures but two and a half years, Gene Reynolds has just received word that his ninth fan club has just been organized, the latest being in Hawaii.

TODAY'S CHARM TIP

Don't let any one think that you believe the world is against you. Something wrong about you will be suspected if you do.

Druid Hills Garden Club Selects May 9 as Date of Annual Rose Show

May 9 is the date selected for the annual rose show sponsored by the Druid Hills Garden Club, an event which highlights the spring calendar of horticultural events each year. This date was chosen at the first meeting of the rose show committees held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Wilby on Tuxedo road, who entertained the group at luncheon. The show will be held at the Biltmore hotel and will be open to the public from 12 o'clock until 10 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Charles LeRoux is general chairman of the show and Mrs. Wilby will serve as her co-chairman. Mrs. Robert J. Taylor Jr. has been named publicity chairman, with Mrs. John Harland in charge of registrations and Mrs. Calvin Prescott as chairman of concessions. Mrs. Ralph Black will serve as chairman of the rose garden, the beautification project sponsored by the Druid Hills Garden Club on Ponce de Leon avenue in Druid Hills, and from which the choicest roses will be exhibited in the show.

Tri Alpha Club Gives Hayride.

The Tri Alpha Club of Druid Hills High entertained recently at a hayride to Lithia Springs. After arriving the party enjoyed a wiener roast and then gathered in the clubhouse to dance.

The club officers are Miss Ruth Conner, president; Miss Josephine Paxon, vice president; Miss Ann Bumstead, secretary; Miss Alice Bunker, treasurer. Members are Misses Corinne Huguley, Alice Woodall, Alice Steadman, Martha Jordan, Gladys Graves, June Peek, Betty Jackson, Gayle Rankin, Mildred Smith, Nancy Quayle, Martha Rhodes, Clare Ware, Dorothy Pixton, Inez Heath, Catherine Morgan, Eleanor Goodpasture, Jane Methvin, Jane Kreiling, Mitzi Spring, Dorothy Zackry, Carol Williams, Margaret Wilson, Mary Frances Kilpatrick, Anne Sale, Ella Gregg Yarbrough, Mary Shiley, Hilda Tindall, Margaret Shepherd and Elaine Montag. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kreiling, Mr. and Mrs. L. Zachry, Camilla Huguley and Oatis Parks.

Mrs. Bracker Fetes Duo of Visitors

Among interesting social affairs of yesterday was the tea at which Mrs. Mildred Bracker entertained at her home on West Andrews drive honoring Miss Helen Woolford and Miss Betty Ann Bird. Miss Woolford is visiting Mrs. Guy Woolford, and Miss Bird is visiting Miss Georgia Adams.

Long U. D. C. Meets.

Crawford W. Long Chapter, U. D. C., met recently at the home of Mrs. George K. Hood, 1146 Oxford road, for the March meeting. Mrs. A. H. Strickland, president, opened the meeting with reports by the secretary treasurer. Progress on the chapter history was reported by the historian and scrapbook chairman. Mrs. A. B. Dunham donated another book to the Crawford W. Long Hospital library.

Mrs. A. H. Strickland attended the Red Cross drive at the Governor's Mansion, where she reported on residential calls and contributions. A campaign for the cancer drive will be held on April 12 with Mesdames George K. Hood and John S. Bick serving on the committee.

Mrs. A. H. Cochran, chairman of the ways and means committee, will hold a rummage sale, the date to be announced later. Mrs. A. H. Strickland, author of the Georgian's Creed, has official recognition of the creed, by the legislature.

Mrs. Mamie Reed, program chairman, presented a program on Charleston, S. C. Mrs. Reed gave the historical background of Charleston, and Mrs. John S. Bick gave the cultural and social side. Mrs. Mary B. Lake more read a poem entitled "St. Michael's Belle." Mrs. A. H. Cochran, read an article on "What the Senate Has Done for Dr. Long." Mrs. George C. Cookery, a visitor, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," accompanied by Mrs. Elmer T. Austin, another visitor.

Service Club Benefit.

The Service Club, of Mary E. La Rocca Grove, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, will sponsor a benefit pie supper Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Daisy Moultrie in East Point. The committee on entertainment includes Mesdames Jeannie Brown, chairman, Rosa Scifres and Lavinia Yarian. Mrs. Leila Cottongim is chairman of the club.

Left to right, Mrs. J. B. Huff Jr., Mrs. Harbin K. Park and Mrs. Jack Passaligale, pictured in front of Dinglewood, the auto-bellum home of Miss Annie Hinde and Miss Frances Adams, which will be open for the third annual garden pilgrimage in Columbus today and tomorrow. Miss Adams is a cousin of the trio and Mrs. Passaligale is the daughter of Mrs. Reynolds Flournoy, president of the Garden Club of Georgia, under whose sponsorship the tour is made.

Miss Mackay Fetes Sister, Bride-Elect

The first in a series of pre-nuptial social affairs to be given in honor of Miss Helen Kilpatrick, whose engagement to Earl Edward Lyon was announced Sunday, was the tea at which Miss Louise Mackay entertained yesterday at her home on Hardendoff avenue. Sharing honors with the bride-elect was Miss Kathleen Mackay, sister of the hostess, who is residing here after several years spent in Rochester, Minn.

Assisting the hostess in entertaining were her mother, Mrs. W. R. Mackay; Mrs. Ed Medlock and Miss Jean Chalmers. Mrs. Wilmer Davis, cousin of the bride-elect, poured tea, and the hostess' little cousin, Betty Mackay, and Rachael Stubbs received guests at the door. Fifty guests called during the receiving hours.

Chi Rho Sigma Will Give Dance.

Chi Rho Sigma sorority of Atlanta Junior College entertains with a dance this evening in the Little Theater at the school.

Officers of the sorority are: Miss Lillie Hill, president; Marion Hayes, vice president; Eugene O'Brien, secretary; Eleanor Johnson, treasurer; Evelyn Mathis, scribe; Charlotte Hardin, pledge captain; Martha Blackwood, sergeant-at-arms, and Nancy Hamilton, social chairman.

Members of the sorority are: Misses Read Abrams, Sarah Browne, Eva Rob Cheshire, Marie Grey, Marian Hoffman, Helen Mayo, Martha Medlin, Janet McCrary, Rebecca Moore, Betty Anne Nimmo, Martha Paris, Eleanor Van Fleet and Harriet Wilkie. Pledges are Misses Myra Barber, Wilhelmina Durham, Elise Hunter, Alice Nell Kern, Grace McCatchey, Mary Lois Riley, Susie Wynn Thomas and Jane Turk.

F. S. C. W. Alumnae To Entertain Visitors.

Atlanta alumnae of the Florida State College for Women will entertain a group of faculty visitors from Tallahassee, Fla., at an informal dinner on Thursday evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Cox Carlton hotel.

Among the visitors will be Dr. Raymond F. Bellamy, head of the sociology department at F. S. C. W.; Dr. Coyle E. Moore, Dr. Paul Shankweiler and Mrs. Margaret C. Bristol, members of the department. Mrs. Lucille Morgan Hood, a graduate of the sociology department, will be hostess, assisted by other Atlanta alumnae. Reservations for the dinner may be made by phoning Mrs. Warren Thompson at Hemlock 9886-W.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bewick and their daughter, Miss Eloise Dickey, who have spent the past three months in Europe, will sail Friday aboard the steamer Ile de France from Le Havre. They will arrive in Atlanta on April 6.

Mrs. John S. Waddle, of New Orleans, La., arrived Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Lambdin, at 1236 Piedmont avenue, for several weeks. Mrs. Waddle was before her marriage last winter Miss Clara Lambdin, a popular Atlanta belle and beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolling Jones Jr. and Mrs. George Damour have returned from Ponte Vedra, Fla.

Miss Ann McGonigal returned yesterday to St. Catherine's School in Richmond, Va., after spending the spring vacation here and at Seaside and Beach with her mother, Mrs. Whitman McGonigal.

Mrs. Roland Alston has returned from Winter Park, Fla.

Mrs. Ben Purse and Miss Hazel Purse have returned from Toccoa, Ga., where they spent several days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Scott, Mrs. L. A. Cooper, Mrs. H. L. Hawk and Mrs. E. B. Hill will leave Friday for Charleston, S. C., where they will visit Magnolia Gardens and other well known gardens in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Sacks, of Chattanooga, Tenn., announce the birth of two daughters on March 27 at Erlanger hospital. Mrs. Sacks is the former Miss Mildred Tenenbaum, of this city.

Miss Mary Tenenbaum recently returned from LaGrange where she represented the Georgia Association of Women Lawyers at the convention of Women's Clubs.

Misses Jane and Anne Pattillo are spending six weeks with their uncle and aunt, Colonel and Mrs. A. B. McDaniel, in Washington, D. C.

Miss Laura Lee Pattillo has returned from a two-week visit at Ft. Leavenworth in Kansas.

Rev. Richard Orme Flinn is ill with influenza at his home on Springdale road.

Mrs. W. Roy Roberts is in New York city.

Mrs. Florence Burgess Eckford has returned to Chicago after spending a few days in the city.

Mrs. John S. Raine is ill with influenza at her home in the Ponce de Leon Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas William Hardeman announce the birth of a son March 23 at Crawford W. Long hospital, whom they have named Charles Courtney. Mrs. Ray is the former Miss Evelyn Vaughan Lide.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harold Ray announce the birth of a son March 25 at Crawford W. Long hospital, whom they have named Charles Courtney. Mrs. Ray is the former Miss Evelyn Vaughan Lide.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McCard are at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson have returned from a week's stay at Ponte Vedra, Fla.

Miss Martha Bearden is convalescing from a serious heart attack at her home, 94 Eleventh street.

Oscar Newton has returned to Omaha, Neb., after visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. Oscar Newton and Mrs. Louise Newton McDaniel.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Ottley Sr. left yesterday for New York to spend 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Holcomb and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Holcomb, of Miami, Fla., are spending this week here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grogan Carlsen announce the birth of a son, Richard Grogan Carlsen Jr., on March 3 at Piedmont hospital. Mrs. Carlsen is the former Miss Stella Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Stewart have returned from Bradenton, Fla., where they spent the winter.

Mrs. George Freeman Sr. is ill with influenza at her home on Westwood avenue in West End.

Rev. and Mrs. Happy White will return this week from a visit in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. W. D. Marshall has returned from a visit of several months in Florida.

Mrs. Justus Killian left yesterday for Galesburg, Ill., to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Comber.

Mrs. J. W. Grimes and daughter, Miss Harriet Grimes, and Mr. and Mrs. Olin Baldwin leave Friday to spend the week end in Tallahassee, Florida.

Harold Edwards, who attends Mercer University in Macon, spent the week end at his home in West End.

Herman Fauss is convalescing from a recent illness at Georgia Baptist hospital.

Miss Bessie Bergenstein returns this week from a visit in Miami, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ponder leave at an early date to spend some time in Beaumont, Texas.

Viking Club Meets.

Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson were hosts recently to the Viking Club of Atlanta at their home on Columbia drive.

The program featured harp numbers by Misses Beverly Dobbs and Helen Sewell.

Two new members, A. C. Gage and W. O. Powell, were accepted as dinstalled.

Miss Worley and Mr. Thompson Announce Their Wedding Plans

Of wide interest is the announcement made today of the wedding plans of Miss Carolyn Worley and Thomas W. Thompson Jr. The couple has selected Saturday, April 29, for the date of the wedding, which will take place in the Emory Theological chapel.

Rev. B. C. Goodpasture will perform the marriage ceremony at 8:30 o'clock in the evening in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives. A program of nuptial music will be rendered by Miss Sheppie Hawkins and Charles R. Perry.

Stephen A. Worley will give his daughter in marriage, and acting as best man for Mr. Thompson will be his brother, Edward Thompson.

Miss Mary Alice Worley has been chosen by her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids will include Misses Evelyn Harrison, Lila Mae Harrison and Elizabeth Stockton. Miss Eleanor Goodpasture will act as junior bridesmaid.

Groomsmen and ushers will be John Thompson, Randolph Richardson, Tommy Amason and B. R. Compton, of Sumter, S. C.

Among the many social affairs being planned to honor the bride-elect is the lingerie shower at which Miss Lila Mae and Evelyn Harrison will be hostesses at their home in West End on Friday evening.

Misses Helen and Miriam Klaitz will compliment Miss Worley at a bridge party and shower on the evening of April 7.

On April 8 Misses Gertrude Paine and Mary Halbrook will entertain at Miss Paine's home on Lullwater road at a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock. Sixty-five guests have been invited to call.

Miss Lillijo Cleiborn has planned a linen shower for the bride-to-be on April 15 at her home in Decatur.

On the evening of April 11 Mrs. George Almand will compliment Miss Worley at a kitchen shower. Other affairs being planned for the bride-elect, the dates to be announced later, include the miscellaneous shower at which Mrs. B. C. Goodpasture and Mrs. C. E. Cox will be hostesses, and a seated luncheon for members of the bridal party to be given by Mrs. K. N. Slayton. Mrs. T. W. Thompson will also entertain for the bride-elect.

Miss Mary Alice Worley will give a luncheon assembling members of the bridal party for her sister on April 22.

Mrs. Stephen Worley has planned a lingerie shower for her daughter, the affair to take place on April 23.

Grant Park Club Installs Officers.

Grant Park Woman's Club met recently. Mrs. S. C. Forrester, first vice president, presided, in the absence of the president, Mrs. L. C. Forbes, who was ill. Officers and chairmen made reports of the year's work.

Mrs. W. T. Goodman presented the club's scrapbook. A miniature Grant Park Woman's Club was presented to the officers of 1938-39. Gifts were presented to the retiring president, Mrs. L. C. Forbes, and to the chairman, Mrs. P. H. Savin.

Officers installed are Mesdames S. C. Forrester, president; E. C. Sams, first vice president; A. E. Colley, second vice president; Ed Gifford Jr., secretary; W. T. Goodman, treasurer; Allen Tison, corresponding secretary, and Marion Glover, auditor. Mrs. Forrester then appointed the following chairmen to serve with her: Mesdames E. C. Sams, club extension; A. E. Colley, program; J. Y. Willson, citizenship; R. B. Giles, civic; J. R. Gluck, safety; Don Harris, librarian; C. W. Heery, fine arts; A. C. Garner, Club Woman; Paul Traber, house chairman; J. P. Buchanan, yard; L. F. McGriff, public welfare; F. H. Grady, all drives; Rosa Young, student's aid; P. H. Savin, Tallulah Falls; Marion Glover, garden division chairman, and W. H. Lee, publicity.

West End Civic Club Elects Officers Today.

The Civic Club of West End meets today at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse, with the president, Mrs. W. L. McCalley Jr., presiding.

The nominating committee, composed of Mesdames J. M. Manry, O. D. Witherspoon, A. P. Bradley, T. A. Slaughter, and P. D. Johnson, will make a report. The election and installation of officers will follow Mrs. C. W. Heery, state executive, will preside over the installation service. A musical program will be presented by the Slaton P-T-A. Kitchen orchestra, Mrs. Raymond O'Quinn, president.

Mesdames McCalley, Witherspoon, Bradley and Charles Appleby attended the council meeting of the G. F. W. C. held in Augusta recently.

Maple Grove No. 86.

Miss Myrtle Hardy was hostess to a session of the Officers' Club and committee's meeting of Maple Grove No. 86, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle recently at her home on Beecher street, southwest.

The invocation was rendered by Mrs. Vera Storms and the business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Emma Brooks.

After several piano selections rendered by Mesdames Louise Smith and Mae Gossett, a buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs Observe Birthday.

Mrs. Jessica Jacobs, Misses Mae and Georgia Jacobs, Larry and Teddy Jacobs entertained at a surprise dinner at their home on Johnson road recently, honoring their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Maurice Jacobs, on their 25th wedding anniversary.

A color motif of silver and white was carried out in the decorations. The dining table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake embossed in white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

A musical program was given by the hosts and hostesses, all gifted musicians, and their aunt, Miss Sadie Williams, lyric soprano.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. R. Williams, Sidney Williams, Miss Sadie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, Hal Williams and Bob Williams, of Cedarhurst; Miss Eva A. Williams, of New York city; Miss Jean Slutsy, of Brooklyn; and Milton Williams, of Long Beach, Cal.

Venetian Society To Give Dance.

The Venetian Society of Georgia Evening College will entertain at a script dance Friday evening at Druid Hills Golf Club.

Members of the society are Jack Turner, president; Britt Sanders, first vice president; Bill O'Callaghan, second vice president; Ed Clark, secretary; Lonnie Jordan, treasurer; Don White, historian; Earl Styling, Ralph Saye, Joe Redwine, Ed Pierce Jr., Tom Pierce, Hans Butzohn, John Hill, Homer Brewer, Frank Carter, Hugh Jordan, Jack Brown, O'Connell Douglas, Jack Chapman, Tilden Brooks, Cliff Zimmerman, Bob Williams, Ernest Bolen, John Cash, Burt Jordan, Otis Childs, Charles Kent, Charles Montgomery, John Parker, Lewis Riden, James Griffith, Cliff Darby, Dean Williams and Francis Gregory.

Young ladies invited include Misses Reba Maule, Katherine Fitzpatrick, Mary Sue Kent, Eleanor Morris, Gene Mosley, Christine Wing, Evelyn McCain, Martha Whigham, Florence Stevenson, Louise Hamack, Martha Gurley, Eva Rob Cheshire, Helen Willis, June Scott, Dottie Jean Pop, Martha Paris, Virginia Spinks, Roscoe Voigt, Calvin Wilkie, Virginia Wise, Harriet Wilkie, Dot Suman, Eugene O'Brien, Mary Ann Nolan, June Moore, Dot Layfield, Caroline Inger, Karen Krupp, Margie Jeters, Loraine Hood, Mary Jane Howell, Mary Hill, Jane Franklin, Edith Fugitt, Kay Duncan, Kathleen Eikin, Lucy Lee, Eloise Estes, June Cash, Jean Crowell, Virginia Caudle, Peggy Brooks, Evelyn Mathis, Anne Charlotte Farr, Sara Belle Byrd, Elise Hunter, Mesdames Bob Williams, Ed A. Pierce Jr., O'Connell Dougherty and Earl Styling.

Refreshments will be served by the young ladies. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Admission is free. Tickets are available at the club.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

For more information, contact the club.

Phone 4-1234.

Address: 1234 Main St., Atlanta, Ga.

Open hours: 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM.

WHITEN, CLEAR YOUR SKIN

For a lovelier complexion, try famous Nadinola Cream

Nadinola Cream quickly starts you toward a fresher, smoother, softer, more alluring complexion—the kind that men admire and women envy. That's because, unlike most creams, Nadinola speeds up the natural process of exfoliation. Its gentle action helps to clear and whiten dark, dull, rough skin—to fade away freckles, loosen blackheads, clear up surface pimples and other externally caused blemishes. Used and praised for 40 years by thousands of women. Only 50¢ at your drug or toilet counter. Satisfactory results guaranteed or your money back. Get famous, quick-acting Nadinola Cream today!

Remember, the Garden Pilgrimage is in Atlanta April 1, 2, and 3.

GLADIOLUS

Hastings' has grown and carefully noted more than 2,300 gladiolus varieties—our finest selections from all these are offered in our 1939 catalog—refer to it now (ask for free copy if you haven't one)—and order now—our offerings this year are the largest bulbs, the greatest values, of Hastings' entire history!

SPECIAL RUFFLED DOZEN COLLECTION

So called because of their ruffled or frilled petals—lovely, gorgeously colored, dainty, novel—one each of the entire dozen varieties—

12 for 65c

Annie Laurie Gladiolus

100 for $3.95

Annie Laurie—Delicate pink.

Dr. Nelson Shook—Tyrion rose.

Fern Kyle—Soft cream.

Georgette—Pink.

Golden Frills—Daffodil yellow.

Purple Glory—Greatest purple!

Mary Elizabeth—Ruffled white.

Paul Pitzer—Red-purple.

Ruth Huntington—Light lavender.

Purple Glory—Reddish purple.

The Orchid—Orchid color, shape!

Virginia Skelly—Pink and cream.

Wasaga—Apricot.

Purple Glory Gladiolus Think—All of Them—65c!

Cut-Flower DAHLIA Collection

$2.25 Value for $1.45!

Hastings' Famous "Cut-Flower 7"—the finest to cut all season, including world's greatest dahlia—the most popular collection, and the best buy—each a strong, vigorous, free-bloomer...

Jane Cow—Informal decorative, apricot, 10x6...25c

Josephine G—Informal decorative, rose pink, 9x4...35c

Kathleen Norris—Informal decorative, rose mallow, 10x5...35c

Prince of Persia—Informal decorative, cardinal red, 11x6...35c

Pride of Stratford—Informal decorative, orange, 9x4...35c

Sagamore—Formal decorative, saffron yellow, 7x3 1/2...25c

Chemar's Eureka—Formal decorative, white, 8x3...35c

One Each of All 7 for $1.45

TUBEROSES

DOUBLE—Excelsior Pearl. Large, waxy, fragrant flowers; wonderful for open ground or pots, boxes; sure bloomers the first season—the sweetest tuberose grown, and the most fully double! Dozen, 35c. Per 100, $2.75.

Get your bulbs now at these attractive prices—genuine Hastings' bulbs, top size, carefully selected, acclimated, and best adapted

Mrs. Daniel Elected President At Planters' Garden Club Meet

Mrs. E. F. Daniel was elected president of the Planters' Garden Club at the recent meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Oglesby. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Daniel were Mrs. M. H. Roberts, first vice president; Mrs. L. D. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Reginald Fleet, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Clay Moore, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. Lee Edwards, treasurer.

Annual reports of officers and committee chairmen were presented. Horticulture was stressed during the past year's program, with several prominent speakers and papers by members of various horticultural subjects. Work on the club's project, the planting at Peachtree station, has gone forward rapidly. A number of red-bud trees, crepe myrtle, abelia and other shrubs, honeysuckle, and 500 pansies, have been planted recently. The club's annual wildflower contest for school children will be held at the Garden Center April 28 and 29. For a month preceding the contest, over a hundred pictures of wild flowers will be on exhibition at the Garden Center.

A report by Mrs. Alexander King Jr., retiring president, on the conference of the National Council of Garden Clubs in New York and Bermuda, and a paper on plants for garden pools by Mrs. Rembert Marshall, concluded the meeting. Tea was served.

The retiring officers are: Mrs. Alexander King Jr., president; Mrs. Robert Shedd, first vice president; Mrs. Thomas Paine, second vice president; Mrs. William Hamm, recording secretary; Mrs. Clay Moore, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Inman, treasurer.

Marietta News Of Interest Today

MARIETTA, Ga., March 28.—J. W. Hardeman was honor guest Sunday at a surprise birthday dinner at his home celebrating his 61st birthday. Guests included Mrs. Allen Hardeman, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stripe, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Welsh, Mrs. J. A. Manget, all of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Northcutt and Charles Jr., of Gardner.

Mrs. George Thomas entertained recently at a luncheon at her home on Church street.

Mrs. J. L. Turner was hostess at a luncheon recently at her home on Church street.

Mrs. Margaret Knott is visiting Miss Rose Mary Hawk on Wesley road, Atlanta.

Mrs. Vernon Krause was hostess at bridge recently at her apartment on Forest avenue.

Victor Setstetter entertained at chess Monday at his home on Church street.

Miss Mattie Lou Hatcher, of Macon, was the recent guest of Mrs. Allen Brown.

Alvin Chandler, David Trimmer and Paul Gregory, students at Clemson College, arrive to-

Mrs. McDougall Fetes Miss Sanford

Mrs. Calhoun McDougall entertained yesterday at a buffet luncheon at her home on Andrews drive, complimenting Miss Dorothy Sanford, bride-elect of the week.

The house was beautified with spring flowers, and the table was set with a lace cloth, and a silver bowl filled with green and white flowers.

White flowers were Mesdames John J. White, Henry Bowden, Clement Ford, Joel Cloud, James Frazer, Frank Bell, Dan Jernigan, Harold Williams, J. L. McCullough, Joseph Horacek, Parker Sanford, Andrew Donaldson, Misses Betty Hatcher, Dorothy Sanford, Sally Jenkins, Caroline Malone and the hostess and honor guest.

Mrs. George Thomas entertained recently at a luncheon at her home on Church street.

Mrs. J. L. Turner was hostess at a luncheon recently at her home on Church street.

Mrs. Margaret Knott is visiting Miss Rose Mary Hawk on Wesley road, Atlanta.

Mrs. Vernon Krause was hostess at bridge recently at her apartment on Forest avenue.

Victor Setstetter entertained at chess Monday at his home on Church street.

Miss Mattie Lou Hatcher, of Macon, was the recent guest of Mrs. Allen Brown.

Alvin Chandler, David Trimmer and Paul Gregory, students at Clemson College, arrive to-

Women's Meetings

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29.
Georgia Huguenot Society of the Founder of Manakin in the Colony of Virginia meets at 1 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Executive board of the Epworth W. M. S. meets with Mrs. T. Willis Fowler, 411 Callan circle, N. E., at 12 o'clock.

Pi Pi sorority meets at 3 o'clock with Miss Elinor Sauls at 25 South Prado.

North Side Embroidery Club meets with Mrs. James L. Mayson, 228 Fifteenth street, at 1 o'clock.

Druid Hills High P-T. A. meets at 3 o'clock at the school.

Joel Chandler Harris Preschool Association meets at 10 o'clock in the health room.

Woman's Council of the Longley Avenue Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the East Atlanta Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a service of holy communion at 10:30 o'clock at the Cathedral of St. Philip.

Althean Bible Class of the First Baptist church meets at 11 o'clock with Mrs. E. S. Walkley, 709 Cumberland circle, N. E.

Corporate communion and collection of the united thank offering by members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church will be held at 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. L. C. Freeman, chairman, announced the annual meeting of the Georgia Federation to be held at College Park on April 3. Each president will speak. A tea and entertainment will be given at the home of Mrs. W. W. Alexander, chairman of American pottery, on April 4 from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The Rural Women will meet in Atlanta on April 29. Dr. Ellis Fuller, home chairman, requests that ladies be open to these visitors.

Fair Ace Garden Club, sponsored by East Point Woman's Club, will be opened April 2. Inman Park Garden Club and Murray Lake Garden Club joined the Federation, and Peachtree Park Garden Club won the attendance prize.

Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, president of the Tulip Study Club, announced the Tulip Flower Show will be held at the Atlanta Woman's Club on May 2.

Kirkwood Civic League recently presented Mrs. John M. Cunningham, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Adolph Widmer.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the Atlanta Branch of Postal Supervisors was the hostess club. Mrs. Mark Johnson is president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. E. V. D. Manning and Mrs. H. M. Whitehead are co-hostesses. Mrs. L. O. Freeman was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. Oscar Palmour was in charge of the program.

Garden Division.
Garden division of Grand Park Woman's Club met at the clubhouse Thursday. Mrs. M. D. Glover, president, presided. Committees appointed were Mrs. M. C. Nichols and Mrs. Mickey, who returned from a recent motor trip to Arizona and California.

Mrs. M. J. Hines Sr. and Miss Florrie Hines, of Americus, spent the week end with Mrs. Charlie Bond.

Mrs. Leila Truitt, a student of Wesleyan College, Macon, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Truitt.

Mrs. E. E. Lee, of Dupont, is visiting Mrs. Henry Crawford.

Mrs. Earle Stanford, of Jacksonville, Fla., was the recent guest of Mrs. L. Slade.

Mrs. Fred White, of New Orleans, La., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Palmour.

Bob Brown is in Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. A. M. Phillips has returned from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. A. W. Powers is visiting relatives in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brooks are visiting Mrs. Frank Brooks, at Macon.

Eugene Surles has returned to Nashville, Tenn., after a visit with Mrs. E. A. Surles.

Miss Ophelia Hughes, of Perry, will be the week-end guest of Miss Virginia Oliver.

Mrs. George Williams arrives this week to visit Mrs. Fred Shaffer and Mrs. A. B. Brooks.

Mrs. J. R. Hudson, of Albany, is visiting Mrs. John Pitts.

Mrs. B. B. Barnett, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hull.

Colonel Alfred Broom has returned from a recent visit to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Knoff have returned to Sandusky, Ohio, after having visited Mrs. Young Evans.

Edward Richardson Jr. has moved to Sarasota, Fla.

Mrs. John Fincher entertained recently at a luncheon, honoring Miss Bertha Merrill, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. James Burke, of Fitzgerald; Mrs. W. M. Chandler, of Blue Ridge, who is visiting relatives in College Park.

Wedding Rehearsal.
Following the wedding rehearsal last evening of Miss Frances Adams and LeRoy Rogers Jr., whose marriage will be an event of today, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Law entertained with a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Law on Brookhaven drive.

Guests included the wedding personnel. A white and yellow color motif was featured in the decoration of the home.

Emory Baby Alumni Will Hold Reunion At Party in May

Baby alumni of Emory University will have its annual party in May. Lucy Pavilion committee of the hospital auxiliary and members of the board will meet today at 12:30 for lunch at the hospital to make plans for the entertainment.

Mrs. Augustus M. Roan, chairman of the committee, will preside. The children's party for all babies born at Emory hospital will be directed by Misses Jacqueline Howard and Jane Blick.

Mrs. W. L. Ballenger, president of Emory Hospital Auxiliary, will be guest of honor and will explain the purpose and aims of the auxiliary.

Mrs. James J. Flowers Jr. will report on the changes to be made in the rooms furnished by the L. E. P. committee last year.

Members of the following committee invited are: Mesdames Roan, chairman; James Lester, C. R. Just, Roy K. Hendee, James J. Flowers Jr., W. Rembert Sisson, R. S. Hudgins, Walter C. Herbert, E. E. Letts, Freeman Groover, Howard Graf, Charles M. Zaitau, C. C. Loftis, LeRoy Sims, G. Duncan, W. Clanton, W. M. Rice Campbell, Misses Jacqueline Howard, co-chairman; Jane Blick, Martha Crowe, Wilda Richardson, Frances LeGuin and Grace Doig.

There has been such a demand for news concerning what has been happening in the moral rearmament movement in England that we have come over to tell the story to the people of the United States," Vickers said.

He explained that training centers for developing leaders would be established in various parts of the country.

"The businessmen of Great Britain are saying that this program of moral rearmament is necessary to keep us out of war," Vickers said.

"Prevention of war, rather than something with which we can fight, but finding the causes of war."

Mrs. L. C. Freeman, chairman, announced the annual meeting of the Georgia Federation to be held at College Park on April 3. Each president will speak. A tea and entertainment will be given at the home of Mrs. W. W. Alexander, chairman of American pottery, on April 4 from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The Rural Women will meet in Atlanta on April 29. Dr. Ellis Fuller, home chairman, requests that ladies be open to these visitors.

Fair Ace Garden Club, sponsored by East Point Woman's Club, will be opened April 2. Inman Park Garden Club and Murray Lake Garden Club joined the Federation, and Peachtree Park Garden Club won the attendance prize.

Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, president of the Tulip Study Club, announced the Tulip Flower Show will be held at the Atlanta Woman's Club on May 2.

Kirkwood Civic League recently presented Mrs. John M. Cunningham, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Adolph Widmer.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the Atlanta Branch of Postal Supervisors was the hostess club. Mrs. Mark Johnson is president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. E. V. D. Manning and Mrs. H. M. Whitehead are co-hostesses. Mrs. L. O. Freeman was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. Oscar Palmour was in charge of the program.

Garden Division.
Garden division of Grand Park Woman's Club met at the clubhouse Thursday. Mrs. M. D. Glover, president, presided. Committees appointed were Mrs. M. C. Nichols and Mrs. Mickey, who returned from a recent motor trip to Arizona and California.

Mrs. M. J. Hines Sr. and Miss Florrie Hines, of Americus, spent the week end with Mrs. Charlie Bond.

Mrs. Leila Truitt, a student of Wesleyan College, Macon, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Truitt.

Mrs. E. E. Lee, of Dupont, is visiting Mrs. Henry Crawford.

Mrs. Earle Stanford, of Jacksonville, Fla., was the recent guest of Mrs. L. Slade.

Mrs. Fred White, of New Orleans, La., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Palmour.

Bob Brown is in Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. A. M. Phillips has returned from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. A. W. Powers is visiting relatives in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brooks are visiting Mrs. Frank Brooks, at Macon.

Eugene Surles has returned to Nashville, Tenn., after a visit with Mrs. E. A. Surles.

Miss Ophelia Hughes, of Perry, will be the week-end guest of Miss Virginia Oliver.

Mrs. George Williams arrives this week to visit Mrs. Fred Shaffer and Mrs. A. B. Brooks.

Mrs. J. R. Hudson, of Albany, is visiting Mrs. John Pitts.

Mrs. B. B. Barnett, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hull.

Colonel Alfred Broom has returned from a recent visit to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Knoff have returned to Sandusky, Ohio, after having visited Mrs. Young Evans.

Edward Richardson Jr. has moved to Sarasota, Fla.

Mrs. John Fincher entertained recently at a luncheon, honoring Miss Bertha Merrill, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. James Burke, of Fitzgerald; Mrs. W. M. Chandler, of Blue Ridge, who is visiting relatives in College Park.

Wedding Rehearsal.
Following the wedding rehearsal last evening of Miss Frances Adams and LeRoy Rogers Jr., whose marriage will be an event of today, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Law entertained with a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Law on Brookhaven drive.

Guests included the wedding personnel. A white and yellow color motif was featured in the decoration of the home.

PROGRAM DRAFTED BY OXFORD GROUP

Leaders Visit City With View to Establishing Training Center.

Establishment of an Oxford Group training center in Atlanta for launching a program of moral rearmament was seen as a possibility yesterday by John Vickers, of Leeds, England, and Charles H. Haines, of Philadelphia, members of the group, who were in Atlanta to discuss plans for the center with Oxford Group leaders.

Vickers came to the United States approximately two weeks ago with a party of 16 Oxford Group members, headed by Dr. Frank Buchanan, founder, to form an advance guard in initiating the moral rearmament movement. Another party, led by H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Davis Cup tennis player, will arrive in a few weeks to join the first group.

"There has been such a demand for news concerning what has been happening in the moral rearmament movement in England that we have come over to tell the story to the people of the United States," Vickers said.

He explained that training centers for developing leaders would be established in various parts of the country.

"The businessmen of Great Britain are saying that this program of moral rearmament is necessary to keep us out of war," Vickers said.

"Prevention of war, rather than something with which we can fight, but finding the causes of war."

Mrs. L. C. Freeman, chairman, announced the annual meeting of the Georgia Federation to be held at College Park on April 3. Each president will speak. A tea and entertainment will be given at the home of Mrs. W. W. Alexander, chairman of American pottery, on April 4 from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The Rural Women will meet in Atlanta on April 29. Dr. Ellis Fuller, home chairman, requests that ladies be open to these visitors.

Fair Ace Garden Club, sponsored by East Point Woman's Club, will be opened April 2. Inman Park Garden Club and Murray Lake Garden Club joined the Federation, and Peachtree Park Garden Club won the attendance prize.

Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, president of the Tulip Study Club, announced the Tulip Flower Show will be held at the Atlanta Woman's Club on May 2.

Kirkwood Civic League recently presented Mrs. John M. Cunningham, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Adolph Widmer.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the Atlanta Branch of Postal Supervisors was the hostess club. Mrs. Mark Johnson is president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. E. V. D. Manning and Mrs. H. M. Whitehead are co-hostesses. Mrs. L. O. Freeman was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. Oscar Palmour was in charge of the program.

Garden Division.
Garden division of Grand Park Woman's Club met at the clubhouse Thursday. Mrs. M. D. Glover, president, presided. Committees appointed were Mrs. M. C. Nichols and Mrs. Mickey, who returned from a recent motor trip to Arizona and California.

Mrs. M. J. Hines Sr. and Miss Florrie Hines, of Americus, spent the week end with Mrs. Charlie Bond.

Mrs. Leila Truitt, a student of Wesleyan College, Macon, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Truitt.

Mrs. E. E. Lee, of Dupont, is visiting Mrs. Henry Crawford.

Mrs. Earle Stanford, of Jacksonville, Fla., was the recent guest of Mrs. L. Slade.

Mrs. Fred White, of New Orleans, La., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Palmour.

Bob Brown is in Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. A. M. Phillips has returned from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. A. W. Powers is visiting relatives in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brooks are visiting Mrs. Frank Brooks, at Macon.

Eugene Surles has returned to Nashville, Tenn., after a visit with Mrs. E. A. Surles.

Miss Ophelia Hughes, of Perry, will be the week-end guest of Miss Virginia Oliver.

Mrs. George Williams arrives this week to visit Mrs. Fred Shaffer and Mrs. A. B. Brooks.

Mrs. J. R. Hudson, of Albany, is visiting Mrs. John Pitts.

Mrs. B. B. Barnett, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hull.

Colonel Alfred Broom has returned from a recent visit to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Knoff have returned to Sandusky, Ohio, after having visited Mrs. Young Evans.

Edward Richardson Jr. has moved to Sarasota, Fla.

Mrs. John Fincher entertained recently at a luncheon, honoring Miss Bertha Merrill, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. James Burke, of Fitzgerald; Mrs. W. M. Chandler, of Blue Ridge, who is visiting relatives in College Park.

Wedding Rehearsal.
Following the wedding rehearsal last evening of Miss Frances Adams and LeRoy Rogers Jr., whose marriage will be an event of today, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Law entertained with a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Law on Brookhaven drive.

Guests included the wedding personnel. A white and yellow color motif was featured in the decoration of the home.

Radio Highlights

6:30—Ask-It-Basket, WGST.
7:00—Gang Busters, WGST.
7:00—One Man's Family, WSB.
7:30—Paul Whiteman's Orchestra, WGST.
7:30—Tommy Dorsey's Orchestra, WSB.
8:00—Town Hall Tonight, WSB.
8:00—The Star Theater, WGST.
9:00—Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl, WGST.
9:00—Kay Kyser's Musical Class, WSB.
10:30—Horace Heidt's Orchestra, WAGA.
11:05—Hal Kemp's Orchestra, WGST.
11:30—Step Fields' Orchestra, WGST.
12:30—Gene Krupa's Orchestra, WAGA.

THEATER—"On Stage Please," an original radio drama by Ashmed Scott, focuses Star Theater interest on Andrea Leeds, screen actress, who will be guest during the program.

Ken Murray will join Ned Sparks in comedy routines while Keny Baker and Frances Langford offer musical selections. David Broekman and his orchestra will provide the background music.

The program includes: "Beautiful Dreamer," "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Deep Purple."

TOWN HALL—A 15-year-old boy who is the president, general manager, majority stockholder and sole employee of a thriving New York corporation is the latest person of odd occupation who will be interviewed as the "Person You Didn't Expect To Meet" on Fred Allen's Town Hall Tonight program to be heard over WSB at 8 o'clock tonight.

The young tycoon is Erwin Firschein, founder of the Brooklyn Bee and Honey Company, Inc. His plant of 18 beehives is located in a crowded area behind his apartment house.

WHITEMAN—With strains of "Happy Birthday," Joan Edwards, Clark Dennis, the Modernaires and Whiteman's Orchestra members will celebrate the jazz king's birthday during the broadcast of his program to be heard over WGST at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Musical birthday salutes are being aired the world over by the legion of orchestra leaders who received their starts from the genial, routine maestro during his 20 years' reign as "King of Jazz."

The program includes: "Minuet in Jazz," "Donkey Serenade," "I'm Smug as a Bug in a Rug," "I Get Along Without You Very Well."

PAIGE—With "Bells of St. Mary's" as listeners' choice for this week's beloved old tune, a group of arrangers have evolved unique orchestration of A. Emmet Adams' selection for the Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl program to be heard over WGST at 9 o'clock tonight.

Four musicians at the traps achieve a carillon effect with different rare sets of low chimes that produce deep tones of church bells.

Program music includes: "Penny Serenade," "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Delibes' 'Nella Waltz'."

ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY THE CONSTITUTION; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News; 4:00, News; 4:15, News; 4:30, News; 4:45, News; 5:00, News; 5:15, News; 5:30, News; 5:45, News; 6:00, News; 6:15, News; 6:30, News; 6:45, News; 7:00, News; 7:15, News; 7:30, News; 7:45, News; 8:00, News; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News; 4:00, News; 4:15, News; 4:30, News; 4:45, News; 5:00, News; 5:15, News; 5:30, News; 5:45, News; 6:00, News; 6:15, News; 6:30, News; 6:45, News; 7:00, News; 7:15, News; 7:30, News; 7:45, News; 8:00, News; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News; 4:00, News; 4:15, News; 4:30, News; 4:45, News; 5:00, News; 5:15, News; 5:30, News; 5:45, News; 6:00, News; 6:15, News; 6:30, News; 6:45, News; 7:00, News; 7:15, News; 7:30, News; 7:45, News; 8:00, News; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News; 4:00, News; 4:15, News; 4:30, News; 4:45, News; 5:00, News; 5:15, News; 5:30, News; 5:45, News; 6:00, News; 6:15, News; 6:30, News; 6:45, News; 7:00, News; 7:15, News; 7:30, News; 7:45, News; 8:00, News; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News; 4:00, News; 4:15, News; 4:30, News; 4:45, News; 5:00, News; 5:15, News; 5:30, News; 5:45, News; 6:00, News; 6:15, News; 6:30, News; 6:45, News; 7:00, News; 7:15, News; 7:30, News; 7:45, News; 8:00, News; 8:15, News; 8:30, News; 8:45, News; 9:00, News; 9:15, News; 9:30, News; 9:45, News; 10:00, News; 10:15, News; 10:30, News; 10:45, News; 11:00, News; 11:15, News; 11:30, News; 11:45, News; 12:00, News; 12:15, News; 12:30, News; 12:45, News; 1:00, News; 1:15, News; 1:30, News; 1:45, News; 2:00, News; 2:15, News; 2:30, News; 2:45, News; 3:00, News; 3:15, News; 3:30, News; 3:45, News

STOCK LOSSES CUT
BY LATE SUPPORTReal Recovery Vigor Is Lacking, However, as Trade Pace Lags.

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1939, Standard Statistics Co.)
(1939 average equals 100.)

	Ind. R.R. U. S. Stk.	Ind. R.R. U. S. Stk.
Tuesday	114.9 29.4 69.9 33.9	114.9 29.4 69.9 33.9
Monday	116.8 29.4 69.9 33.9	116.8 29.4 69.9 33.9
Week ago	118.5 30.1 71.8 35.0	118.5 30.1 71.8 35.0
Month ago	117.1 29.4 69.9 33.9	117.1 29.4 69.9 33.9
Year ago	91.7 21.6 48.3 23.6	91.7 21.6 48.3 23.6
1938 High	130.3 34.3 73.8 35.0	130.3 34.3 73.8 35.0
1938 Low	123.1 34.3 73.8 35.0	123.1 34.3 73.8 35.0
1937 High	130.3 34.3 73.8 35.0	130.3 34.3 73.8 35.0
1937 Low	98.9 25.9 55.8 30.7	98.9 25.9 55.8 30.7

Dow-Jones Averages.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Net
30 Ind.	132.71	133.88	132.46	133.81	1.11
20 R.R.	29.36	29.51	29.26	29.34	-0.02
15 U. S. Stk.	69.97	70.66	69.35	70.38	0.41
65 Stocks	46.54	47.06	46.82	47.03	0.49

What Stocks Did.

	Advances	Declines	Unchanged
30 Ind.	25	53	12
20 R.R.	5	10	5
15 U. S. Stk.	10	5	0
65 Stocks	10	10	0

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—

It required little pressure to tip the stock market over today and, while late support cut early losses of 1 to 3 points, real recovery vigor was lacking.

The trading pace, fairly lively in the first hour, slackened appreciably as the session wore on and transfers totaled 676,710. The Associated Press yesterday said the market was off .6 of a point at 4:30.

The list, as in recent weeks, inclined to follow London where weakness was pronounced before the opening here.

Reasons advanced for the setback in security prices both here and abroad varied. In part, the lower drift was attributed to fresh uneasiness over German-Polish relations, renewed fears Italy and France may fail to settle their controversy peacefully, and the fall of Madrid to the Franco forces and the virtual finish of the Spanish civil war.

Mild recovery signs came into the market after Prime Minister Chamberlain told the British house of commons his government was still discussing a "top Hitler" move with other nations. In the curb losers up to a point or more included Electric Bond & Share, Lockheed, Lake Shore and Panpete Oil. Turnover of 126,000 shares compared with 109,000 Monday.

SANTA FE SYSTEM
ELECTS E. J. ENGELExecutive Named President of Longest Railroad in United States.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—Edward J. Engel, 64-year-old executive vice president, was elected president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe system Tuesday, succeeding the late Samuel T. Bledsoe.

In his new position Engel—who also was named chairman of the executive committee—will direct the operations of the longest railroad in the United States. It operates 13,500 miles of road.

Engel has been associated with the Santa Fe for nearly 39 years, entering as a stenographer in the president's office in 1900.

His advancement started three years later with an appointment as chief clerk in the president's office. After seven years' service in that capacity he became assistant to the late President E. P. Ripley. He was made a vice president during the World War (July, 1918), and in April, 1935, he became executive vice president under Bledsoe.

Engel lives in Chicago, where he is a member of the Chicago Traffic Club, the South Shore Country Club and the Chicago Athletic Club. His wife is the former Louise Carpenter DeCew. He has a son, Edward Kenneth Engel, born to his first wife, who died in 1905.

Position of Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The position of the treasury March 28: Receipts $82,021,707; expenditures $31,202,362; net balance $50,819,345. Including $27,776,126 2017 working balance. Receipts for the month $238,080,422. Expenditures for the month $86,651,366.40. Including $27,254,219.31 of unexpended expenditures. Treasury balance $234,598,031.07, an increase of $20,344 above the previous day; gold assets $113,103,866.32, 61.

Metals.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Copper steady; electrolytic spot 11.25; export 10.35. Tin steady; spot and wire for 48.50; forward 46.80. Lead steady; spot New York 4.35; 4.30; St. Louis 4.20. Zinc steady; spot St. Louis 4.15; forward 4.10. Quicksilver 90.00/92.00. Pig iron, aluminum, platinum and Chinese wolframite unchanged.

Insured Savings

Since 1927 we have never paid less than 4%
Our savings shares are eligible by law for investments of Executors, Administrators, Guardians, Trusttees, Credit Unions, Insurance Companies—and are free of advalorem taxes.

STANDARD FEDERAL SAVINGS

A DIVISION OF THE
FEDERAL SAVINGS ASSOCIATION
35 WALTON STREET, N. W.
(ENTER LOBBY HEALY BLDG.)
MA. 8619.

NEW YORK Stock Market

Transactions
676,710NEW YORK, March 28.—Following is the tabulation of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

STOCKS.

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

NEW YORK Stock Market

Transactions
676,710NEW YORK, March 28.—Following is the tabulation of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

STOCKS.

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

NEW YORK Stock Market

Transactions
676,710NEW YORK, March 28.—Following is the tabulation of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

STOCKS.

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

Net

Sales (in 100s).

Div. High Low Close.

FUNERAL NOTICES

FUNERAL NOTICES

FANNING, Mrs. Pachal—The remains of Mrs. Pachal Fanning were carried to Washington, Ga., this (Wednesday) morning.

McHUGH - ELLIOTT—Funeral services for Mrs. Tiny B. McHugh and Mrs. Martha Emma Elliott will take place at 11 o'clock today (Wednesday) from Fellowship Tabernacle, corner Cherokee and Woodward avenues. Rev. J. L. Evans will officiate. Interment, Forterdale, Ga. Awtry & Lowndes.

Mr. Charles Finn, of Dublin.

Ireland, and Mr. John Finn. The remains were removed to the parlors of J. Austin Dillon Co. Funeral and interment will be announced later.

MALOOF, Mr. Careen A.—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Careen A. Maloof, Messrs. Joseph, William, Franklin and Cecil Maloof, Misses Alia and Mary Maloof, and Mr. Siron A. Maloof are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Careen A. Maloof, Thursday, 12.13, noon, from the Inter-City reception church, 1001 N. Rev. J. R. Smith, officiating. Interment, Greenwood, J. Austin Dillon Company, funeral directors, in charge.

IRWIN, Mrs. C. B.—age 52, of Lithonia, Ga., died at a private sanitarium Tuesday afternoon. She is survived by her husband, Mr. C. B. Irwin; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stephenson, of Lithonia, Ga.; stepson, Mr. M. A. Stephenson, of Batavia, N. Y.; five sisters, Mrs. Asa G. Chandler Jr., of Atlanta; Mrs. S. L. Hamlin, of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Alton B. Roberts, of Lithonia, Ga.; Mrs. Bobb L. Elliott, of Conyers, Ga., and Mrs. Leslie B. Thompson, of Pensacola, Fla. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. White & Co.

The friends and relatives of Mr.

Benjamin H. Simpkins, Mrs. M. E. Bentley, Mrs. W. E. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bentley and Mrs. H. C. Bentley are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Benjamin H. Simpkins this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at Trinity Chapel. Rev. M. A. Kenmore and Rev. A. C. Holbrook will officiate. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers: Mr. T. J. Wilson, Mr. C. G. Pugh, Mr. C. C. Gravit, Mr. J. W. Gravit, Mr. Carlos Womack and Mr. Charlie Womack. Interment in Nancy Creek cemetery. A. S. Turner & Sons.

died at his home near Carrollton, Ga. Tuesday, March 22.

ton, Ga., Tuesday, March 28, 1939. He is survived by two sons, Mr. J. W. Widener, of Atlantic, Ga., and Mr. J. R. Widener, of Carrollton, Ga.; five daughters, Mrs. Eunice Helton, of Sargent, Ga.; Mrs. Annie Lee Causey, of Villa Rica, Ga.; Mrs. Ruby Armstrong, of Bowdon, Ga.; Mrs. Lessie Barnes, Milledgeville, Ga., and Mrs. Judy Griffith, Carrollton, Ga.; thirty-five grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren. Funeral and interment will be at Elam, near Sargent, Ga., today (Wednesday) at 2 p. m. Martin-Almon, funeral director, Carrollton, Ga.

BROOKS, Mrs. Allie Lee—Wife of Elder W. A. Brooks, died at of Elder W. A. Brooks, died at her home in Auburn, Ga., Tuesday morning, March 2, 1939. She is survived by her husband, the following children, Miss Ruby Brooks, Mr. Ben Brooks and Mr. Joe Brooks, of Auburn, Ga.; Mr. Emmett Brooks and Mrs. A. E. Miller, of Campton, Ga.; Mrs. Joel Hall, of Winder, Ga.; Mr. Owen Brooks, of University of Georgia, and Mr. J. Rufus Brooks, of Dacula, Ga., and fifteen grandchildren. Funeral services will be held this (Wednesday) afternoon, March 2, 1939, at 2:30, eastern time, from Sorrell's Springs Primitive Baptist church, near Monroe, Ga. Elder H. O. Nash will officiate, assisted by Rev. John

W. Austin and Rev. Claud Healan. Internment Sorrell's Springs cemetery. The E. L. Almond Company, funeral directors.

(COLORED.)

SIMS, Mrs. Julia Consula—Friends and relatives are invited to attend her funeral Thursday at 2 p. m. (E.S.T.) at Conyers, Ga. Ivey Bros., morticians.

THOMAS, Miss Maggie—of 1036 Beckwith street, S. W., passed at a local hospital March 27. Funeral will be announced by Ivey Bros., morticians.

WARD, Mr. Robert—of 175 Farrington avenue, S. W., passed recently. The remains are in our funeral home awaiting funeral arrangements. Hanley Co.

HENDERSON, Mrs. Mary—of 77 Bell street, N. E. Relatives and friends are invited to attend her funeral Friday at 2 p. m. from our chapel. Interment, Lincoln cemetery. Hanley Co.

BRITTEN, Mrs. Bell—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Bell Britten are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Bell Britten Thursday at 11 o'clock from Pleasant Hill Baptist church, Rev. T. H. Ford officiating. Interment Lincoln Park. Ivey Bros., morticians.

PEEKS, Mr. Joe—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Culpepper, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Veasy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Evans are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Joe Peaks, of 274 Lee street, S. W., today (Wednesday) at 1:30 p. m. from Zion Hill Baptist church, Rev. J. T. Johnson and Rev. W. G. Battle officiating. Interment, South View. Cox Bros.

THE CONSTITUTION CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information CLOSING HOURS Want ads accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 6:30 p. m., Saturday.

LOCAL CLASSIFIED RATES Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions: 1 time, per line 27 cents 3 times, per line 20 cents 7 times, per line 18 cents 30 times, per line 14 cents

10% Discount for Cash Minimum 3 lines (11 words). In estimating the space an ad figure 5 average words for first line and 6 average words for each additional line.

To Phone An Ad Call WALNUT 6565 Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

TERMINAL STATION Schedule Published as Information (Central Standard Time)

Table with 2 columns: Time, Destination. Rows include Atlanta to various cities like Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, etc.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Auto Travel Opportunities 1 THE CONSTITUTION advises caution in securing or offering transportation on a share-expense basis.

Truck Transportation 2 FURNITURE loads to all points in Georgia, very reasonable rates.

Estates and Legacies 5 HERE: Immediate cash paid legacies, trusts, contingencies, unsettled estates.

Beauty Ads 4 OIL CROQUIGNOLE WAVES, $1.50. Shampoo and Set, Dried, $5.00.

LOST AND FOUND 8 GUEST TICKETS FOR FINDERS OF LOST ARTICLES

LOEW'S GRAND THEATRE NOW PLAYING "4 GIRLS IN WHITE"

Dreammaking 9 COATS, dresses, suits from men's suits, alterations, etc.

Persons 10 QUILTS-Stepie liquor habit, Odorous, tasteless, harmless.

TARZAN AND THE FIRES OF TOHR No. 27

The doom of Tarzan and his friends seemed merely a matter of moments. Ahead of them loomed the massive cliff across the river's course. They must either crash into the lofty escarpment, or make their way ashore and fall into the hands of the savage foe.

Then, as if conjured up by a magician, scores of yellow giants crawled from caverns in the cliff, and swarmed along narrow pathways out in its sheer surface.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The doom of Tarzan and his friends seemed merely a matter of moments. Ahead of them loomed the massive cliff across the river's course. They must either crash into the lofty escarpment, or make their way ashore and fall into the hands of the savage foe.

Then, as if conjured up by a magician, scores of yellow giants crawled from caverns in the cliff, and swarmed along narrow pathways out in its sheer surface.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

They heard the drums, and they were ready for us," said Perry. "May seven zealous and deep-throated mandarins curse those yellow fiends unceasingly," murmured Dr. Wong. His remarks were followed by a hall of spears from above, but all fell short of their mark.

Meanwhile, Tarzan's keen eyes examined the base of the stone wall. It was obvious that the river could not stop abruptly. It must have some outlet. There! That black hole! That must be it! But to reach it they must expose themselves to a rain of stones and spears.

MERCHANDISE

Miscellaneous For Sale 70 WRECKING at 1070 Juniper St. N. E. All material for sale.

NEW LUMBER, HARDWOOD FLOORING, BLDG. MATERIAL, BARGAINS, VE. 8719

TYPEWRITERS for rent, all makes, $5 per month. H. A. 2081; VE. 3884.

MATCHED work uniforms, Duckett's Army Store, 70 Alameda, Atlanta, VA. 1132

GOLF clubs, assorted woods, irons, $1 up. STAR LOAN CO., 227 Mitchell.

NEW 1938 Frigidaires, greatly reduced. KING HARDWARE CO., 333 CH. 3535.

NEW Console pianos priced from $225. Cable, 235 Peachtree.

USED KELVINATOR REFRIGERATOR, 4 CUBIC FT. 333 CH. 3535.

Coal and Wood 71 JELICO SPECIAL 1 TON, $5.50; 4 TON, $22. CON. ST. B. 2222.

KINDLING, QUICK SERVICE, JA. 8382. BEST RED ASH COAL, ANY QUANTITY, OR 3 BAGS FOR FREE KINDLING. WA. 4386 OR MA. 6287.

CALL JA. 1288, City Coal Co. for best Ky. Coal. Kindling free. Coke, $5.00 ton.

Diamonds 72 82 POINT 10 diamond in mounting, $110. Solitaire diamond mounting, $75.

Platinum dinner ring, $100. PROVIDENT LOAN CORP., 400 Peachtree St. N. E.

Flowers, Plants For Sale 76 ROSE BUSHES, plants, shrubbery at bargain prices. Lamberth, 1919, VE. 1111.

Household Goods 77 22,000 SQ. FT. space, covered with new and used furniture. Anything for the home. Terms.

MEYER'S WHOLESALE FURNITURE CO. 525 Peters St. N. E. RA. 1133.

$79.50 New poster bedrm. suite, $32.50. New 12 piece frz. living rm. suite $27.50 cash; other frz. living rm. West Furniture Co., 430 Edgewood.

9-PC. din. rm. suite, mahogany twin bedroom suite, 2 desks, $125. New studio couch, piano and other items. HE. 3333.

BARGAINS in used furniture. Liv. rm. suite, $85 up; studio couch, $95 up. MATHIAS BROS., INC., 122 WHITEHALL.

USED furniture, piano, mahogany organ, maple twin bed, MA. 6685.

9-PC. oak dining rm. suite, good cond. $25; also large mirror. MA. 9579.

Typewriters, Ofc. Eqp. 80 ATTENTION, STUDENTS SPECIAL rental for home use. All makes rented, sold and repaired. Rent the New York Typewriter Co., 230 American Writing Machine Co. 16 Peachtree St. N. E. Phone WA. 8376.

ALL standards and portables. Special rates. QUICK SERVICE TYPEWRITER CO. 16 Peachtree St. N. E. WA. 1618.

Wanted To Buy 81 PAY cash for bargain in 1937 or 1938 model factory built trailer. J-212, Constitution.

WILL send by cash and pay you the highest price for any amount of used clothing, shoes, hats, etc. Call C. M. Cobb or M. S. Beavers, WA. 9710 or BE. 1579-R.

USED CLOTHING BUYERS BRING your clothing, shoes to Adams N. E. 500. We will buy your clothes and receive 25% more. 240 Piedmont, MA. 7957.

HIGHEST prices paid for newspapers and magazines. Wholesale prices. 230 Grant St. S. E. MA. 6824.

HIGHEST cash prices for restaurant and office equipment. Call J. W. 7378.

WANTED-GOOD USED PIANOS. STERCHES. Buy Highest Cash Price. 3100. SEWING machines bought, repaired. Sewing Mach. Shop, 200 Whitehall, WA. 7919.

Central Auction Co., 145 Mitchell, WA. 9729.

ALL KINDS GOOD USED Furniture. Seidel, 1000, 235 Peters, WA. 4389.

WANTED TO BUY-5000-5000 used furniture at once. JA. 1377.

CASH used furniture. We buy anything. Sell anything. 1000, 235 Peters, WA. 4389.

CASH for old gold, silver, time. Shop. 19 Broad N. W., near Peachtree Arcade.

SEWING MACHINES, furniture, pianos. Bass Furniture Co. MA. 5123.

WANTED-Any kind bought for CASH. WA. 5872.

HIGHEST CASH PRICE FOR GOOD USED PIANOS. HE. 9653.

CASH FOR USED FURNITURE. Central Stern Furn. Co. MA. 1309.

WANTED-To buy good used shotgun for cash. JA. 6446.

ROOM FOR RENT 85 907 PEACHTREE ST., N. E. VACANCY for 2 or 3, twin beds, good meals. Call MA. 9633.

DRUID HILLS, ATTR. SUITE, PRIVATE bath, excellent meals; garage; car line. Phone MA. 0633. Call MA. 0633.

209 14TH, N. E.-DOUBLE SINGLE ROOMS, CONN. BATH; ALSO STUDIO APT.; BEST OF FOOD. HE. 2844.

DECATUR, GA. College Ave.-Private home, heat, cont. hot water, delicious meals, large bright room. CR. 1683.

1246 PINEWOOD, ELEGANT, suitable boys; other race. DE. 944.

1192 BRADCLIFF PL.-Attr. front room, delicious meals; gentlemen. HE. 4589-2.

608 KATIE N. E. Nice room, Beauty rest mattress; good meals. HE. 6767.

3240 PEACHTREE RD. - SUITE OF RMS., DOUBLE RM. CR. 1683.

812 PIEDMONT, ATTR. rooms, excellent meals, $5 up. JA. 4417.

1333 HOWELL MILL RD. Pri. home, accommodate best people. Reasonable.

1617 CONN. ATR. ROOM, 2nd fl. 774 PIEDMONT-Large att. rm. priv. bath, large closet, good meals. JA. 2601.

811 PIEDMONT-Atr. room with private bath, large closet, good meals. JA. 2601.

804 JUNIPER, Redec. cor. rm. twin beds. Hot water, bus. ladies, or cple. JA. 2813.

W. PEACHTREE, Vacancy, business people. Private car. Call MA. 0633.

316 PONCE DE LEON, NEWLY DECORATED ROOM, WHOLESOME FOOD.

173 14TH, N. E.-Semi-priv. rm.; semi-private home; gentlemen. HE. 227.

208 14TH, N. E.-Rm. complete, bus. apt.; sunny front rm. Reas. HE. 2676.

MODERN-1 or 2 front rms., sep. ent., heat, tasty meals; fr. owner. RA. 4259.

